GOLD COAST HOME HELD UP

30 MORE BOATS ASKED FOR RUM WAR ON LAKES

Hoover Proposes Big Coast Guard Fleet.

Dispatches from Ottawa last night indicated that Canadian officials received with disfavor a reported proposal from Washington for Canadian sanction of the creation by the United States of a border liquor patrol of 10,000 men, armed with rifles and machine guns. Details on page 8.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—[Special.]—An immediate appropriation of $22,500 for thirty new coast guard speedboats to combat rum runners on the great lakes was asked in a supplemental budget recommendation forwarded to congress today by President Hoover.

Declaring that "the situation as regards liquor smuggling on the great lakes calls for definite action," the budget report pointed out the necessity of getting them into operation within the next three months, before the navigation season opens. Each of the desired craft, described as motorboats 34 to 36 feet in length, would carry a crew of four and, presumably, would be armed with machine guns.

Plans of the treasury department for designating about 600 points of entry on the Canadian border, and maintaining a close patrol to prevent persons from crossing the line anywhere else also became known today. Canada's consent must be obtained, however, before such action may be taken.

Battle Clouds Hover Over Congress.

Submission of the coast guard appropriation request, indicating that the administration plans a supreme effort to stop the illicit liquor flow from Canada, stood out as one of several incidents as congress reconvened today, heralding the forthcoming struggle over various prohibition measures. The battle is expected to be in full blast before the end of the week in one or both of the houses.

During the day two wet representatives secured permission to address the house on prohibition this week, while in the senate several dry leaders, including Senator Smith W. Brookhart [Rep., Ia.], are awaiting the first opportunity to give voice to their views.

Thorough Campaign Mapped.

In connection with the President's coast guard proposal, it was pointed out that in his annual message he asked for the unification of all border patrol agencies, as a means of raising the land wall against Canadian rum. With a new fleet of armed boats on the lakes, his anti-smuggling program apparently will be complete.

The budget recommendation calls for an appropriation of $260,000 for construction and equipment of the boats and $42,000 for crews of enlisted men.

Each boat would have a complement of three enlisted men, making 90 in all, and there would be a reserve of ten men to take care of shortages.

Boston's Protests Filed.

Senator David I. Walsh [Dem., Mass.], an anti-prohibitionist, gained recognition as the first senator to bring up the prohibition issue in the upper house. Within 15 minutes after that body assembled, he filed a number of resolutions adopted by a mass meeting in Boston on Jan. 2, protesting against the "wanton and reckless killing of citizens of Massachusetts by the coast guard." The resolutions asailed the killing of three men by guardsmen in the Black Duck case. They were referred to the judiciary committee.

Before Walsh had taken his seat, Senator Brookhart rose on his feet asking to have placed in the record a recent radio speech made by Senator Wesley Jones [Rep., Wash.], author of the five and ten law, upholding prohibition and advocating the dissemination of dry propaganda in the schools.

House Wets Get Ready.

The house of representatives held a session lasting only a few moments, but in that time Representative F. H. La Guardia [Rep., N. Y.], a wet leader, secured permission to speak for ten minutes tomorrow on the prohibition question. La Guardia yesterday declared that the drys, for the first time, "are on the defensive." Another wet spokesman, Representative John C. Schafer [Rep., Wis.], was allotted an hour on Friday to speak on the subject of "Prohibition and Christianity." Schafer recently derided the drys as "rats deserting a sinking ship."

COLD WAVE HERE TODAY; MAY DROP TO ZERO TONIGHT

Coasting downward from a near record for high temperatures for this time of year, the mercury in Chicago last night was in the course of a 40 degree drop which was expected to land it in the vicinity of zero by this morning. Starting from a maximum of 51 degrees at 7 p. m., only three degrees below the all time high temperature record for Jan. 6, established in 1907, the mercury fell rapidly. C. A. Donnel, United States weather forecaster, predicted a minimum of 10 to 15 degrees today.

The rain which drizzled throughout yesterday will change to sleet as a strong northwest wind blows the cold down from the northwest, and later to snow flurries, Mr. Donnell said. The temperature will continue to drop throughout the day, with a possibility of zero or lower tonight. Cold weather will continue tomorrow.

The cold wave forecast brought 282 homeless men to the Des Plaines street police station last night for lodging. They filled the basement, the courtroom and the gymnasium.

Last night the zero belt extended into northern Iowa and to the north and northwest temperatures ranged from zero to 44 below at Fort Smith, Alberta. At Bismarck, N. D., the temperature was —12; Rapid City, —10; Williston, —16; Mineapolis, —2; Havre, Mont., —14; Winnipeg, —20.

STORM SWEEPS CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Sweeping over California, the storm which swung inward upon the Oregon coast from the Pacific ocean deposited rain and snow today over northern California and left in its wake interrupted telephone, telegraph, and highway communication. All northern California felt the storm's effect, with heavy snow falling in the Sierra, Siskiyou, and Coast Range mountains. The storm was expected to extend into southern California, providing much needed rain there.

LINDY TRIES OUT A $30,000 PLANE DESIGNED BY HIM

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 6.—[Special.]—Making a test flight of the new high powered $30,000 monoplane which the Lockheed factory built on Lindy's own specifications, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his wife today flew through the clouds for an hour. They made practice landings at air fields in San Fernando valley and then came down on the factory landing field at Burbank.

The new plane, which is powered by a 425 horse power Whitney-Wasp motor, was built secretly and embodies new features, among them wings set extremely low, almost on the bottom of the fuselage.

The ship has a 440 gallon gasoline capacity, enough to take it 3,300 miles without coming down. It is said to have a 186 mile an hour high speed.

Father Finds He Knows His Boy Very Well

Had Nelson V. Joyce remained at his home at 1011 Chestnut avenue, Wilmette, on Sunday evening he probably never would have seen his judgment vindicated nor have found himself in the ranks of the rare and sagacious fathers who know their own sons. As it is, Mr. Joyce, upon his return from New York, will learn, perhaps with mingled feeling of pride and regret, that he is very well acquainted with his son, Edward, aged 10.

Finds She's Under Fire.

A moment later there was another "ping" and something whistled as it flew above her head and struck the wall. Mrs. Morgan trembled and surmised, with accuracy, that some one was shooting at the house. After a pause, another window in the room cracked and another shot whizzed by, narrowly missing the maid who was setting the table.

Then, a shot through a kitchen window, and later, a fifth through the second window in the breakfast room. The maid and Mrs. Morgan, harassed by the intermittent bombardment, decided that the house was being attacked and Mrs. Morgan called the police. While she called, a sixth shot shattered another pane.

Other Homes Bombarded.

Policeman George Schaefer arrived on the scene and after calming the two women, went in search of the bombardier. A little sleuthing about the neighborhood led him to a house at 1025 Chestnut street, where a repetition of the attack on the Morgan home had broken six windows. A little more sleuthing took the policeman to the Joyce home, where he found Edward rejoicing in the possession of a new air gun, from which he was showering the neighborhood with BB shot.

Mrs. Joyce explained. Mr. Joyce, with a masculine knowledge of the ways of little boys, had objected strenuously to his son's desire to own a gun. Mrs. Joyce, however, had weakened when Edward fell ill on Friday, and to facilitate his recovery, had purchased the gun against the express orders given by Mr. Joyce to the contrary. The gun seemed to have done the work and Edward's recovery was rapid and complete.

With a boy friend, fortunately unarmed, he set out to test the gun, with the result detailed.

SCIENTIST CLAIMS HE CAN ELIMINATE AUTO EXHAUST GAS

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 6.—[Special.]—Dr. J. W. C. Frazier, professor of chemistry of the Johns Hopkins university, has announced the discovery of a means to eliminate carbon monoxide, the deadly fumes of auto exhaust gas which has claimed many victims.

Tests conducted by Dr. Frazier and his assistants have proved that the engine of an auto equipped with the new device may be safely run in a closed garage without the usual accompanying discharge of carbon monoxide or any other dangerous gases.

The Johns Hopkins professor claims that universal equipment of the new safeguard would make asphyxiation impossible.

Carbon monoxide results from incomplete combustion of gasoline in the motor, Dr. Frazier pointed out. His discovery includes the affixing of a catalyst, a substance which completely burns the carbon monoxide, releasing carbon dioxide through the exhaust. The discovery follows a search which has been conducted since early carbon monoxide poisonings led scientists on a quest for a relief measure.

The first efforts along the lines followed by Dr. Frazier were conducted during the war when the necessity of a safeguard from carbon monoxide for men manning guns in enclosed turrets made itself evident.

ALDERMEN WAR WITH MAYOR IN BUDGET CRISIS

Council Aroused by Veto Threats.

No Salaries

City pay rolls totaling $3,500,000 are due before Jan. 20. There is no prospect of funds until the end of the month or probably early in February.

County pay rolls of $450,000 are due tomorrow. Judgments of $2,000,000 for salaries advanced by banks for October and November are overdue. No hope for funds until Jan. 28. Details on page 4.

School board pay rolls of $400,000 each are due to civil service employes on Jan. 15 and 31. Teachers' salaries of $1,850,000 are due Jan. 24. No funds are available until the end of the month. Details on page 5.

Gov. Emmerson hears financial troubles of Lincoln park board, which is $500,000 short of its usual revenue, and of west parks system, which has borrowed $6,000,000 on tax warrants. Details on page 5.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The city corporate treasury is practically empty. Treasurer Charles S. Peterson locked up the cash box against municipal pay rollers yesterday afternoon.

No January salaries are to be paid. Mr. Peterson notified John S. Clark, chairman of the council finance committee, that there is no money with which to meet the pay rolls. Treasurer Peterson also demands that he be reimbursed for $11,665,106 which he has advanced from the city's surplus funds since Sept. 25 last to pay bills and wages. He insists that this sum be paid before the city starts handing out checks for 1930 expenses.

Borrowed on Promises.

This $11,665,106 is money taken out of the treasury's trust and unneeded funds to pay current expenses in 1929. It was money procured after the city had borrowed every dollar it could on tax anticipation warrants. The only security for these millions are canceled pay checks and the promise of the aldermen they would make it good.

Treasurer Peterson insists that it be made good at once. He wants the 1930 tax levy ordinance passed and the money borrowed on 1930 tax anticipation warrants to settle this $11,665,106 debt.

If the treasurer sticks by his decision it is admitted that he can force payment or put the brakes on the municipal government. City Controller George K. Schmidt indicated yesterday that there may be some difficulty in selling 1930 corporate tax anticipation warrants. With the utmost speed the warrants cannot be ready for sale before Jan. 15.

Mayor Versus Aldermen.

A strenuous battle between the mayor and the city council was threatened yesterday over the 1930 appropriations. Mayor Thompson said: "The city cannot function on the present [1930] budget."

That forecasts a veto. It was currently rumored yesterday that the mayor would veto the fire and police appropriations. He is said to desire to boost these to the 1928 budget basis, which means the adding of $1,988,000 for these two departments. Some said that his veto will also include the health and street cleaning appropriations. These are $2,182,000 less than last year. Certain influences are also trying to get the mayor to veto the allowance for street lighting, which is $941,000 less than last year.

The Treasurer's Warning.

While the conflict between the mayor and council was developing the letter of City Treasurer Peterson came like a thunderbolt from a clear sky. No one suspected that he would put the thumbscrews on the flow of gold from the city treasury. No one remembers when a city treasurer revolted before against a city administration.

After reciting that the city council on Dec. 30 passed an order directing the city and controller to pay salaries, municipal jurors' certificates and other items from the corporate fund for this month, Mr. Peterson wrote:

"We desire to inform you that at

Clarence S. Funk, who in 1911 was the victim of a plot to defame his character after he had given testimony in Washington on which William Lorimer was expelled from the senate, died yesterday. Mr. Funk was president of the Agricultural Bond and Credit corporation. At the time he was the central figure in the trials resulting from Lorimer's election as senator for Illinois, he was general manager of the International Harvester company.

Funk's death occurred at the West Suburban hospital. He had failed to rally after an operation performed two weeks ago.

He was born in Scales Mound, Ill., on Aug. 14, 1866. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at his home, 620 North Euclid avenue, Oak Park, and at the First Congregational church of Oak Park at 2 o'clock.

Tells of Talk with Hines.

The story of Funk's connection with the famous Lorimer scandal goes back to the afternoon he talked with Edward Hines at the Union League club. His testimony later was that Hines told of having "put Lorimer over" and that Hines asked him for a contribution toward the expenses incurred in the task.

Lorimer's selection as senator by the Illinois legislature had been challenged as corrupt. Many of the legislators had been bribed to vote for Lorimer, it had been charged—and there had been confessions. The United States senate had investigated and, because of lack of conclusive evidence that Lorimer's election had been purchased, the senate partly exonerated Lorimer.

Funk told H. H. Kohlsaat, newspaper publisher and political power, about his conversation with Hines, in which he said Hines told of various steps taken to put Lorimer, then known as the "blond boss," in the senate. Mr. Kohlsaat made public Funk's statement and referred it to the senate. This resulted in a new investigation.

Calls Suit a Plot.

Soon afterward a suit against Funk for alienation of affections was filed by John Henning, a bellboy, who asked $25,000, alleging charges against Mr. Funk. Funk denounced the suit as a plot and said it was a deliberate effort to discredit testimony he was to give at Washington.

At the trial several witnesses told of seeing Funk and Mrs. Josephine Henning on many occasions at a loop hotel. The jury eventually vindicated Funk with a verdict of not guilty.

Meanwhile, the senate expelled Lorimer, principally on Funk's testimony, which was corroborated. At the same time an investigation was under way in Chicago regarding the charges made against Funk.

Henning, the bellboy, was arrested in Minneapolis and he confessed that his charges were false. His wife confessed that she had been paid to blacken her own reputation in order to ruin Funk.

Attorney Is Disbarred.

Daniel Donahoe, attorney for Henning; Isaac Stiefel, private detective, and Aileen Heppner, chief witness against Funk in the alienation suit, were indicted for conspiracy. They were found guilty but after a series of legal maneuvers the only outcome of the verdict was the disbarment of Attorney Donahoe.

Funk in recent years had not appeared in the public prints. His friends say the strain of the two years of investigations and trials told on his strength.

He was a member of the Union League club, the Oak Park Country club, and the Press club. He also was a director of the Chicago Theological seminary. His widow, Mrs. Kathryn Dorothy Funk; a son, Donald, and a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Guthrie, survive him.

BANDITS INVADE MANSION; SEIZE $25,000 IN GEMS

Family and Servants Awed by Guns.

Five methodical robbers took possession of a gold coast mansion during the dinner hour last evening, overawed a wealthy couple, their two children, and four servants, and walked out with jewelry valued at $25,000. They slipped away among the strollers on Lake Shore drive unnoticed by a park policeman directing traffic at the drive and Schiller street.

The front doorbell at the twenty room residence of Charles M. Richter, 1418 Lake Shore drive, rang at 7 p. m. The parlor maid, Katherine Walsh, found two quietly dressed young men at the entrance.

How They Gained Entrance.

"Mr. Marshall, calling for Mr. Richter," said one of them. "He's upstairs dressing, but I'll call him," the maid replied.

Mr. Richter, who is vice president of the Consolidated Magazines corporation, slipped on his shirt, vest and Tuxedo and came down. As he turned the knob releasing the door lock a foot slipped inside, a pistol muzzle was shoved against his belt, and a smooth voice said:

"Steady now, Mr. Richter. You know what we want. Turn around and lead us in."

Automatically, Mr. Richter raised his hands, walked into the foyer, and was followed closely by the two men and three others who had sprung from the shrubbery.

Wife Told of Holdup.

In the foyer Richter and the maid were firmly pushed down upon a bench, Richter's wife, Jean, descending the stairs for dinner, was first seen by Richter.

"It's a holdup, dear," he called. "Now don't get excited. Give these men anything they ask for."

"Please, please," she broke out. "My children—they're asleep upstairs. I'll give you anything, but don't harm or frighten them."

A robber spoke up, assuring her there would be no shooting unless an alarm was raised. One robber guarded the Richters and the parlor maid, a second brought up the cook, Mrs. Lucy Smith, from the basement, and then cut four telephones on the first floor and opened three windows in the library.

Cut Upstairs Phones.

Two robbers mounted the stairs and cut two telephones there without disturbing the nursemaids, Katherine and Nora Roach, who were tucking in the Richter children, Stephen, 8 years old, and Mary Patricia, 6, in the nursery. They returned to the foyer.

"Now, Mrs. Richter?" said one. She arose without further bidding and led them to her bedroom on the second floor. As they passed the nursery one robber opened the door, calling in a whisper that the nursemaids must be quiet.

Stephen, awaking, saw the pistol and began to call gleefully. The maid hushed him and assured him the man was playing a joke.

Hands Over the Jewels.

The robber, who withdrew in haste when the boy called, followed Mrs. Richter and his confederate to the bedroom. She handed them her three diamond bracelets, an emerald ring, a diamond engagement ring, a diamond brooch, and her husband's platinum watch and his ring, set with three diamonds.

"We know the stuff's insured, so it's no loss to you," was the leader's parting remark. He took from his pocket a roll of adhesive tape, with which he sealed Richter's lips, and bound him to the bench.

CRIME WAVE SPREADS

The crime boom, first discerned by police executives last Saturday when 483 patrolmen were struck off the city pay roll, approached record proportions last night. Twenty-five robberies were reported between 5 p. m. and midnight, an average of three each hour.

Credited to the depleted police force were the shooting and capture of a Negro burglar, the arrest of a bandit who was wounded by a private detective and the capture of three young rapists who confessed their crime.

The first victim of the evening was Miss Dorothy McGauran, a stenographer in the Lord and Thomas and Logan advertising agency. She was leaving the agency's office in the Palmolive building when a man stepped from a vacant office, slugged her with a milk bottle and fled with her purse. Chicago avenue police found the purse, from which $17 had been taken, on a fire escape.

Four kidnapers forced Frank L. Brayman, 3745 Indiana avenue, into their sedan at 18th street and Wabash avenue, robbed him of $400 while speeding north in Sheridan road, and tossed him out in Evanston. Brayton, who complained to Evanston police, was instructed to report the robbery at the State street station.

Samuel Harper, an attorney at 19 South La Salle street, was robbed of $60 and his automobile by two armed men. "We want your car so we can go out on the street and commit a few robberies while there aren't many policemen," the men told him. Harper, who had been visiting friends near Pine Grove avenue and Sheridan road, had started to re-enter his car at the corner when the men accosted him.

Meat Shop Is Robbed.

A driver for Marshall Field & Co., Thomas Stangle, 2022 Grand avenue, was accosted by two armed men at Chestnut street and Ernst court. He saved $39 in collections by handing them $1 in change, with which they fled.

An armed man held up Marion Slifer in the butcher shop he manages at 2923 North Crawford avenue, took $14 and a slab of bacon, and compelled Slifer to drive him in his own car to Wellington and Whipple streets, where he dodged into an alley and escaped.

Thomas Gyitnone, 1638 West 84th street, a life insurance collector, gave up $40 to a pair of Negroes in a hallway at 4133 Calumet avenue. An armed Negro confronted Mrs. Mary Arthur as she entered the hall of her home, 500 East 49th street, and fled with $41.

Negro Bandit Routed.

The Negro shot and captured was prowling the apartment bedroom at 7028 South Green street where Mrs. Ruth Crawford was asleep with her two small children when the mother awakened. As she screamed the prowler fled to another room, and was routed to the street by Mrs. Crawford's brother, Guy Woolridge.

Another tenant, David Rose, telephoned the prowler's description to the Englewood police. Detective Michael Phelan, recognizing the Negro as he skulked in a nearby alley, commanded him to halt and shot him in the back when he started to flee. At the Bridewell hospital the Negro identified himself as McKinley Trueshell, 29 years old, recently of Kansas City.

Joseph Bondi, 20 years old, whose empty purse provoked a robber's wrath, was in a critical condition last night with an abdominal bullet wound in the West Suburban hospital. Bondi was locking the garage in the rear of his home, 5563 West Adams street, when accosted. The robber searched him, cursed when he found an empty wallet, and fired into Bondi's stomach.

Youth Shot by Guard.

Two young men appeared at the home of Fiori Madia, 20 years old, 3245 Princeton avenue, early yesterday, supporting Madia between them. There was a bullet in his back and his mother called an ambulance which removed him to the Mercy hospital. Subsequently the police learned Madia and two others had been driven off by an armed railroad watchman, Paul W. Stein, in the Erie yards.

Madia confessed he was involved in the shooting in the Erie yards. He named his companions as Tony Cutligero, 26 years old, of 3037 Wentworth avenue, and Ralph Mendosa, 3245 Princeton avenue. Both were arrested in their homes.

Miss Margaret Hei, 24 years old, weeping and with her clothing disarranged, appeared at her home, 430 Elmore avenue, Park Ridge, early yesterday, with an account of how three youths kidnaped her at Lawrence and Milwaukee avenues, gagged her, and drove with her in a sedan to a Glen View brickyard where all attacked her.

Returning to the scene of the abduction with two policemen, Miss Hei recognized her assailants, two of whom were captured. Fred Krause, 19 years old, 5010 Strong street, and Henry Herber, 19 years old, 5240 Winona street, confessed the attack, police said, and named as their confederate, John Leptkack, 20 years old, of 4704 North Lavergne avenue.

Keys found in the burned clothing had failed to disclose the identity of the murder victim, who was shot in the head before the torch was applied, and last night detectives were working on the motor number clew.

Car Number False.

The car bore no license plates, so the first work of the police was to send to the manufacturer for the address of the dealer who received a car bearing the motor number A1,362,404, and this was traced to the ownership of Charles Hamm of Monroe, Wis. A message was received saying Mr. Hamm still has his car.

Lieut. William Cox and Sergt. Frank McDonald of the Chicago automobile detail were then called to Steger by the highway police and they saw that the numbers "4" stamped in the engine had been made from an original figure "1." They verified this through a secret number which showed the true one to be A1,362,101, and last night they wired for the name of the dealer who received that car.

Gloves Also Clews.

One of the keys found on the body was similar in kind and serial number to one issued to a Raymond Burkhardt, no address, by the Continental Can company on Nov. 11. Burkhardt did not return after having been hired by that company, and it was said yesterday that without knowing another set of numbers—which had been obliterated on the key of the dead man—the company could not say positively it was the one issued to Burkhardt.

The name "Buss" penciled on the canvas gloves worn by the murdered youth was considered a clew. Sergt. Walter Remillard said he heard of a bootlegger by that name who lives near Monee, twelve miles from Steger, and he was seeking Buss. He explained that the dead man was presumed to have been a bootlegger because of the eight cans of alcohol in the automobile.

Landlord Says Pastor Shot at Him; Both Held

The Rev. Arthur Lewis, 31 years old, colored, 5421 South Michigan avenue, and Vernon Johnson, 30 years old, colored, 1341 South Park way, were charged with disorderly conduct last night after Johnson complained to the police that the Rev. Mr. Lewis, his tenant, met him at the door with a revolver when he called for the rent, and chased him down the stairs, firing three shots at him. Johnson was not

Sergt. Trant Gets Year's Leave to Visit Ireland

Sergt. Michael Trant, a policeman for 23 years and attached to the detective bureau for 18 years, was granted a one year furlough without pay yesterday and will leave next week for his native Killarney in County Kerry, Ireland. Trant, a bachelor, said he was withdrawing to allow a married man to retain his post in the present police reduction.

GANGSTER SHOT DOWN IN STREET; EXPECTED TO DIE

James McManus, 37 years old, a racketeer with a 20 year police record, was shot and perhaps mortally wounded early this morning in an affray concerning which the police feared they would be able to learn nothing before he died.

Huddled over the bumper of his flivver coupe at Lincoln avenue and Diversey parkway, McManus was firing a pistol in the air in signal of distress. A passing motorist, Frank Hart, 595 Webster avenue, stopped to lend aid when the wounded man threw away his pistol in token of his harmlessness.

Hart drove him to the Chicago General hospital. Surgeons there found a bullet wound which had entered his back above the belt, pierced his kidney, and passed through his body. The doctors told McManus there was little hope.

Mum on Who Shot Him.

"I'm going for good. Let me die in peace," he whispered when Lieut. John McGinnis of the Sheffield district sought to question him.

Patrolmen recalled having seen McManus in the vicinity of Diversey parkway and Ashland avenue around midnight. They conjectured he might have been shot attempting to hijack a load of beer, Ashland avenue being a suspected route of the north side beer runners.

In his flivver the police found a .45 caliber pistol and two .38 caliber revolvers. His pockets were heavy with shells. The license for the flivver was issued to one John D. Burke, 11 North May street, it was reported. McManus gave his address as 154 Harrison street, Oak Park.

McManus was at a table in the C. and O. restaurant, 509 North Clark street, the night of last Sept. 1 when Henry (Hoops-a-Daisy) Connors was killed there. At the inquest into Connors' death there was testimony that McManus and his pal, Ernest Fontana, were drinking together when Connors became abusive. The bullets which felled Connors came from behind him as he covered McManus and Fontana with his pistol.

Taxi Driver Slain.

Frank Ferri, 26 years old, a taxicab driver wanted by the police of Detroit where he had a criminal record, was shot to death last night on Canal street near Taylor street, apparently after a quarrel with a friend. The police are seeking Rocco Brandinizzi, 1004 Peoria street, who Ferri's wife, Masina, believed was with him when he was killed.

Ferri and another man were walking along Canal street when his companion suddenly fired at him, two shots striking him in the back. Ferri fired twice as his companion fled and then collapsed. Beside the body the police found a revolver with five cartridges fired and a stiletto.

Mrs. Ferri told the Maxwell street police that Ferri was to have met Brandinizzi last night to discuss a loan of $100 to meet the payments on Ferri's taxicab and that she believed Brandinizzi and her husband had quarreled. Ferri lived at 1023 Cypress street.

Slain by Three Gunmen.

The police were also investigating the killing of Louis Antonucci, 40, who lives across the street from Ferri at 1020 Cypress street. Antonucci was fatally shot by three gunmen who invaded his garage at 5532 Elston avenue early yesterday. He died early this morning in Belmont hospital. The police saw a connection between the shooting and the kidnaping of Billy Ranieri, because the wife of Angelo Pettiti was a godmother of one of Antonucci's children.

December Postal Receipts 2.03% Above Previous Year

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—(AP)—The postoffice department reported today that postal receipts at 50 selected cities throughout the country for December, 1929, showed an increase of $812,479.06, or 2.03 per cent over December, 1928. The total receipts for December, 1929, were $40,784,848.98, as against $39,972,369.92 for the corresponding month of 1928.

FORMER MAYOR OF ROCKFORD IS KILLED IN CRASH

Charles E. Jackson, former mayor of Rockford, was fatally injured and his wife, Mrs. Nellie Brown Jackson, was seriously hurt yesterday when the automobile in which they were riding skidded into another machine ten miles west of Elgin and overturned into a ditch. Jackson died in St. Joseph's hospital in Elgin shortly after the accident.

The Jacksons were returning from a visit to Chicago. Their machine skidded on the icy pavement as Jackson swerved to avoid another car going east on Grant highway. The car struck the oncoming machine, driven by Howard Sanno of Elgin, and rolled into the ditch. The two were removed to the hospital by passing motorists. Mrs. Jackson will recover. Sanno was not hurt.

Mr. Jackson, who served as mayor of Rockford from 1903 to 1907, was president of the Illinois Association of Real Estate Boards. He was 52 years old and had long been active in Rockford civic affairs.

Woman Dies of Injuries.

Mrs. Holdena Goebel, 82 years old, 736 Laurel avenue, died in the Highland Park hospital of injuries incurred on Saturday night when the auto in which she was riding with her husband, John P. Goebel, 86 years old, skidded on an icy pavement and struck a tree. Goebel died on Sunday.

One death yesterday raised the 1930 Cook county motor toll to 11. The victim:

Miss Ethel McCarthy, 34 years old, 3251 Wayne avenue. Fatally injured last night when she was struck by an automobile at Ridge avenue and North Clark street. Abraham Ehrlick, 30 years old, 1230 Elmwood avenue, Evanston, the driver, took her to the Edgewater hospital, where she died. Ehrlick was held.

Sears Heir Is Fined.

Wesley M. Sears, 29 years old, 506 Sheridan road, Glencoe, son of one of the founders of Sears, Roebuck & Co., was fined $100 for driving while intoxicated in McCormick road on Sunday by Police Magistrate John M. Russ of Evanston. Sears skidded into a lamp post and was locked up when he refused to submit to a blindfold test to determine his sobriety.

LEENEY CHILDREN QUESTIONED ON MOTIVE IN KILLING

Florence Leeney, 19 years old, and Robert J. Leeney, 21, children of Mrs. Florence Leeney, who last Thursday shot and killed her husband, Maurice, in their home at 5336 Drexel avenue, were questioned last night by Lieut. Charles Grattan of the Hyde Park police station. Lieut. Grattan reopened the case after a conference with Leeney's three brothers—George, Joseph, and Charles Leeney—who told him they believed there was some other motive than jealousy and abuse behind the killing.

Young Leeney was questioned because of conflicting stories of his whereabouts on the night preceding the shooting. Mrs. Leeney had testified at the inquest that her son had left home late in the evening after his stepfather had threatened to shoot him. George Leeney, however, told police that he was there until after midnight and that Robert had left during the afternoon. The questioning failed to change the original theory of the police on the shooting.

KUNZ AND SON INDICTED FOR GRAFT, REPORT

Congressman Stanley H. Kunz of the Eighth district, and his son, Stanley Jr., were named in true bills voted by the grand jury yesterday charging them with conspiracy to take graft money to assist a candidate for the police department. The congressman, who had been subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury yesterday, invoked his congressional immunity by disregarding the summons and going to Washington for the resumption of the congressional session.

Assistant State's Attorney George Lavin, who presented the evidence on which the true bills were voted, said that when the actual indictments are returned later the warrant for the elder Kunz probably will have to be held up and the trial postponed until the adjournment of congress.

Give Evidence to Jury.

Roman Trochowski, a youthful candidate for a police position, and his two brothers, Walter and Emil Trochowski, gave the evidence on which the true bills were voted.

Walter Trochowski said that he conducted negotiations for his brother. He said he went to see Kunz's son and that the latter referred him to his father. He was told, he testified, that it would cost him $400 and he accordingly went to a bank and made a loan of that amount. He was given a check for $393.50, the interest being deducted, and this he paid to Congressman Kunz. Roman accompanied him to the congressman's house, but Kunz refused to allow him to be present at the transaction.

Told All Was O. K.

Kunz later told Trochowski that he had conferred with a civil service commissioner and that everything would be taken care of. Trochowski passed the examination, but never was appointed and an effort was then made to get the money returned. Kunz refused and the Trochowski brothers went to the state's attorney Friday afternoon.

Congressman Kunz called Walter Trochowski on the telephone Friday night and offered to return the money, he testified. He went to the Kunz home Saturday morning and was given not only his original money, but an additional $24, which he had paid out in interest and commission.

Emil Trochowski accompanied him and testified that he heard Kunz ask his brother to sign a receipt, which he did without reading it. After it was signed Kunz said, "You know you signed a receipt that this money was a 'loan.'"

Refused Return of Receipt.

The Trochowski brothers said they protested that the money was payment for aid in getting their brother a job but that Kunz refused to give them back the receipt. Walter Trochowski, a plumber, said he became acquainted with Congressman Kunz while doing some plumbing work at his home.

Prosecutor Lavin said that the congressman on Saturday had promised to appear before the jury and sign an immunity waiver. In return the prosecutor promised to see that Kunz was the first witness before the jury so that he could make a noon train for Washington. Instead Kunz left Sunday noon.

Kunz "Can't Understand."

In Washington Kunz protested that he did not understand the charges made against him. He said he could not respond to the subpoena because he had to be in Washington for the reopening of congress.

"A man can prefer charges of any kind against any man at any time," he said. "You know I am in politics and have many enemies."

Congressman Kunz, a Democratic leader on the northwest side, had twice before been arrested on somewhat similar charges. He was once indicted, but was acquitted.

Stony Point, N. Y., Jan. 6.—[Special.]—The vast number of deer roaming wild through the Palisades interstate park system are a menace, Ray Adolph, chief forest ranger, said today. Awarded $189,000 Dower Interest

MRS. FRANCES HEENAN (PEACHES) BROWNING.

$189,000 GOES TO "PEACHES" FROM BROWNING DEAL

New York, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Mrs. Frances "Peaches" Browning today concurred in a motion presented in Supreme court by Edward W. Browning, her husband, whereby she can collect $189,000 from his holdings as her dower right.

The motion asks that Browning be permitted to sell four apartment houses and that Mrs. Browning's dower right, one-third, be impressed upon the property.

The motion also asks the court's approval of a report made by Philip J. Sinnott, special referee, which fixed the value of the property and the amount of Mrs. Browning's interest in it.

In her testimony before the referee, Mrs. Browning said all the property she owns now is worth $15,500 and that her income is $1,012 a year. She said she had debts of $7,800.

She and Browning, married in 1926, became legally separated subsequently.

FATHER OF FIVE ENDS LIFE.

After sealing the doors of the kitchen of his home at 4111 North Paulina street to protect his five motherless children in another part of the house, Bernard Pellus, 53 years old, a laborer, turned on the gas in the kitchen stove yesterday and ended his life.

NORTHUP WARS ON INTIMIDATION OF HIS STAFF

Acting State's Attorney John E. Northup does not propose to have any of his employés intimidated. He said so yesterday when he had his secretary, Conrad Selmyhr, go into the felony court and obtain warrants against Henry Klopfer, 8440 Maryland avenue, who had assaulted him several weeks ago.

According to the story told by Selmyhr, Klopfer was wanted last August for a supposed attempted attack on Miss Ruth Gerlach, at the time a nurse at the Washington Park hospital. When the police failed to arrest Klopfer the prosecutor's employé started out to find him. He was successful and for his efforts received a beating, he says. The police found Klopfer yesterday and brought him to Northup's office where he was given a good scolding and then arrested on the warrants. Klopfer claimed the whole thing is the result of rivalry for the smiles of the same girl.

"Several of my assistants have been threatened or attempts made to intimidate them," said Northup. "It has got to stop, if it doesn't I will do things that will stop it."

BRIDE OF MONTH SEEKS DIVORCE OF MANUFACTURER

Wilkey Nightmares End Romance, Suit Says.

After one month of married life, Mrs. Alice Lorraine Wilkey, 25 years old, yesterday filed a bill for divorce in the Superior court against her husband, Bernard R. Wilkey, president of the Wilkey Laboratories, 2147 5th avenue, shoe polish manufacturers. The bill, drawn by Attorney Harry X. Cole, alleges that the wife could not sleep because of her husband's nightmares and had no peace during the day because he shadowed her constantly.

The Wilkeys were married on Dec. 4 and separated four days ago. He was a widower. Mrs. Wilkey had been a manicurist. For the three years following the death of his first wife Wilkey paid assiduous courtship, showering her with gifts and kindly attentions, according to the bill. He is 50 years old.

Prowls House With Gun.

After the marriage Mrs. Wilkey became the mistress of a nine room home with several servants at La Grange. On their bridal night Wilkey awoke with a start at an early hour, seized a gun, and shouted, "I'll kill him!" according to the bill. While she remained in her bed terrorized Wilkey is said to have turned on all the lights in their home and to have crept surreptitiously into each room searching for some imaginary person. This strange action was repeated every evening, she declared.

On Dec. 31 she hid the gun, hoping to end the noctural jaunts, the bill states. Wilkey beat her violently until she produced the gun after taking the precaution of removing all cartridges. When she turned over the gun Wilkey is said to have attempted to shoot her. He is also said to have discharged the servants in his fear of a mysterious enemy.

Spies as She Shops.

During their married life Wilkey stayed home every day to watch his wife. He is said to have told her he was a detective. He followed her from store to store as she made her purchases, hiding now and then in a store front or behind a tree as she turned to see whether she was being followed, the bill avers. Mrs. Wilkey left their home Jan. 2 when she had hidden the gun a second time and her husband attempted to shoot her in a fury of temper.

After filing the bill Mrs. Wilkey appeared before Superior Judge Sabath, who granted her an injunction to restrain her husband from carrying out threats to injure her. She said that Wilkey receives a large income from his business and that she will ask alimony.

FINED FOR LURING CHILD.

William Comis, 35 years old, was fined $50 yesterday by Judge Theodore F. Ehler in the domestic relations court for luring a 10 year old girl into his candy store at 1759 Howard street.

RIDERLESS AUTO GOES AND STOPS AT ORDERS SENT VIA 'LIGHT PHONE'

New York, Jan. 6.—(AP)—A driverless car obeyed the spoken word tonight, moving backward and forward and turning on its lights at instructions dictated through a telephone.

At the command to move forward, spoken into the wireless telephone, the car went ahead until told to halt. It was backed up 40 feet, halted, and lights were turned on and off at the word of the "driver."

The telephone was wired to a light source, hidden in a miniature tree. Each word flashed the light, the combinations of one to four flashes operating through the light sensitive cell to relays which controlled the car.

Though too new to have found a practical use in driving, the device would make it possible, it was claimed, for a traffic officer, if all automobiles were equipped, to control vehicles by merely talking.

Clessie L. Cummins arrived in New York from Indianapolis today in an automobile powered by a crude-oil burning Diesel motor. He said he traveled the 792 miles on 30 gallons of fuel, costing $1.30. His average speed, he said, was 31 2-3 miles an hour.

DOCTOR, 57, SAYS PHYSICIAN, 73, ASSAULTED HIM

Dr. Clarence H. Courtney, 57 years old, 3025 Washington boulevard, appeared before Judge Joseph Schulman in Town Hall court yesterday, demanding a warrant for the arrest of Dr. James G. Mastin, 73 years old, 3000 Washington boulevard. Dr. Courtney averred the older physician had assaulted him and was trying to steal the affections of his wife, Mrs. Pauline Courtney, 35 years old.

Returning home yesterday, Dr. Courtney learned his wife was in Dr. Mastin's apartment and went there to get her, he related. Dr. Mastin ejected him, he said, whereupon he determined to get a warrant.

Mrs. Courtney, who was in court, told another story. Dr. Mastin, she said, was her foster uncle and treated her like a daughter. She said there was no harm in her visiting him and declared Dr. Mastin had better claim to a warrant since his glasses had been broken in the scuffle with her husband. Judge Schulman reserved decision on issuing the warrant.

STUDENT HELD FOR ARSON.

Albert A. Silberberg, Northwestern university student who confessed starting three fires in his room in a university dormitory, was held to the grand jury in a $10,000 bond on an arson charge yesterday by Justice Samuel H. Harrison in Evanston.

TAFT IN HOSPITAL FOR TREATMENT OF OLD AILMENT

Chief Justice Is Expected to Regain Strength.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Chief Justice Taft has decided to direct all his efforts toward the recuperation of his strength during the next few weeks.

He is in a weakened physical condition, due to a recurrence of the bladder trouble for which he was treated several years ago.

With much protest he finally yielded to the importunities of his family, his physician and his associates of the Supreme court, and will go into Garfield hospital here for treatment. It is expected that within a week he will be sufficiently relieved to go to Asheville, N. C., where he will rest.

Overtaxes Strength.

Last June, in a weakened condition caused by the high tension under which he had been pushing the work of the Supreme court, he went to Cincinnati to visit his brother, Charles P. Taft, who died last week. He overtaxed his strength on the trip, and was forced to undergo hospital treatment before starting for Murray Bay in Canada for the summer.

He was wheeled to his train in a chair after taking hospital treatment and was hopeful that a summer's rest would restore his strength. In that, however, he was disappointed.

Attends Brother's Funeral.

Last week he insisted on attending his brother's funeral in Cincinnati, against the advice of his physician.

When the chief justice returned to Washington on Saturday he went directly from the station to the conference room of the court and for several hours worked on court cases. Yesterday he reluctantly yielded to the advice to take hospital treatment and rest.

The family of Mr. Taft, his physician, and his associates on the court expressed confident belief that he would soon be able to resume his official duties.

A DANERSK
Sheridan coffee table special at $21
After January, the price will be $36

IN order to suggest to you the joy of collecting Danersk Furniture, we offer for January only, the Sheridan Coffee Table, size 22 x 14 x 18 inches high, for $21. Thereafter the regular price will be $36.

Made of solid Cuban and San Domingo mahogany throughout. Built by hand, by Scotch and English craftsmen working in the Danersk Connecticut shops. The top is one wide piece of highly figured crotch, laminated to give lasting strength. The feet are tipped with cast bronze shoes. This pleasant little table is fashioned in the form of a miniature sofa-table, a style made popular in 1795 by Duncan Phyfe.

When you call to make your personal selection of the particular grain and figure that you like best, we should be glad to show you the many interesting pieces, based on rare old originals, which we have designed for bedroom, living room, dining room, and office.

Because you are dealing direct with the maker, you may purchase these choice pedigreed pieces at no greater cost than furniture less thoughtfully produced.

Council Wars with Mayor in Budget Crisis.

this time there are no corporate funds available from which such payments can be made, and that the payment of such salaries and expenses must be deferred until after the passage of the tax levy ordinance for the year of 1930."

That is plain, but Mr. Peterson goes on: "There are no funds in the city treasury from which we deem it safe to make further loans. We are of the opinion that the cash reserve in such funds should be held to meet payment in cash of obligations chargeable to them."

Mr. Peterson says that he obeyed the order of the city council of Sept. 25 which directed him to "pay all warrants and pay checks against the corporate fund and to hold as his security all such warrants and paychecks in excess of the corporate fund cash available."

"The amount of the warrants and paychecks so paid in excess of the corporate fund cash available is $11,665,106," says Mr. Peterson. He asks that 1930 tax warrants for that amount be given him, and adds that until that is done, he will advance no more money. Pay rolls amount to about $3,500,000 a month.

Aldermen Are Aroused.

The apparently well founded report of the mayor's veto caused unusual excitement among the aldermen. They were vehement, and sometimes vitriolic, in their comments on Police Commissioner Russell's lay off of 473 policemen and Commissioner Goodrich's discharge of 220 firemen. The aldermen claimed that the administration is trying to "pass the buck" to them and "put them in a hole." They charged that the administration is attempting to make the council overload the budget, and several of them said they would refuse to vote for such a measure.

Others intimated that the city may be without an appropriation for police and fire protection. As the day wore on and the rumored veto spread, the aldermanic feeling against the administration became bitter. One alderman suggested that the city might have trouble collecting 1928 and 1929 taxes, if the 1930 budget is held illegal by Corporation Counsel Ettelson.

If the reported plan of veto is carried out, it appears that it will leave the aldermen "holding the bag," despite the repeated assertion yesterday of Chairman Clark of the finance committee: "We will not hold the bag. I won't stand for the bag being put in the hands of the aldermen who took my advice on the budget."

What the Veto Involves.

Assume, as at first rumored, that the mayor will veto the 1930 appropriations for policemen and firemen, and no other departmental allowances. That will limit council action to passing the police and fire appropriations over the mayor's veto, which requires a two-thirds vote, or the adoption of the mayor's increased budget for these two departments, which would require only a majority vote; or a refusal by the aldermen to make any police or fire appropriations. If the mayor puts on the pressure he can round up more than a third of the aldermen, and thus prevent an overriding of his veto.

Then if the council refuses to make police and fire appropriations, the responsibility will be on the aldermen. If they vote for larger police and fire allowances, the budget will be overloaded.

Too Late for Amendments.

The aldermen cannot trim down other less essential departments to get funds with which to employ more police and firemen. Those appropriations have been made, and a motion to reconsider the budget has been made and tabled. The aldermen refused to eliminate the allowance for maintaining their own automobiles and declined to pare the license, public service, and other nonessential departments. They passed up their opportunity. Now they say they will not hold the bag.

To get money for police and firemen it is said that the administration would decrease the appropriation for interest on tax anticipation warrants by $3,000,000.

"If they do that they will not be able to sell any 1930 tax warrants," asserted Ald. Clark, head of the council finance committee. "If they hold the police and fire appropriations illegal because of the way they are set up, then the tax levies for 1928 and 1929 can be attacked on the same ground. That may prevent millions in taxes from coming to the city. If the council refuses to make appropriations for police and fire, after a veto, then the 1930 tax levy will be reduced by that amount. They had better consider all angles of a veto before it is submitted.

"We were advised by an assistant corporation counsel that our setup of police and fire appropriations was legal before the budget was submitted to the city council. The police and fire commissioners were hasty in laying off several hundred firemen and policemen."

Richert Enters Denial.

"Commissioner Russell tried to give me the impression that he followed the advice of John A. Richert, head of the finance committee staff, in laying off 473 policement," commented Ald. A. J. Horan.

"That's not true," said Richert. "I told him that the responsibility was on him. Russell told me he had been informed by Leonard Ettelson that it was illegal to retain the 473."

"That discharge was a bone-head play, although it was made for a purpose," commented Ald. James B. Bowler.

"The fact is that Russell has 100 more coppers now than he had a year ago," said Ald. Denis A. Horan.

"Yes," added Clark, "he said when we gave him a police radio plant it was worth 1,000 policemen."

"He offered to reduce his force accordingly," said Ald. J. B. Bowler.

"If he would call in the special details, he would have enough policemen," said Ald. D. A. Horan. "He only has 1,300 patrolmen traveling beat."

"There's 58 policemen on the Englewood station pay roll who are not there," said Ald. W. W. Morris.

Suggests Goodrich Resign.

"If the head of the fire department would resign, that, too, would help Chicago," said Ald. Govier. "Our police are everywhere. I saw 40 Chicago coppers at the Arlington race track."

"The same thing is true at the Hawthorne race track," added Ald. Mellin.

Clark started again: "I was in the chief's office when his secretary came in and said that 45 men were wanted on 26th street out in Cicero, and the commissioner said to send them. Ald. Kaindl and myself were returning from a funeral and stopped last summer at a roadhouse. In came Lieut. Blaul with about 15 coppers who made a search at each table for liquor.

"The police department has 17 captains which it does not need. "Upwards of 20 per cent of the lieutenants are not needed. Policemen have been put in plain clothes on the basis of strict favoritism. The fire stations closed were selected where they would do the most harm."

More than 100 policemen heretofore assigned to special details were ordered yesterday afternoon by Commissioner Russell to report to their home stations in uniform at 8 o'clock this morning.

Except details to the offices of the mayor, county treasurer and state's attorney, it is ordered that all police detailed to federal, state, county and city departments, institutions, commercial agencies, including all special details, such as to the homes of public officials, policemen acting as warrant clerks and juvenile officers, get back to their regular stations this morning. The commissioner says that the order is "due to recent reduction in the man-power of this department."

Firemen Bring Suit.

Added to the city's complications was a suit by Otto E. Fendt, John F. Long, and Elmer Wolff, three discharged firemen, who sought an injunction in the Circuit court against the layoff of 220 firemen. It is to be heard by Judge William V. Brothers Friday. James O'Toole, attorney in the above suit, said he will file another soon in the name of Mrs. Ella B. Sullivan, 125 South Austin avenue, to mandamus the city to reinstate all of the firemen laid off. It was to be contended that the city by this act will increase fire insurance rates.

Fifteen dairy inspectors, one-half of the force which has charge of the inspection of the sources of Chicago's milk supply, turned in their stars to Health Commissioner Kegel yesterday. This bureau of the health department was cut $35,100 in the budget.

"It will be impossible to protect the milk supply with the remaining force," said Dr. Kegel, as he received the stars. "These men made it possible for Chicago to have the best milk supply during 1929 that it has ever had and we must have them back."

"Diptheria and cerebro-spinal meningitis are two black clouds hanging over our community," says the statement. "Typhoid fever is present in certain areas from which Chicago receives its milk supply. The small pox rate in Illinois is the worst in the United States and would be Chicago's rate were it not for the city health department vigilance. In fact there has been an increasing incidence of communicable diseases throughout 1929 which has required the full effort of the department to hold in check.

"If any of these diseases reach even semi-epidemic proportions in Chicago, the cost to business and industry and the city itself will be a prohibitive figure that no budget economy or political considerations could justify.

"Chicago's first line of defense against these dangers is the health department, and yet it is disrupted and gravely weakened by those responsible for the city's finances at the very moment when the health situation requires an increased budget, not a decrease."

Payless Pay Day Tomorrow for 4,000 County Employes

With the legality of the 1930 county budget hanging fire on the eve of pay day, county commissioners strained toward the sale of tax anticipation warrants to replenish an empty treasury. More attorneys are to be invited to pass on the soundness of the budget to encourage banks, which have invested heavily in similar warrants, to bid on the proposed 1930 issue.

The county board met yesterday morning expecting to advertise for bids on the strength of a favorable opinion from the law firm of Schuyler, Weinfeld & Parker, who were retained by the board some time ago to pass on the validity of the budget. When attorneys announced that the opinion would not be forthcoming the meeting was postponed.

Plead for Quick Action.

The commissioners pleaded for a quick rendition of the opinion. Tomorrow is pay day, and there appears to be no prospect of paying $450,000 in salaries to 4,000 county employés. Creditors are demanding $3,000,000 for supplies purchased in 1929. The Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company holds judgments totaling $2,000,000 on salaries advanced last October and November. Other creditors ask immediate payments of bills which total $2,000,000

Pointing to these items, Hayden Bell, attorney for the county board, suggested that supporting opinions on the budget be invited from the law firms of Tolman, Sexton & Chandler; Chapman & Cutler; Winston, Strawn & Shaw; and Scott, Bancroft & Stephens. The favorable opinion of such firms will bring the county a higher price for the warrants, he said. The plan was adopted.

As a further step the board authorized Commissioner Newby to meet with Alfred S. Austrian, representing the bank holding the judgments, and Attorneys George W. Lennon and Holland M. Cassidy, who are acting for Schuyler, Weinfeld & Parker in passing on the validity of the budget.

Attorney Announces Delay.

After a two hour conference Attorney Lennon declared that the opinion will not be delivered until late in the week. This means that the county may not be able to procure funds until Jan. 28, after salaries for the last half of the month have fallen due, it was pointed out.

The principal objections to the 1930 budget are the 10 months' pay basis for employés and possibility of siphoning funds from one appropriation to another. Commissioner Newby predicted the return of a favorable opinion, declaring the budget the most nearly perfect ever passed by the board. Attorney Lennon said that no indication of the tenor of the opinion has yet been reached.

DETROIT FORCE NEEDS 400 MORE POLICE; AND $12,353,000 BUDGET

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 6.—[Special.]—Because of the city's rapid increase in population, the Detroit police department will need $12,353,000 in next year's budget, an increase of $2,000,000, Police Commissioner Rutledge said today. The increase will provide, among other items, four hundred new patrolmen, ten additional policewomen, a new precinct station. There are now approximately 3,100 police employés, of which the number assigned to the uniformed street patrol is 2,642.

CHICAGO COMPARISON.

The appropriation for Chicago's police department was cut from $17,356,800 for 1929 to $16,135,070 for 1930, a reduction of $1,231,730 which caused the dismissal of 473 young policemen. Chicago's population was estimated at 3,212,000 as of July 1, 1929, while Detroit's population was 1,378,900 as of July 1, 1928.

TOWN ASSESSORS PROMISE EARLY TAX BOOK ACTION

Country town assessors who have not turned in their field books to the board of assessors, thereby delaying completion of the reassessment, yesterday promised Harry S. Cutmore, director of appraisals, that all their books would be in within three days.

If this promise is kept, tax officials pointed out, the board of review may be able to complete its work within twenty days. With ten days required for the extension of taxes in the county clerk's office and an additional ten days required for the drafting of the tax bills, the 1928 tax bills may be ready for mailing to the taxpayers by Feb. 20. Officials admitted this was an optimistic prediction.

The board of review last night held the first of a number of night sessions, but only a few of the complainants summoned appeared to protest assessments.

Slain Policeman's Star Hung in Chief's Office

The star of Policeman Michael Langan, who was slain last Thursday by three bandits who tried to rob a north side soft drink parlor, was pinned yesterday in the glass covered case which hangs on the wall in the office of Commissioner of Police Russell. The star is the 145th to be placed in the case, which has been kept since 1905, and occupies the last position. The first star hung up was that of Sergt. Richard Cummings, who was shot on May 1, 1905, during the teamsters' strike.

Fined for Playing Sidewalk Radio at Wrong Hours

Veto Lunetto, radio dealer at 403 West Oak street, was fined $25 by Judge Alfred O. Erickson in the Chicago avenue court yesterday for operating a radio loud speaker on the sidewalk before 9 a. m. and after 6 p. m. Lunetto was arraigned on the complaint of forty girl residents of a boarding house at 411 West Oak street, who claimed the continual playing of the radio prevented their sleeping.

HUNT SOFT SPOTS IN VAIN TO CUT SCHOOL BUDGET

Trustees Also Face More Payless Paydays.

The elimination of fourteen bureaus in the educational department at a saving of $2,250,000 was taken under consideration yesterday by the school board's finance committee. The possible budget trim was outlined by Superintendent of Schools William J. Bogan, who asked that it be rejected. The committee is expected to act on the proposal tomorrow.

At the same time, school officials contemplated the immediate financial troubles, with another payless pay day for the 12,000 school teachers. President Caldwell said he did not know where he could borrow the required $1,850,000 for the teachers. Last month they were paid four days late, after $3,100,000 had been borrowed through an extra legal expedient.

Revision Is Upward.

At yesterday's three hour meeting the committee failed to make a change in the tentative school budget. The efforts so far to reduce the budget to meet the revenues, after ten hours of work by the school trustees have resulted in a net increase of $612,344 instead of a decrease.

The total budget amounts to more than $87,000,000. The educational fund appropriation, which the committee tried to trim yesterday, is $53,219,-984. In addition, last year's deficit of $1,948,782 must be absorbed, raising the educational fund requirements to $55,268,147. Available revenues for this fund are estimated at $53,939,965. Therefore, if the fund is to be budgeted within the available revenues, it must be cut $7,328,182.

Where Cuts Are Discussed.

Yesterday's suggested cut in the educational department, in addition to the elimination of 14 bureaus, would save $172,400 by dropping various administration assistants, including three district superintendents. The bureaus which would be abolished and the amounts saved are:

Vacation schools [elementary]	$178,000
Vacation schools [high]	446,200
Evening schools	700,000
Library	100,000
Americanization	26,100
Penny lunches	139,750
Baths	264,230
Community centers	49,705
Social instruction	14,400
Compulsory education	37,000
Safety	8,645
Visual education	33,640
Vocational guidance	145,272
Visiting teachers	32,000

Supt. Bogan said the adoption of this plan would wreck the school system. Since several trustees agreed the economy measure would be unwise, it was regarded as doubtful that it will be approved.

The board plans to pass the budget by Jan. 14. Then it must wait until Jan. 22, when the city council is expected to pass the tax levy ordinance before it can borrow on the 1930 tax anticipation warrants. For several weeks President Caldwell has been searching for a market for his warrants, without success. He said the loop bankers have refused to advance any more money to the board until the school indebtedness is reduced.

The school treasury now has only a few thousand dollars—not enough to pay last month's bills, according to the auditor's figures. During the next thirty days the board must meet obligations of approximately $5,000,000. The pay roll dates are as follows:

Jan. 15—Civil service	$ 400,000
Jan. 24—Teachers	1,850,000
Jan. 31—Civil service	400,000
Feb. 7—Teachers	1,800,000

In addition to the pay rolls, bills amounting to $800,000 must be paid.

Free Love Disciples Married in Morals Court

Take Up Collection

Miss Jeanette Meyer, 21 years old, 6051 Ellis avenue, and Lawrence Kincaid, 23 years old, 4516 Beacon street, were legally married yesterday after a short fling at free love. They were married in the Morals court by Judge Herbert G. Immenhausen, before whom they appeared on a disorderly conduct charge brought by Jeanette's mother.

The two, it appeared, had been on the point of going to New York to live without the formality of a marriage, but when Judge Immenhausen, believing in their sincerity, made a satisfactory explanation why marriage would be much better, they consented. Even the bridegroom's lack of cash proved no barrier. Bailiffs, state's attorney, judge, and every one chipped in until there was enough for a license and flowers, and even a savings nest egg.

Another couple fared not so well in the court of Judge Francis Allegretti. Edward Jones, 19 years old, 818 East 64th street, charged with having lured Vivian Radcliffe, 15 years old, daughter of Fred W. Radcliffe, 6525 Woodlawn avenue, wealthy contractor and part owner of the Shoreland hotel, to a Gary rooming house under the pretense of marrying her, was arraigned on charges of rape and contributing to the delinquency of a minor. When Judge Allegretti suggested a marriage the girl's father declared. "I'd rather see my daughter in her coffin." The case was continued to Jan. 11.

PAYS ALIMONY SO FRIENDSHIP CAN CONTINUE

Rather than break a friendship of many years' standing, Joseph C. Little, head of the Metropolitan School of Music, 5924 Division street, yesterday consented to pay his estranged wife, Mrs. Georgette Little, $65 a week temporary alimony and $200 in solicitors' fees. Mrs. Little is suing for separate maintenance, charging that continual criticism of her by her husband's friend, George Ball, 3336 Division street, had converted her husband into a cynic and a grouch in his effort to be master in his own home. When Little refused to stay away from his friend in order to restore harmony in his family life Superior Judge Sabath ordered him to make the payments.

WINNETKA MAN IS FOREMAN OF NEW GRAND JURY

The January grand jury was sworn in yesterday and Daniel F. Stilling, 159 Bertling lane, Winnetka, was chosen as the foreman. The jury was given no special instructions, but it is expected to hear testimony in the civil service commission investigation as well as in the renewed sanitary district quiz.

PARKS' FINANCIAL HORIZON CLOUDY, GOVERNOR TOLD

Emmerson Confers with New Commissioners.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Gov. Emmerson was told yesterday by his new commissioners that the Lincoln park board and the west park board may have their own share of financial difficulties along with the other local governments.

The departing Small administrations of the two systems—because their leave taking was imminent, possibly—had not joined in the general plea for relief and an impression had been created that at least the parks were free from serious money troubles.

But when the governor spent the morning with Warren Wright and other north siders recently appointed as commissioners and with W. R. James, president, and other members of the west park board, he listened to preliminary reports on finances that were said to be discouraging.

Will Start Investigation.

Asked about this subject, the governor merely said it would be gone into immediately.

"We'll know all about it in a few days," he said.

But in the neighborhood of his hotel suite it was reported that the Lincoln park board is about $500,000 short of its usual revenue and that the West park board has borrowed $3,000,000 on its 1928 taxes—as yet uncollected—and another $3,000,000 in anticipation warrants against its 1929 taxes.

Gov. Emmerson repeated his previous statement that he could not discuss the budget troubles of the city, the school board and the county because nothing had been brought to him officially on this score. He said none of the local governments has presented a proposal for a special session of the legislature and that he did not expect to hear from the Strawn relief committee until it has a definite program for his consideration.

Opposes More Bonds.

He was asked specifically about Ald. Oscar Nelson's declaration that a special session should be called and asked to vote the city authority to issue $19,000,000 in bonds without a referendum.

"You know what my position always has been about bonds without a referendum," he answered.

That position has been one of hostility.

The west park board, President James said, will meet this afternoon to complete the business begun at its first brief meeting last week. This is expected to include the election of a vice president and a secretary, and there were renewed reports that Hugh H. Smith, a stanch Emmerson man for years, will be put in immediately as superintendent.

Will Delay Appointments.

The Lincoln park board's regular monthly meeting comes tomorrow and Mr. Wright will be elected president and other officers probably will be chosen from among the commissioners. Appointment of executive employés is to be deferred.

"The governor asked us to give a business administration of the board's affairs," said Mr. Wright, "and we assured him we would put forth our best efforts to do so. Nothing was said about appointments except that Gov. Emmerson asked us to proceed carefully along this line. Changes will be made gradually and will not be begun until after we get our bearings."

At today's meeting of the county board an effort will be made to elect Mrs. Bessie M. Gibson, widow of John W. Gibson, as her husband's successor on the board. Such a resolution has been prepared by Commissioner Netteihorst and is said to have the backing of a number of commissioners, both Republican and Democrats; but there also were rumors that there will be opposition on grounds that there is no necessity for filling the vacancy and that leaving the place open would be a saving, even though slight, to the county.

Two new candidates for membership on the Republican county central committee appeared yesterday. Fred B. Heiser, former chief clerk in Attorney General Carlstrom's office, indicated he may run for the vacancy in the Twelfth ward, caused by the death of Sanitary Trustee L. F. King; and it was reported that William V. Maina may run in the Seventeenth ward. He is known as one of the original Emmerson men in that ward.

ROCHE WARNS 2 THAT DEATH WILL FOLLOW BOMBING

Mike de Pike Heitler, well known vice lord who has turned racketeer, and James Belcastro, who is now under indictment in connection with an alleged bombing ring, were warned yesterday by Chief Investigator Pat Roche that a bombing of any gasoline filling station would result in an inquest. And he told them that their bodies would be the subject of the coroner's inquiry. They were then told to go about their business.

Sergt. Arthur Wentzel had arrested them along with John Genero and Paul Fligelman, president of the Filling Station Owners' association, 809 West Madison street. James Matusek, 882 North Marshfield avenue, owner of a filling station at 802 South Western avenue, made the complaint which brought about the raid.

Matusek said he was asked to join the association and when he refused he was told that a "pineapple" might persuade him. Neither Heitler nor Belcastro was present when the threat was made, but they are reported to be the leaders in the association.

URGE ALDERMEN TO SPEED ACTION ON TRANSIT JOB

Citizens' Committee Raps Long Delay.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The citizens' transit committee, of which James Simpson is chairman, yesterday issued a sharp protest against the delay in solving the local transportation question. It was a letter to Ald. Joseph B. McDonough, chairman of the council local transportation committee, which is urged to get busy immediately on three lines.

"Many projected public improvements are being delayed because of the city's financial inability to carry them forward," reads the letter. "Transportation, however, presents an outstanding development that can proceed immediately. Money can be made readily available for the purpose of building subways, which money can be released as soon as certain decisions can be made.

"The delay in making these decisions is nothing short of criminal, inasmuch as if a decision is made to build subways immediately, there will not only be a decided progress for the city as a whole, but the construction will afford employment to many citizens of Chicago who are willing to work.

Says Transportation Lags.

"It has been three years this month since the franchises of the surface lines expired. In the interim, no extensions have been made. Major rapid transit trunks have not been started. Improvements have been limited. New cars have been few. The transit facilities are getting farther and farther behind the city's needs."

"Neither city nor companies have yet done their full part," says the letter. "While each may plausibly contend it is waiting on the other, the fact is that each has questions to meet, decisions to make and difficulties to iron out before it can place convincingly on the other side the complete responsibility of delaying an agreement."

What Committee Urges.

In outlining the three steps which the citizens' committee urges the city to take, the letter to the council committee says:

"FIRST. While the financiers have have been studying their problem, your subcommittee has proceeded with diligence with the drafting of those provisions of a new ordinance which do not depend directly upon a financial plan. In this it has had the advice of the legal and engineering representatives of the different interests. The financial sections, while of the utmost importance, are relatively few. The greater portion of the ordinance has been phrased. In it, however, are certain sections upon which the draftsmen have been unable to agree. There are other provisions which also must have public consideration and action by your committee. It would be an inexcusable waste of time to postpone tentative determination of these matters until after the comparatively few financial sections are presented.

"SECOND. No decision has been announced of what agency will pay the cost of removing pipes, wires and conduits now in the streets which will be utilized by subways. A decision on that question can be made without much delay. There are only three major utilities with properties in the streets, the electric and gas companies, of which Samuel Insull is the managerial influence, and the telephone company, of which Bernard E. Sunny is the dominating factor. Both are deeply interested in a prompt and proper solution of the transportation problem, which necessarily involves subway construction.

"THIRD. The new ordinance provides for the construction of a certain amount of central subways to be owned and built by the city. The ordinance in its present form contemplates that the location and character of the subway shall be set forth in an attached exhibit, and also that a separate subway ordinance shall be adopted. Effective work along this line has been limited.

"What is needed in the first instance is not a fully perfected subway ordinance, but the essential outlines of such an ordinance and of the physical plan of subway construction. Without those two outlines, the ordinance cannot be finished and the financial plan cannot be completed.

"The scheme of financing subways is primarily the problem of the city. It has been suggested that the subway cost be met by the city's traction fund and by contributions of abutting property owners or special assessments. Whether a special assessment can be lawfully levied depends very largely upon the character of the subway, according to the legal advice of the citizens' committee. The method of special assessment can only be applied through the agency of the board of local improvements.

"It would, therefore, seem to be essential that your committee request the board of local improvements to prepare and present a preliminary outline of a subway ordinance.

"May your attention also be called to the city's traction fund. It is essential that so much of it as may be currently needed for subways shall not continue to be diverted to investments in tax anticipation warrants. We have been informed that the present investment of this 57 to 58 million dollars will permit adequate cash to be made available for subways when needed."

Criticizes Companies.

The citizens' committee also criticizes the transportation companies for delaying the appointment of a reorganization committee. The letter says they were urged to act last March when the enabling legislation was presented to the legislature. Another plea was made when the new laws became effective. But the bankers' committee was not appointed until last November. The letter says: "We regard as unfortunate for all interests concerned that our recommendation was not acted upon more promptly by the companies."

Hoosier Mayors Seated Amid a Barrage of Rivals' Claims

Hoosier politics was never so muddled as yesterday when the newly elected city officials were installed in communities all over the state.

Especially in northern Indiana cities was there confusion, with contests raging in several cities over the installation of mayors.

There had been talk of violence, of riots and the calling in of police reserves by determined mayors confident of their rights to take or hold their offices, but the day went off in the customary Hoosier fashion, which is to file many petitions, suits, writs for injunctions, writs of mandamus and what have you, and to spend thousands of words but no force of arms.

Two Mayors in Whiting.

In Whiting, by extraordinary agreement, there were two mayors put in charge of city government while the courts thrash out the question of who is the lawful executive.

The principal scene of the Hoosier drama, however, was in Gary, where Roswell O. Johnson celebrated a victory after a seven years' campaign for vindication. Johnson, mayor seven years ago, went to the federal penitentiary at Atlanta for conspiring to violate the prohibition law. He was given an absolute pardon by President Coolidge and immediately set about running again for his old office.

Johnson received 13,026 votes in the election, winning by 4,000 over Emmet N. White, his Democratic opponent. And it seemed yesterday that all of the 13,026 voters came to the new Gary city hall to greet their new mayor. The crowd jammed into the hall hours before noon, the time set for the ceremonies, and would not disband until all had filed past, in a procession lasting two hours, to shake the mayor's hand.

Other Claimants Present.

There were three claimants to the mayor's office in Gary, and all these were present at noon. The outgoing mayor, Henry G. Hay, and Emmet White, the two other claimants, contented themselves, however, with making formal demands for the office, thus setting up their legal claims, and then they retired.

The tensity of the situation resulted in the collapse of Mayor Johnson.

Immediately after noon, when Mayor Hay turned his keys over to Mayor Johnson, the latter sat down at his desk. He leaned back heavily in his swivel chair and would have tipped over if he had not been caught.

"I'll have to get a stronger chair—I'm going to use it four years," he muttered. He had a number of appointments for his cabinet prepared for his signature, and a pen was handed to him. When he saw the name of the first—it was that of his 26 year old son, Roswell B. Johnson, the new city attorney—he began to tremble, the pen fell from his shaking fingers, his nose glasses fell to the desk, and at last the mayor's head dropped to his arm as he shook with sobs. His wife, who was the calmest person in the room, caressed him gently until he recovered his poise.

Then he went to the window, facing on Gary's Broadway, and waved to the crowd below. After another rest he insisted that his supporters be permitted to file through the office.

At first Mayor Johnson sat behind his desk, and the crowd was hustled by, but as he noticed old friends going by he disregarded his physician's advice and pushed up to the line, finally shaking hands with all who came.

Case Before Court.

In Whiting Thomas S. Boyle, Democrat, took the office of mayor after agreeing that he would consult Walter Schrage, retiring mayor, on all patronage and policy matters, and before performing any official acts. Meanwhile Schrage and Boyle await the action of the court on their claims for the office. Joseph McNamara, the youthful Schrage protégé, who had been declared elected by three votes, died before he could take office, and Boyle claims he received more votes than McNamara.

At Michigan City, Mayor Fred C. Miller declined to recognize Mayor Elect Harry B. Tuthill, who plans to establish offices of his own and ignore Miller. The latter claims office because he was mayor nine years ago, before the city took up the manager form of government which was outlawed by the Indiana Supreme court. Tuthill filed a petition for an order to restrain Miller's government from using city funds. Miller kept a guard of police around the city offices.

At Valparaiso, Mayor Elect Harold J. Schenck took office, while the retiring mayor, Louis F. Leetz, waited action on a suit protesting Schenck's right to hold office on the ground the election inspectors were hand picked.

Mayor Raleigh P. Hale of East Chicago succeeded himself yesterday, and today he will go on trial with forty others charged with conspiracy to violate the prohibition law.

RAID ON GUSICK OFFICE NETS ONLY EMPTY FURNITURE

Raiding the alleged loop headquarters of Jack Gusick, Capone henchman, at 64 West Randolph street yesterday, yielded nothing to Chief Investigator Patrick Roche of the state's attorney's office which would support the much-touted theory that the place was the rendezvous of a gang of saloon terrorists. Only the calm figure of Harry Gusick, Jack's brother, and a pair of empty desks greeted the raiders.

Instead of the place where the Capone gangsters meet to plot dire deeds and clean weapons, it was reported that the rooms, suite 900 of the Garrick Theater building, are but a quiet spot where the Gusick boys and their friends retire for a game of hearts or pinochle when the beer business is slack.

It was revealed coincident with the raid, however, that federal agents are eyeing the reported vast receipts of the Gusicks on the theory that the government has not had its fair share of income tax.

RAILWAY INJURIES FATAL.

Henry Hague, 50 years old, 4838 Crystal street, died yesterday in the Frances Willard hospital of injuries received when he slipped and fell under a Chicago & Great Western railroad freight car in the yards at Larrabee avenue and Taylor street, where he was working as a car inspector.

"Tend to Your Knitting"

When It Comes To Your Wardrobe

For the knitted frock has become a factor of new importance in the breath-taking style changes which have ridden in with the winter. It has taken its place with the best of them—and has developed a hitherto unsuspected personality.

Here are two frocks, decidedly different from the knitted frock we knew a season ago, that have lost none of their practicality in acquiring a chic, swaggering sophistication. And the price makes them more fascinating:

$12.50 Each

That at the left is a gay jacquard weave in colors that belie its simple lines—which, by the way, are beautifully tailored—with low-set godets all around, a narrow, high placed belt, and a pique collar.

The other is an intriguing stocking weave stripe in interesting color combinations with godets ending in diagonal tucks—and a tight waistline in back achieved by more tucks. Both come in sizes from 14 years to 40.

Fourth Floor, South.

An Important Debut— Jersey Crepe Makes Its Bow

And bids fair to be the most successful of the jersey family. In this Sports frock it is embroidered in lovely colors in scroll design on the blouse and sleeves, where a band of matching silk crepe is inset. The skirt is set in wide box pleats all around. It may be had in yellow or beige. Sizes for both misses and women.

Femininity Enlists Embroidery In Its New Modes

Another "old fashion" comes back to life at the instigation of the graciousness and femininity of current styles, and smartly lends a formal touch to this Moderate Price frock of silk crepe—for contrasting bands on its sleeves are embroidered in metal threads. Black, green, blue, hacienda. Sizes from 14 years to 42.

ROME IN TUMULT; TIME NEARS FOR PRINCESS TO WED

Endless String of Parties Marks Festivities.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Jan. 6.—With stag hunting and receptions, the nuptial saga of King Albert's daughter, the snow princess of Flanders, wore on today. There was royal pantomime and pomp amid the turbulence and festal tumult of Mussolinitand's capital. The wedding takes place Wednesday.

The assembled wedding guests danced late last night at an intimate party given at the Villa Savoy, but early this morning they went to King Victor Emmanuel's big game preserve at Castle Porziana, where they killed about 150 deer, which had been turned loose in the pine forests of the preserve. They gave the carcasses to Rome hospitals. Prince Humbert, who learned to shoot with accuracy and skill on his last African trip, brought down five stags.

Princess Visits Ruins.

The Belgian sovereigns and Princess Marie Jose did not attend the hunt. Queen Elizabeth and the princess stayed in Rome visiting ruins, and when the people saw the princess they exclaimed, "How pretty she is!" King Albert also spent the morning in Rome.

Plain clothes policemen were picketed around the game preserve to protect the royal hunters and huntresses in their scarlet costumes.

Late this afternoon the environs of the Quirinal palace were aflutter again when the king and queen of Italy, with Crown Prince Humbert, in the throneroom and surrounded by members of the court, received Premier Mussolini and delgeations representing the grand Fascist council, the senate, and chamber of deputies in their annual New Year's visit of greeting. Premier Mussolini wore his prime minister's uniform, and the others were in state dress.

Addresses of Homage.

State gala coaches formed a procession through the streets. Augusto Turati, secretary of the Fascist party, heading the grand council delegation, read an address of homage to the sovereigns. Then President Federzoni of the senate and a delegation of thirty senators, and President Giurati of the chamber, with thirty deputies, paid their respects and read addresses. Premier Mussolini talked for some time to King Victor Emmanuel. This reception was strictly a governmental affair.

The grand climax of today's events was reached tonight with a solemn reception at 9:30 o'clock, to which were invited all members of the court, all those who wear the collar of Annunziata, all members of the diplomatic corps, and Premier Mussolini and all high government officials, state functionaries, judges, army commanders, and party leaders. Until midnight a long line of carriages discharged elaborately uniformed dignitaries and elegantly dressed women at the palace doors.

All Wedding Guests Present.

The wedding guests have now all reached Rome, but it seems they are only the twilight of royalty. Of the reigning sovereigns, there are present, besides King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium, only King Boris of Bulgaria, the grand duchess of Luxumberg, and the prince of Monaco.

Others present include former King Manuel and Queen Amelia of Portugal, Prince Daniel of Montenegro, the duke of York, Don Fernando of Bourbon, Prince Paul and Princess Olga of Jugo-Slavia, former Queen Sophia of Greece and other Greek princes and princesses, Princess Victoria Napoleon, Prince Louis Napoleon, the archduke and duchess of Austria, Princess Ruprecht of Bavaria, the duchess of Vendome, Princess Elena of Russia, Princess Anna of Battenburg, and Mohammed Pasha, representing King Fuad of Egypt.

Prince Ruprecht Absent.

Prince Ruprecht of Bavaria, who is a close relative of the queen of the Belgians, was invited to the wedding but declined to come. He and King Albert broke off relations at the beginning of the world war and have not yet renewed them. Princess Ruprecht, however, who was Antoinette of Luxumberg, came along. King Alfonso of Spain is not represented by any members of his immediate family. The Spanish ambassador here is doing the honors for Spain at the wedding.

The diplomatic corps has taken up a collection for a joint wedding present. The American embassy subscribed $50. Ambassador and Mrs. John W. Garrett and several members of the American embassy were present at tonight's big reception.

King Victor Emmanuel announced today that he would give away $25,000 in honor of his son's marriage. This sum will be used as dowries for young brides of poor families. He did the same thing when his daughter, Princess Yolanda, married Count Calvo di Bergoll.

Premier Mussolini attended tonight's reception at Quirinal palace again in another capacity, for besides being prime minister he also wears the collar of Annunziata, which makes him a cousin of King Victor Emmanuel.

Rome Flooded with Visitors.

If the invited royal guests have not turned up in numbers, the influx of other visitors to Rome for the ceremonies is enormous. The main railroad station for three days has been a turbine of humanity. Circulation in the city has become almost impossible.

Five thousand peasants from all provinces have been brought here for tomorrow's big costume parade, as well as 1,000 animals, including horses, camels, monkeys, and elephants.

tion were gathering in Washington for a meeting tomorrow, the first since the holiday prohibition storm broke. Today Judge Kenneth Mackintosh, chairman of the commission's committee on penal institutions, met with his advisory committee of prison experts, but a brief statement, issued following the session, said not a word about prohibition.

Although the commission members are silent, the capital of late has been filled with rumors of a wide split on the prohibition question among the eleven men and women chosen by the President to find a remedy for public lawlessness. At least one member of the commission is said to be ready to resign if the commission yields to the demand of the drys for an immediate prohibition report. Another is said to be angered over the secrecy of the commission's activities.

Jury Finds Dry Law Feeble.

Washington's local prohibition troubles cropped up anew today when the October District of Columbia grand jury, in its final report, laid at the door of prohibition most of the cases of crime committed in the district.

This was the second time within a year that a local grand jury has pointed specifically to the national prohibition act as a responsible factor in the majority of criminal cases.

CANADA ANSWERS "NO!"

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Jan. 6.—Canada will try to get legislation through its house of commons to prohibit the export of liquor into the United States, but she will not enter into any Canadian-American pact to sanction a border booze patrol of ten thousand men with as many rifles and a thousand machine guns.

This is the reaction of the Canadian authorities to dispatches from Washington stating that a plan had been unfolded there to Vincent Massey, Canadian minister, involving the creation of an American border booze army. Canada may be said to be alarmed by the suggestion, which, it is felt here, would cause international misunderstandings and strife sooner or later.

Even Drys Oppose Plan.

The posting of such an army along the border, with rifles and machine guns, is considered here to constitute a monstrous potential hazard to the increasingly large tourist traffic, a real menace to peace, and a sad climax to the Canadian-American boast of four thousand miles of unguarded frontier. Should such a pact be sanctioned and given effect, it is prophesied that sooner or later some Canadian blood would be sacrificed to machine gun or rifle fire of the prohibition army, and grave consequences arise.

It is not believed here that even the strongest Canadian prohibition sentiment would sanction such border patrol and it is feared that even the mere suggestion of it may injure the chances of the liquor export prohibition bill in the Canadian house of commons and senate at the session of parliament opening about four weeks hence.

COUNT KAROLYI IN U. S., FREE TO AIR VIEWS

New York, Jan. 6.—[Special.]—Declaring that his one great aim in life was the overthrow of the Horthy dictatorship in Hungary, Count Michael Karolyi today entered the United States after he had been repeatedly barred by the state department at the instance of the dictatorship which he hopes to overthrow.

He entered the country with full liberty to express his revolutionary socialistic ideals and declared that he would take the fullest opportunity to do so.

Two years ago when Count Karolyi came to the United States he entered under a state department ban that he was not publicly to express his ideas.

Vet's Wife, Roomer Elope; Woman Held for Bigamy

Carrying his two small children in his arms, Daniel Stewart, 35 years old, decorated war veteran, appeared in Morals court yesterday as complaining witness against his wife, Margaret, and their roomer, Thomas Costee, 31 years old, who eloped and were married two weeks ago. Judge Herbert G. Immenhausen held the woman for bigamy and the roomer for adultery, and threatened to cite Mrs. Stewart for contempt of court when she cursed Stewart before the bench.

STRANGER KILLED BY TRAIN.

An unidentified man, about 35 years old, was killed last night when he stepped in front of a north bound Chicago and North Western railroad passenger train at Addison and Avondale avenues. The body was taken to a morgue at 4237 Elston avenue.

Deaf Hear Again Through New Aid

Earpiece No Bigger Than Dime Wins Enthusiastic Following Ten-Day Free Trial Offer

After twenty-five years devoted exclusively to the manufacture of scientific hearing-aids, the Dictograph Products Co., Inc., Dept. 509M, 180 North Michigan Blvd., Chicago, Ill., has just perfected a new model Acousticon that represents the greatest advance yet made in the recreation of hearing for the deaf. This latest Acousticon is featured by a tiny earpiece no bigger than a dime. Through this device, sounds are clearly and distinctly transmitted to subnormal ears with wonderful benefit to hearing and health alike. The makers offer an absolutely free trial for 10 days to any person who may be interested, and a letter will bring one of these remarkable aids to your home for a thorough and convincing test. 10 Coast Guards Admit They Got Drunk on Seized Liquor

New London, Conn., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Showing a disposition to plead guilty and accept their punishment, ten coast guardsmen of the 39 involved in the theft and drinking of liquor from a captured rum runner had appeared before a general court-martial when it adjourned late today.

The ten, whose names were not made public, admitted their guilt in becoming intoxicated the night the Flor Del Mar, with its cargo of 4,000 cases of whisky, was being unloaded. The ten were sent to their ships.

The court, made up of Commander M. J. Ryan, president; Lieutenant Commander Charles T. Henley, and Lieut. G. E. McCabe, with Lieut. J. S. Rosenthal acting as official prosecutor, will resume its hearings tomorrow.

Sentences imposed on the guardsmen who faced the court will not be disclosed until they have been reviewed by the secretary of the treasury. Commander Ryan, however, said 15 of the 39 guardsmen who are charged with pilfering cargo from the Flor Del Mar are liable to dishonorable discharges, while the other 24 men, charged with intoxication, are liable to a maximum sentence of 30 days' restriction, ten of which may be on bread and water.

As a result of the investigation conducted following the liquor thefts, Capt. H. H. Wolf, fleet commander, said 56 unopened quarts, 13 unopened pints, and four unopened sacks of liquor had been recovered.

Quiz Suspended Guard.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Edward F. Foley, 64 year old customs guard under suspension pending official presentation of charges of intoxication and misconduct while guarding the captured rum runner Black Duck in Pawtuxet Cove, R. I., visited the office of Moses B. Mann, deputy surveyor of the port, here today. He was subjected to a brief, informal questioning.

Wilfred F. Lufkin, collector of customs, said today charges against Foley would not be presented officially to Washington until after a formal report on the incident from Rhode Island officials had reached his desk, presumably some time tomorrow.

Foley was suspended yesterday after the collector had investigated reports that while in an intoxicated condition he had brandished a revolver before persons who attempted to quiet him.

The Black Duck is being held under guard pending the investigation of killing of three rum runners aboard her by coast guards a week ago.

Rum Runners Active Again.

Portsmouth, R. I., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Renewed activities by rum runners in smuggling liquor into this state through the lower bay or Sakonnet river, despite the killing of three members of the crew of the Black Duck by coast guardsmen a week ago yesterday, was indicated today with the seizure of 250 cases of liquor and a truck on the South Shore road, Little Compton, by two state troopers.

The bags in which the bottled liquor had been packed were wet, police said, indicating that a boat had unloaded a cargo of contraband during the night and that most of the liquor had probably been carted away in other trucks before the arrival of the state police.

Boy Didn't Know It Was Loaded; Shoots Mother

Wales Comes Up for Air as Stormy Seas Abate

S. S. KENILWORTH CASTLE, Jan. 6.—(AP)—The prince of Wales, traveling to South Africa for a hunting trip, came on deck today for his first lounge since leaving Southampton. Calm weather succeeded the violent storms that have buffeted the ship since she entered the Bay of Biscay

DORAN CHANGES RULE FOR MIXING VARNISH ALCOHOL

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Instructions that alcohol used in making varnishes and lacquers must be further denatured were issued today by Prohibition Commissioner Doran.

It was reported to the commissioner that ethyl alcohol used in the manufacture of varnishes and lacquer is being converted by bootleggers and used for beverage purposes.

The new orders provide that to every 100 gallons of ethyl alcohol four gallons of denatured wood alcohol and ten gallons of normal butyl alcohol, or refined fusel oil or amyl alcohol be added.

Doran said he believes the new ingredients will end the conversion.

BOY STEALS BARRIER LIGHTS.

Frank Kruse, 17 years old, 7011 Cornell avenue, was arraigned in the Boys' court yesterday on a charge of disorderly conduct after he had been found driving an automobile bearing two red lanterns taken from a street barrier. Judge Francis Allegretti paroled Kruse to his father until April 4.

U. S. MOVES TO TRY FIVE FOR FRAUD IN TAXES

Government prosecution of five alleged tax dodgers moved forward yesterday when Federal Judge Wilkerson overruled demurrers to tax fraud indictments against Gene Oliver, member of the board of assessors; Oliver J. Ellis, Chicago Heights slot machine operator; and Ralph Capone, brother of "Scarface" Al.

Judge Wilkerson, on motion of Assistant United States Attorneys Jacob Grossman and Dwight H. Green, set Capone's case for trial Feb. 10 and continued the others generally to be called on five days' notice. Tax charges against Terry Druggan and Frankie Lake, also arraigned yesterday, were continued under the same condition.

The five defendants are charged with evading income tax payments of approximately $600,000, with Druggan, Lake, and Capone also indicted for alleged false statements in compromise offers.

BABY BREWERY TURNS OUT BEER ON U. S. LINER

Machine Is Sealed as Ship Nears N. Y.

New York, Jan. 6.—[Special.]—The United States lines revealed their own "noble experiment" with prohibition today when the liner George Washington docked at Hoboken.

It seems that a seagoing brewery had been installed on the ship to quench the thirst of third class passengers. Twenty barrels of beer taken aboard at Hamburg were not enough to satisfy them on New Year's eve. They had to run the brewery, a new development in things alcoholic, day and night.

Pleased with Results.

Joseph E. Sheedy, president of the United States Lines, Inc., hurried to see the brewery as soon as the George Washington docked. Reporters met him at the pier and told him that Capt. G. A. Moloney had denied the existence of such a plant.

Mr. Sheedy smilingly admitted the brewery was working, and that he was quite pleased with the results.

"What of it?" he demanded. "It's within the law. When the ship is within the 12 mile limit the brewery is dismantled and sealed."

Then a Brewmaster Appears.

Reporters who met the George Washington were apprised of the existence of the brewery, which was installed at Hamburg by happy third class passengers. They explained that all the beer on the ship had been consumed on New Year's eve.

There was general mourning. Then a Moses appeared to lead the passengers out of the parched wilderness. He was Hans Kausler, reputed to be an experienced brewmaster. He started the brewery and beer began to flow once more into the long, dry steins. The "baby machine" turned out five barrels every 48 hours, which is full capacity.

According to passengers, the beauty of the machine is that materials may be taken aboard here for making beer and by the time the ship is outside the 12 mile limit it virtually is ready to be served.

PICK FOUR TO CONDUCT CENSUS IN COOK COUNTY

The Chicago Association of Commerce announced yesterday that, by agreement with Senator Deneen, it had forwarded to Washington for approval the nominations of four of the six supervisors who are to direct the 1930 census in Cook county.

H. L. Rockhill, Bradley hotel, for several years special agent in charge of federal census work in Chicago.

Mrs. Martin Kent Northam, 1043 Forrest avenue, Evanston.

John R. Malmquist, 801 North Taylor avenue, Oak Park, advertising research expert.

The association's statement said that the two additional names may be announced this week and that it is understood plans are under way for the selection of house-to-house enumerators by civil service examinations.

Merger of Owl Drug Co. and Liggetts Announced

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Merger of the Owl Drug company and Drug, Inc., holding company controlling Liggetts and other pharmaceutical companies, was announced here tonight by Carl A. Henry, president of the Pacific coast chain of drug stores. The merger will become effective immediately.

The Owl Drug company was organized in 1892 and has retail stores in the principal cities of the Pacific coast and middle west. Present plans, Henry disclosed, are to operate stores under the name of the Owl Drug company. He declined to announce the consideration involved.

Drug, Inc., is the controlling agency for Liggetts.

N. INDIANA RUM SCANDAL GETS TO SUPREME COURT

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—[Special.]—Northern Indiana's liquor and election scandals came before the United States Supreme court today in the form of a petition by Ralph B. Bradford of Gary, asking permission to bring mandamus proceedings against Federal Judge Thomas W. Slick of Hammond.

Bradford, who testified before the Lake county [Indiana] grand jury last September, is seeking to compel Judge Slick to reinstate his $100,000 suit against Senator James E. Watson [Rep., Ind.] and others for libel. Watson, according to Bradford, called him a "notorious liar and other scurrilous names."

Through his lawyer, Otto Gresham, Bradford alleged in his Supreme court petition that Judge Slick dismissed his suit for unwarranted reasons. The grounds given were that the court lacked jurisdicion.

Reviewing the Lake county scandals, the Bradford brief asserted that Judge Slick, Senator Watson, and M. Bert Thurman of Indianapolis, Republican national committeeman, had "conferred" and that the judge had promised nothing would become of the scandal investigations, except as to a few bootleggers and lesser lights, but "that no political officials would be indicted."

Methodists Seek 10 Million for World Service Work

The Methodist Episcopal church's campaign for $10,000,000 world service funds was launched yesterday at a luncheon of leaders at the Palmer house. Collection of the funds will begin in a few months in twenty-one districts throughout the country. To each district has been alloted a set amount. Bishop Edwin H. Hughes, chairman of the World Service committee, presided at the meeting yesterday. Other leaders present were the Rev. Drs. R. A. Ward, W. B. Farmer, W. S. Bovard, M. E. Davis, E. D. Kohlstedt, L. O. Hartman, O. W. Auman and E. T. Welch, lay member of the committee.

WOMAN FOUND DEAD.

Mrs. Mary A. Thoeney, 65, a tenant in the Revere hotel, 417 North Clark street, was found dead, supposedly of heart disease, in a rocking chair in her room yesterday by the hotel manager, Charles Moeller.

RUSSIANS OPEN 3-DAY WAR ON CHRISTMAS FETE

36,000 Atheists to Burn Religion in Effigy.

MOSCOW, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Atheistic and anti-religious societies generally throughout the soviet union today began a three-day onslaught against the Russian orthodox Christmas celebration, which begins tomorrow.

Communists wish to suppress Christmas entirely as a holiday and to make it an ordinary working day in factories, theaters, clubs, barracks, and schools, vigorous attacks against the church were made.

36,000 Atheists to Parade.

Thirty-six thousand atheists will march through the streets of Moscow tomorrow in a procession headed by a black hearse carrying the "corpse" of religion, which will be burned and scattered to the four winds. Miniature models of churches, mosques and synagogues will be carried on floats through the snow covered streets and will later be burned in a special ceremony.

Anti-religious carnivals lampooning Gods and religions will be held on twenty of Moscow's skating rinks and will be followed by a "physical culture holiday."

Spain's Children Get Toys.

MADRID, Jan. 6.—(AP)—The "three magi" halted in Spain last night, after adoring Jesus at Bethlehem, to fill children's stockings with drums, dolls, lead soldiers, locomotives, and the thousand and one things which may be found in the kingdom of toyland.

In Spain, as in most of the Spanish-American countries, the legend of Santa Claus gives place to the tradition of the Magi. At some time between the night of Jan. 5 and dawn of Jan. 6 the three wise men of the east imitate Santa by risking the soot of chimneys in order to deliver toys to good children.

Preparing the way for the arrival of the three eastern kings, gay processions paraded in the streets of this city during the night, singing and generally being merry.

Florence Celebrates Epiphany.

FLORENCE, Italy, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Florence's celebration of the epiphany, or befana, as it is called here, was enlivened this year by a city-wide contest for the construction of a shepherd's hut and manger and figures representing the three magi from the east, which bear the name of "capannuce" and are displayed on this day.

The provincial dopolavoro, or governmental welfare society, was in charge of the contest. They specified that the imitation countryside around the hut should be of painted plaster and fresh moss, the crib should be of wood, and the figures of the Infant Jesus, Mary, Joseph, the magi, the shepherds and the sheep and cattle, of papier mache.

The winning "capannuce" was an elaborate panorama, showing the hills of Bethlehem with the town in the distance. The foreground was the shepherd's hut, with the Infant Jesus' crib inside and the worshipping parents and wise men from the east around it. The figures were fashioned with a sculptor's skill. This "capannuce" was displayed today and thousands of mothers took their children to see it.

JURORS FREE PRISONER, JUDGE LECTURES THEM

Judge Jacob Hopkins in the Criminal court yesterday ordered a new jury from his courtroom after a not guilty verdict was returned in quick time in the case of Emmett Page, 19 years old. It was the first case heard by the jury, which was impanelled yesterday morning.

"This verdict is the most shameful one brought in by a jury in my courtroom in my experience of eighteen years on the bench," said the judge when he recovered from his surprise. "This verdict is a discredit to the community as well as to you men of the jury."

Page, as it turned out, was smarter than his attorney, who had made all arrangements to have him plead guilty. He balked at the plan and demanded a trial. He had been caught by Policemen Creeley and Hanley after he and two companions had dragged Stanley Miedz, 2944 North Springfield avenue, into a west side alley and stripped him of his coat and money. The policemen testified to arresting him just as he was taking off the stolen coat. Miedz identified him. The defendant said he "did not do it" and the jury believed him.

NOBLE RUSSIAN EXILES PUT OUT OF BERLIN HOMES

Appeal to League in Vain to Save Barracks.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 6.—Hundreds of Russian refugees today denounced the league of nations as they saw the roofs and walls of the wooden barracks in which they had been living literally torn down around them.

Simultaneously the German press protested the failure of the Nansen relief commission of the league, which has charge of the interests of these exiles, to help the Russians find homes in countries less poverty stricken than Germany.

Russian noblemen, once leaders of the czar's court, have spent their last years in these barracks, with the huskiest of them earning a living driving taxicabs and manufacturing cigarets, and sharing every cent they earned with the families huddled around them and stray countrymen too sick to work.

Refuses to Heed Pleas.

Owners of the barracks ordered the Russians to vacate because they were erecting new houses. The Russians appealed to the German, Herr Schlesinger, appointed by the league to take care of their interests, to find them a new asylum, but he refused to hear their pleas. They assert that he advised them to return to Russia, though they all know that the Russian secret service has issued orders to arrest and kill them.

Today was the Russian Chrjstmas eve. At 6 o'clock this morning workers broke into the barracks with a bailiff and tore down the roofs and walls around the wailing Russians.

Berlin police took pity on them. The former wife of Russia's famous composer, Rachmaninoff, who is a consumptive from exposure and undernourishment, and her two children; Gen. Fouss, brother-in-law of Gen. Rennenkampf, the Boxer uprising and Russo-Japanese war hero; the former civilian governor of Petrograd, Von Dittmar, and scores of others, were removed by the police in motor lorries to Berlin's oldest houses on Juedenstrasse.

Denounce League Representative.

The houses were condemned months ago but Berlin is broke and could not tear them down. Now they are an asylum for the helpless fugitives of soviet terror, and Berlin's policemen worked all day to help the Russians turn the crumbling rooms into livable quarters for their Christmas day.

Before leaving the old quarters the Russians held a protest meeting and vociferously denounced Herr Schlesinger. They accused him of being a mere tool of the soviets and of trying to lure the Russians back to certain death in Russian prisons.

APPOINTS MARKETING SPECIALIST.

U. S. TRADE HIT BY NEW AUSTRALIAN HIGH TARIFF BARS

Labor Government Seeks Work for 100,000.

BY JACK MYERS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CANBERRA, Australia, Jan. 6.—The new Australian labor government has successfully faced the difficulties of its first session in the federal parliament, and obtained a radical revision of the tariff. The labor party's policy has always been in favor of extreme protection, and it has not hesitated to make some of the new duties practically prohibitive. Many of these duties will seriously affect American trade with Australia and eliminate some items of United States exports to the commonwealth altogether.

Control of Gold Reserves.

The new tariff was introduced partly for the purpose of obtaining additional revenue, but its main objects were to provide additional assistance to Australian manufacturing industries and to lessen the serious unemployment problem by providing opportunities for the employment of 100,000 additional workers when the full effect of the restrictive duties is brought into operation.

The second most important measure introduced by the labor government was a bill empowering the Commonwealth bank, in the exercise of its central reserve functions, to concentrate all the gold reserves in Australia and to control exports of gold. The external exchange position had become acute. Large American and British firms trading with Australia, unable to remit funds abroad through the ordinary banking channels, were preparing to obtain gold from the Commonwealth bank in exchange for notes and ship it on their own account.

At present the amount of gold held by the Commonwealth and ordinary banks is $220,000,000, and fully half of this is "frozen" and not earning interest.

Abolish Compulsory Training.

Almost as soon as it took office the government announced that it proposed to abolish compulsory military training and substitute voluntary enlistment as a means of saving $750,000 annually. The Labor party initiated the system of the compulsory military training of the youth of Australia, and, therefore, it was somewhat surprising that it should have been abolished. The criticism of the action was severe, one member of parliament stating that the government had annihilated the whole defense system of Australia.

Will Develop Air Force.

The government contends that its reorganization will retain a sufficient nucleus of all services for all practical purposes. It proposes to develop the air force and to coördinate its work with the civil aviation side. The existing munitions factories will be maintained, and in other respects nothing will be done to diminish the efficiency of all branches of the defense department.

INVENTORY YOUR TERRITORIES, TOO

PEOPLE are important to business, to you, not in terms of How Many, but How Much. Per se it is not important that the incorporated area of Atlanta includes three hundred thousand or more people. Nor that the overnight circle encompasses eighteen million.

What these millions are able to buy is the important fact.

It has been estimated that an $8,000 income in Atlanta is the equivalent of a $12,000 income elsewhere,—for the Atlanta dollar buys a higher standard of living than elsewhere. In other words, the margin is greater for comforts, for luxuries—for the things you sell.

1929 Prosperity assures Big Southern Business in 1930

And this year you who sell luxuries and semi-luxuries will need more than ever to search out fields where your kind of goods can be bought.

This is inventory time. Make a careful analysis of your major territories. Find out the true purchasing power in each, the sales you are making in each, the sales you should be making in each.

The South is a vital market. Its purchasing power has trebled in the past ten years. It has far outrun the ability of statisticians to record the growth that is taking place. Yet you are apt to find your Southern volume under your expectations —unless you are operating from a branch in the South.

Modern marketing conditions have made it necessary to put a branch in each major market. Your trade expects "overnight" delivery —and your Southern trade looks to Atlanta, because fifteen main railroad lines reach most quickly to the whole rich territory and because America's outstanding concerns, already here, have created the habit.

Branch offices in Atlanta have a way of growing into branch factories. Improved distribution facilities increase volume, to the point where a branch factory becomes practical. Fundamental economies in the Atlanta Industrial Area make it an unusually desirable location, with efficient labor, plentiful raw materials, low taxes, low-cost power, low ground rents, low building costs, equable climate and many other factors all helping to lower production cost and increase profits.

Can we help you make your inventory of the South? The Atlanta Industrial Bureau is organized for the job. It is ready to go out and develop a first hand study especially for you without charge or obligation, and in the strictest confidence. The work will be started at once if you will write,

Send for this Booklet!
It contains the fundamental facts about Atlanta as a location for your Southern branch

ALLIES, GERMANY STRIKE NEW SNAG OVER WAR SWAG

Disagree When Young Plan Goes Into Effect.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

THE HAGUE, Jan. 6.—Following a secret meeting of the chief delegates of Germany, Great Britain, France, Italy, Belgium and Japan to the conference for the final adoption of the Young reparations plan Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the reichsbank, was summoned from Berlin tonight.

This announcement reveals that the allied powers are determined to proceed upon the principal task of settling the big question of German reparations and do not intend to wait for an agreement of the little entente group with Austria, Hungary and Bulgaria.

Viewpoints Differ.

The allies claim that it starts from the fifteenth of this month, and want the payments made in the middle of the month. Germany claims that the new plan dates from the first of the month, like the Dawes plan, and demands it be credited with 15 days' interest if the payments are moved up to the fifteenth of the month. The amount involved approximates $1,000,000 per annum over 37 years.

Germany insists that this be credited as reparations paid to the allies. The allies object that their final claims include this sum, and that it is, therefore, impossible to waive it.

Haggle Over Sanctions.

André Tardieu, premier of France and Julius Curtius, German foreign minister, are still haggling over military sanctions and what the French propose to do in case Germany defaults any payments, although Philip Snowden, British chancellor of the exchequer, has already announced that Great Britain does not intend to use any forceful measures to collect indemnity.

The German representatives are using the text of the reparations accord with the United States as an argument with the French, insisting that if Uncle Sam can accept Berlin's sincerity, so can Paris. But France is reluctant to abandon her rights under the Versailles treaty, which empowers the allies to take military measures in case the reparations are not made.

Johann Schober, Austrian chancellor, today said he is unable to reach any agreement with Austria's creditors, but Dr. Eduard Benes, Czecho-Slovakian foreign minister, declared that he is optimistic that some solution may be reached.

Parley May Adjourn.

In view of the tangled situation of these problems, it is expected that the conference will adjourn for further discussion of these claims at some future date, and concentrate on the German angle before it is forced to recess next week and give way to the five power naval conference in London.

It was announced today that Foreign Minister Briand of France will leave the Hague on Friday. He will go to Geneva for the league of nations council meeting on Monday. Premier Tardieu will be left to carry on here.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Report Schacht Refuses to Go.

PARIS, Jan. 7.—[Tuesday].—Despite insistent and pressing demands by the German delegates, Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the reichsbank, has refused to appear at The Hague conference, according to the Echo de Paris this morning.

U. S. Navy Parley Delegates to Study Statistics at Sea

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—[Special.]—Detailed statistics showing the comparative naval strength of the five major powers which will meet in London this month to discuss naval reduction have been placed in the hands of members of the American delegation for their perusal during the trip across the Atlantic.

At least fifty books crammed with information touching on the age, armor protection, speed, tonnage, and general fighting ability of each of the hundreds of ships in the world's major navies have been prepared by the navy technicians for the use of the American delegates, their technical advisers, and other working members of the party of 100 which will sail from New York Thursday.

Information Exchanged.

In order to have the exact facts available for the delegates, each of the other powers was asked to exchange information regarding the fighting characteristics of its fleet. In return the United States supplied complete information to each of the other powers.

Such instructions as will be given the American delegation for their guidance during the London parley have already been transmitted to Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson by President Hoover. Preparations for the conference have been completed, and after a White House breakfast conference tomorrow at which the President will bid good-by to the individual members of the American group, the entire delegation will make final arrangements for leaving New York Thursday on the steamship George Washington.

Sail for New York.

Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams, Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow, and Senators David A. Reed [Rep., Pa.] and Joseph T. Robinson [Dem., Ark.], the other delegates, together with their technical staffs and advisers, will leave Washington either Wednesday or early Thursday for New York, where the delegation will board the George Washington for the trip to England.

The delegation is expected to go to London ready to listen to the proposals of the other powers. Once these proposals are made the American position in favor of parity and real reduction will be made clear. It is possible the United States delegation will make a proposal, but if this is done it will not happen during the first few days of the parley.

Chairman Stimson is hopeful that a five power agreement can be effected. If this fails the United States is ready to join with Great Britain and Japan in a three power reduction treaty. In case of a three power parley, postponement of battleship construction for from three to five years probably would be one of the major subjects discussed. All three powers are ready to postpone replacements.

PLANES CRASH 1,500 FT. IN AIR, 2 ARE KILLED

Galveston, Tex., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Lieut. Clarence O. Mitchell and Sergt. Julius T. Behimi of the Third attack group, Fort Crockett, were killed today when two airplanes collided near here. Two other airmen escaped by parachutes. The planes were at an altitude of 1,500 feet when they collided.

Lieut. Mitchell and Sergt. Behimi were in a plane which collided with another piloted by Lieut. William C. Mills.

Lieut. Mills and Sergt. Lindsay Braxton, a passenger, used their parachutes and landed safely. Both planes were demolished.

COLORED PASTOR, HELD IN RIOTING, ARRESTED AGAIN

The Rev. George A. Long, pastor of the Mount Zion Colored Baptist church of Evanston, who is under a $10,000 bond awaiting grand jury action on a charge of inciting a riot in the church last October, was arrested yesterday on a charge of embezzling $900 in church funds. Long was arrested on the complaint of James Allen, church clerk and secretary. He was released under $2,000 bond after Justice of the Peace Harry H. Porter set his trial for Jan. 16.

HOUSE AWAKENS TO NEED OF FUND TO EQUIP ARMY

Gets 455 Million Measure from Committee.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—[Special.]—Congressional awakening to the need of better fighting machines and more up to date mechanical and motorised equipment in the American army was disclosed today when the $455,000,000 war department supply bill for 1931 was reported to the house.

Calling attention to the fact that the army budget, as approved by the President, did not carry one cent for development and experimental work in connection with the development of tanks, armored cars, and other weapons and equipment for use with a mechanized force, the house appropriations committee, in a report submitted with the supply bill, announced that it has provided $239,855 for that purpose.

Cross Country Vehicles.

The extra funds added to the war department supply bill will permit the army to inaugurate an experimental development program calling for the construction and perfecting of cross country vehicles, radio and command tanks, infantry carriers for moving machine gun units and doughboys across the battlefield, a 75 millimeter self-propelled artillery mount, and other cross country vehicles.

"The budget again fails to include any special provision for development and experimentation looking to motorization and mechanization of the army," the house committee report states, in explaining why it overrode the action of the budget director in eliminating an item for experimentation with fighting machines. "Progress in this direction to a greater degree is of prime importance, in the judgment of the committee.

In addition to supplying the extra funds for experimental development, the house committee recommended expenditure of funds immediately for the purchase of four or five light Christie combined wheel and track tanks for service test during the next year. Money for purchasing these vehicles would be taken from a $250,000 fund voted last year for acquiring six ordnance light tanks, but as yet unappropriated.

Only Slightly Changed.

The war department appropriation bill represents but little change from budget recommendations submitted to congress by President Hoover. It calls for a total expenditure of 455 million dollars for all war department activities in 1931, including military needs, rivers and harbors flood control, the Panama canal, and the administration of insular affairs. The total bill is $2,767,000 less than the 1931 budget estimates, and $942,000 more than was appropriated for this year's war department expenses.

For purely military expenditures the bill provides $337,858,000, $2,368,000 less than the estimates of military needs submitted to congress by Mr. Hoover. The measure provides $6,519,000 more for military purposes than was appropriated for this year.

No change in the size of the army is contemplated in the new bill. As at present, army enlisted strength will remain at 118,750. Officer strength will be 12,000. The National Guard will be given an increase, raising the strength to 190,000. Funds for training citizens at the citizens' military training camps are slightly reduced.

Cut Housing Appropriation.

The committee cut the budget recommendations for army housing on the theory that later retrenchment by the President might not make so much new construction necessary. The cut effected amounted to $2,000,000.

The air corps appropriation approved by the house committee amounts to $35,823,473, a million dollars increase over the present year. This sum will not bring the five year air expansion program up to date.

TOURING SCHOOL CUTS ILLITERACY IN MEXICO 30%

Indians Taught to Read and Train Selves.

BY JOHN CORNYN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO City, Jan. 6.—In the last four years Mexico's enormous illiteracy has been reduced from 90 to less than 60 per cent. This was accomplished on a very small budget by the department of education, which generally has less than $12,500,000 to spend. This year the budget has been raised to $17,500,000. The department of education has also gotten rid of the Mexican National university, which has been converted into a self managing concern, with its own budget.

In 1929 rural schools were raised from 3,000 to 8,000 with promise of an increase of at least 2,000 more this year. This, it is hoped, will take care of another 10 per cent of illiterates.

Organizes Flying Corps.

The present minister of education, Ezequiel Padilla, has adopted a system of a flying corps of teachers, familiar with Indian communities. Working from ten general centers 500 groups are sent in all directions to Indian localities where the knowledge of reading is frequently a myth. Four distinct places are visited by each corps in a year. It remains long enough to teach children to read; then moves on leaving behind one of the pupils or a member of the community to carry on the work.

Next year the same community is again visited by the same or another corps.

"Educating Mexico to a sense of the value of education has been an uphill task," said the educational chief. "The seed sown has begun to germinate in many centers of population, where education was heretofore practically unknown or taboo by general sentiment. Now, especially in agrarian centers and among rural farmers, many of whom have received land from the government, the peasants have built their own schools and are employing their own teachers, thus permitting other cultural schools to be opened with educational funds thus freed."

Will Support Own Schools.

"In a few more years we will have thousands of communities of peasant farmers and Indians supporting their own schools," said one of the directors of the rural school movement. "This will free our hands considerably and allow us to extend our anti-illiteracy campaign into new fields. It will also permit us to use trained teachers as educational missionaries. We have been forced to continue building up our corps of educational workers among illiterate masses in rural and mountainous districts of the country.

"The work ahead of us would require full half of the income of the federal government, or upward of $100,000,000 yearly," another educator said. "Yet we congratulate ourselves when we have obtained one-sixth of that amount for the present year. Perhaps it is good for our cause that we are not receiving more, for we are learning, through necessity, to teach the peasants to help themselves to an education."

T. H. McINNERNEY SEES GAINS FOR DAIRY INTERESTS

Says Consumption Can Be Increased 60%.

BY PAUL POTTER.

Back in his old home town, Chicago, for a brief business call after a study of American and European dairy conditions, T. H. McInnerney, president of National Dairy Products corporation, and the buyer of the largest dairy farm output in the world, yesterday answered questions on this three billion dollar industry.

"The increase of 50 per cent in per capita consumption of dairy products in the United States during the last ten years has come as a result of better quality of production, distribution, and safeguards built up around the supply," he said. "It is still possible, I believe, to secure another 60 per cent increase in this country, with farmers progressing in their breeding, feeding and tuberculin testing."

Not Farm Board Critic.

"It is not for us to criticize the activities of the federal farm board," answered Mr. McInnerney in reply to a query as to that board's loans to farm owned coöperatives in competition with his firm. "I have had several talks with Mr. Legge, the chairman, and believe that he is constantly learning more about the difficult problems the dairy industry has in handling the seasonal surpluses and the distribution of them economically."

"We're not like the grain men," Mr. McInnerney explained. "We don't buy just the material we need, but contract with the farmer for all he produces. This means that we must find outlets for all manner of dairy by-products to utilize the surplus for human food or animal feed."

Greater Efficiency Possible.

That's another reason the dairy farmers are facing the probability of lower prices for their milk and cream in coming months, and a correspondingly lower price to consumers, especially of butter, he said. Mr. McInnerney believes the dairy industry itself is to blame for the unprecedented stocks of butter in storage. He estimates that butter consumption dropped off 40,000,000 pounds in 1929, largely because prices were too high.

Mr. McInnerney said his observations indicated that the average farmer in a metropolitan "milk shed" or producing area could still produce good milk from 15 to 20 per cent cheaper by making production efficiencies. Unless this is done, he believes there is room for large corporations to produce their own milk for city distribution.

This biggest of all "milk men" in point of sales added that agricultural leaders who urged farmers to fear chain store competition, big margers and such "bugaboos" were a menace to the industry.

4 BOYS HELD AS ROBBERS.

Four 18 year old youths who confessed to twenty robberies were held to the grand jury yesterday by Judge Francis Allegretti in the Boys' court. They are Carl Metz, 240 West 47th street; John Derkowitz, 240 West 47th street; Frank Brier, 620 West 42d street; and Stanley Fee, 8021 Cornell avenue.

SIFT SCHWAB'S EXPENSES WHILE $1 A YEAR MAN

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Secretary Mellon was asked today by Representative McClintic [Dem., Okla.] to supply a list of all "dollar a year" employés of the government during the world war, together with the amount of expenses drawn by each.

The request followed charges by Charles B. Shearer, big navy advocate, that Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, had drawn $260,000 in expenses while serving the government for $1 a year.

Insull Left Snuff Boxes by 'Tay Pay'; Estate Is $1,500

[Copyright, 1930, By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Jan. 6.—T. P. (Tay Pay) O'Connor, father of the house of commons, left an estate of only $1,500, it was reported tonight. Principal bequests consist of his twenty snuff boxes, which he distributed among his friends. The gold snuff box, presented by the house of commons on his 80th birthday, he bequeathed back to the house. The others have been left to Samuel Insull, Chicago millionaire, and Sir Basil Zaharoff, international financier.

FIRE ROUTS BOARDERS.

Fire which is believed to have been caused by defective wiring, forced Mr. and Mrs. Fred Peterson of 1106 Prairie avenue, Highland Park, and five men roomers, to flee from the burning home in their night clothes early yesterday morning. The loss was $10,000.

AIR LINES HERE ADOPT TRANSFER TICKET SYSTEM

Traffic representatives and managers of airlines operating in Chicago met yesterday at the Palmer house and adopted a ticket contract form which is transferable from one line to another. The contract is now used by the thirty or more aviation lines in the United States, according to Winsor Williams, manager of the American Air Transport association.

Passengers traveling from New York to San Francisco may thus take one line to Cleveland, transfer to another for Chicago, and continue west from this point on still another line.

Among those who attended yesterday's meeting, besides Mr. Williams were: Stanley Knauss, vice president of the Stout Air Lines; Ray Ireland, National Air Transport; K. K. Knickerbocker, Boeing Air Transport; Col. L. H. Brittin, Northwest Airways; Joseph Sabin, Universal Air Lines; Clifford Ball, Clifford Ball Lines; and Robert Smith, Aviation corporation.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Jan. 6.—Twenty-nine islands in Georgian bay have been set aside for national park purposes by an order-in-council noted in this week's issue of the Canada Gazette. Beausoleil island, the largest, contains 2,712 acres. These islands were surrendered by the Chippewa Indians in 1856.

FLAG MARKS TOP OF FRAME FOR WACKER BUILDING

Structural iron workers yesterday afternoon lashed an American flag to a steel girder on the 41st floor of the new La Salle-Wacker building to signify that the highest point in the steel frame of the building had been reached.

Advertisers who SELL known quality...now can buy it

A woman never asks a merchant, "Is this Old Dutch Cleanser as good as that I bought last week?" ... "Is this O-Cedar Polish the same as the downtown stores sell?" ... "Will this package of Beech-Nut Bacon taste as good as the package I'm using now?"

Hundreds of items of merchandise are so uniform, so carefully kept to established standards, that their quality is unquestioned. No one investigates. No one compares. But when their makers come to advertise, how many newspapers can deliver circulations that match these products in their uniformity of quality? ... In their nation-wide distribution of quality? ... In their national coverage of quick-action quality markets?

To such national advertisers, Scripps-Howard offers an advantage unique in the newspaper world ... 25 newspapers, covering 25 buying centers, with a nation-wide uniformity of circulation. For SCRIPPS-HOWARD Newspapers have a common honesty of purpose. They are alike in their unquestioned devotion to the best interests of their communities. They are alike in their freedom from dictation and outside control, in their completeness of resources, in their quick and brilliant coverage of news. Naturally, they are alike in the quality of circulation, automatically selected, which each delivers to the advertiser ... Circulations whose values are as known, as uniform, as unvarying as the values in the national advertiser's own package.

AMERICA AND HER FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

A book we wish every member of congress and every editor would read and reflect upon is "America and England," by Nicholas Roosevelt. It is a survey and able discussion of the fundamental conditions and relations of the United States and the British empire, a timely contribution to public knowledge and opinion on the threshold of the London conference.

That conference, whether it result in agreements or not, will have far-reaching influence upon international opinion and policy, and consequences in our own present and future to which the American people cannot afford to be indifferent or complaisant. There is real danger for us, and for us alone, that the issues and possibilities of the negotiation will be misunderstood. Our public is very likely to look upon it as merely another effort in the popular experiment of abolishing war, whereas it should be understood as a complicated diplomatic process for the readjustment of policies, programs and instrumentalities of defense. The negotiation will have an important bearing, directly and indirectly, not merely upon our means of defense in war but upon our national development and progress in peace. Naval policy has not merely to do with the defense of our shores from invasion, but with the protection and extension of our commerce, a factor in our domestic prosperity already of decisive weight and destined to increase in importance.

American self-confidence and preoccupation with internal affairs need the correction of knowledge. We take too much for granted and do not trouble to acquaint ourselves either with the strength of our competitors or our own disadvantages and shortcomings. The development of our foreign commerce and financial commitments has been so rapid that the nation's thought has not caught up with it, and we do not realize what aggression upon our rights and interests in the world markets and on the high seas would mean to our prosperity. We do not realize that serious interruption of our communications or gradual infringement upon our commercial enterprise in the world markets would bring loss and suffering to all our people.

What foreign policy we may be said to have in recent years has been very largely influenced by foreign propaganda and, as Mr. Roosevelt reminds us, by altruistic theorists and apologetic Americans. It has to an astonishing degree been directed without the sanction of a general, informed public opinion, but on the contrary has proceeded in a direction counter to the judgment of the nation expressed whenever the nation has had opportunity to speak. The opinion which favored the reversal of our traditional policy against permanent foreign commitments, entrance into the league of nations, adherence without reservation to the league court, guaranty of the French frontier, nonprotection of American rights and interests in foreign countries, "anti-imperialism," debt cancellation, etc., etc., has and does persistently influence our foreign affairs while those of other nations, our competitors, have been and will continue to be directed by an alert and informed perception of national interest.

This contrast between the conditions under which the British public approaches the naval conference and the conditions under which the American public approaches it is well illustrated by the sensational drive by the London Telegraph and the Express to show by garbled statistics that the American navy is stronger than the British. American public opinion, on the other hand, has been prepared by a sensational senatorial inquiry, initiated by the President, to expose the alleged activities of a professional press agent employed by shipbuilding companies impliedly interested to defeat the effort at Geneva of the American and British governments to reduce naval building. Though the inquiry turned out to be a dud, as it could hardly have failed to be, the implication was humiliating and discrediting to our representatives at Geneva and to their able defense of national interest there. Following this remarkable affair, we had the statement by our ambassador to England, expressing the opinion that naval experts were to be kept in the background of future naval conferences, and of course official censorship over the public expression of opinion by naval men on the active list and therefore amenable to official discipline has not been abated. Finally, on the eve of the departure of our representatives, the President took occasion to say without pertinent reservation or explanation that "current expenditure on strictly military activities of the army and navy constitutes the largest military budget of any nation in the world," and that 72 per cent of federal appropriations are required to meet the expenses of past and preparedness for future wars. Now, however satisfactory this statement may be to organized pacifism in this country and to the active foreign propaganda directed at foreign and American opinion, it presents an inadequate and distorted picture of our defense situation, and, coming at this moment especially, constitutes, with the other circumstances to which we refer, the strangest preparation for negotiation that could well be imagined. The net effect is to weaken our hand both at home and abroad as we enter upon a conference in which our representatives are to meet representatives of other powers determined, as past experience amply demonstrates, to get the very best terms for their own countries that are obtainable by skillful diplomacy. Now we are asked to have confidence that the administration is determined to see that no unfair sacrifices of our defense will be agreed to, but for months all the observable circumstances have pointed the other way.

The United States has great strength and in some respects unique advantages, but they do not justify neglect of its equally great responsibilities to its own people and its own future. Ill considered concessions and sacrifices are not even conducive to peace and friendly relations with the world, but quite the contrary, for they invite infringement upon our rights. When we are required to pay the price they impose the awakened self-interest of our people will repudiate them. Thus we prepare future charges of bad faith and future conflict.

The people of the United States are not aware of the situation into which their expanding energies have brought them. They are not aware of their new interests and responsibilities. Until they are aware and informed they are in no position to pass upon policies or programs, concessions or commitments in international agreement, reductions or limitations of defense. Unless we are willing blindly to put our welfare in the hands of an intelligentsia which has shown little fitness for the responsibility no international commitment should be made without a public discussion more thorough than is necessary in countries acquainted with international realities and watchful of their own interests. Mr. Roosevelt's book is a timely and valuable contribution to such a discussion which should now be preparing the American nation to understand the proceedings in London and the proposals it will bring forth.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR A BAD BUDGET.

Indignation in Chicago over the discharge of policemen and firemen is fully merited. There was no need for retrenchment in either the police or fire department, and, if there had been a thin dime's worth of effective leadership and regard for the welfare of the people of Chicago in the city hall, the budget as written would never have been passed.

Now Mayor Thompson, who remained in the background throughout the period of preparation of the budget, has broken cover. He says he thinks it is too bad that the men have been let out, but, but, but. When he might have saved the situation with a word he kept quiet. Now he is seeking to wash his hands of the whole matter as if the responsibility were not largely his.

These are the facts: The corporate fund of Chicago was charged with expenditures of $60,000,000 in 1929, a sum larger than the income of the fund. It is also larger than the income will be in 1930. Accordingly, the finance committee, headed by Ald. Clark, properly determined to keep expenditures in 1930 within income, estimated at $55,000,000. There is and can be no valid criticism of the work of the council or its finance committee in that regard. It was the duty of the aldermen to spend what they had to spend and no more.

The $5,000,000 cut under the 1929 appropriations having been determined upon, the council proceeded to apportion the reduction among the departments. The job was bungled. Whether it was bungled by deliberate design or through stupidity is a question which for the moment is irrelevant. The fact is that, though a lot of political jobholders have been dismissed and must now earn an honest living if they can, a lot more have been left on the pay roll while the city's protection against crime and conflagration has been jeopardized.

It has been charged, for example, that the city's license department, which was given an appropriation of $312,000, is overstaffed. It has also been charged that the city's three law offices run by Corporation Counsel Ettelson, which are to have a total of $820,000, could be run efficiently with far less money. Grave doubts have been raised of the necessity for an appropriation of $151,000 to the department of public service. Whether these charges are correct or not, certainly substantial reductions could have been made in all these appropriations without consequences to be compared in seriousness with those arising from the reductions ordered in the police and fire departments. In reaching this judgment it is not necessary to accept at its full value the contention of Commissioner Russell that crime increased in Chicago from the moment he discharged the men not appropriated for.

The policemen and firemen are civil service employés. As such they have only limited value to the political organization in the city hall. The jobs in the license bureau and the corporation counsel's office for the most part are political. When expenditures in these departments are reduced the public loss may be negligible, but the political loss is great. The choice was a clear one and the decision reached tells all that need be told about the government of Chicago in 1930.

Editorial of the Day

[Memphis Commercial-Appeal.]

The Illinois delegation in congress is preparing to press vigorously a program of legislation to complete the great lakes-to-the-gulf waterway project.

A nine foot channel from the Chicago river to the Gulf of Mexico is contemplated. Specifically, congress will probably be asked to complete the waterway lying between a point four and one-half miles from Lake Michigan on the Chicago river to Utica, Ill. The next step will be the development of 29 miles of the Mississippi river into a nine foot channel from the mouth of the Illinois river to the northern boundaries of St. Louis.

The desirability of this project has long been recognized throughout the Mississipi valley, but the way to achievement has been beset with difficulties. The Atlantic seaboard interests have not viewed with enthusiasm a plan that will divert much traffic from a west to east course to a north to south course. The Mississippi valley has its own ideas on this subject. Determined leadership in congress may get the results.

SMOKING AND ITS RESULTS.

As to the harm of smoking, Dr. Emil Bogen quotes the following opinion: "A sound individual may bear what are for him moderate doses without injury, but even these are often noxious to the unsound, or to other sound individuals. But the immoderate use of tobacco brings on a series of disturbances which are at first functional, then organic, and of which some are not without gravity."

This is as far as Dr. Bogen is willing to go, in view of the contradictory character of the evidence as to the harmfulness of the use of tobacco. However, he does cover a few points in the physiological and pathological phases of the subject. Smoking is not conducive to overweight. A study of six hundred people in industrial life indicated a slight tendency to underweight. Just the reason for this was not investigated. It may be that nervous people are likely to be smokers just as they are apt to be underweight, both being effects of nervousness and neither being causes. On the other hand, calm people are apt to be overweight and also nonsmokers.

A percentage grouping of the causes for the smoking habit was given as follows: Sociability, 65; fragrance, 60; relaxation, 50; stimulation, 60; steadying nerves, 45; smoothness, mellowness, and soothing, 35; quieting hunger, 30; sight of the smoke, 25; feel in the lips, 25; feel in the hand, 10; taste, 5.

The ill effects of smoking, as given by the smokers themselves, likewise arranged on the percentage basis, were: Shortness of breath, 35; biting and irritation, 30; coughing, 30; burning, 15; nausea, 10; palpitation of the heart, 5; hoarseness, 5; salivation, 5.

A study of the sensations of men who had discontinued the tobacco habit showed that nearly all had complained of nervousness and many had developed a definite craving or tobacco hunger. In addition, he stated that men who smoked more than one package a day reported more frequently for colds than did men who did not smoke.

In the discussion of Dr. Bogen's paper two physicians pressed him to go further in his report of the effects on the body, but this he would not do. One physician told of his experiments with nicotine on animals. Dr. Bogen replied by saying that there were many chemicals besides nicotine in tobacco smoke and that results must be judged by the use of all of these in combination and not by nicotine alone. Furthermore, much depends on who does the smoking and how and when and what.

DON'T WORRY.

C. M. D. writes: What is the cause of a sound like a crack in the joints? Almost every time I move or bend there is that sound or crack in my joints. Is this harmful? If so, what should be done?

REPLY.

This is an almost universal disorder among people of 50 years and over. It will not lead to anything serious, nor is there anything you can do about it.

Of course you are not as supple as you were nor will you ever regain the lost quality. Some day men will know enough to regain their suppleness and not to creak and crackle as they walk, but that day is not at hand.

JUST BUY A TICKET TO FLORIDA.

B. G. writes: Kindly advise me of the cause of an itch which seems to have been contracted by hand and spread to the entire body. There was no rash, but the itch is very persistent and annoying. How can this be got rid of?

REPLY.

You have winter itch. It is caused by exposure to hot, dry air. Go south and get cool and moist. Or live in a conservatory of humidity and cool the air when you can.

KEEP YOUR NECK CLEAN.

C. Z. writes: I have been having boils on my neck and also little ones between the hairs of my head, for almost six years. I have done everything I can but don't seem to be able to get rid of them.

REPLY.

Have you tried the phage treatment? This treatment promises much. You should keep your neck scrupulously clean.

Do not wear a stiff collar or irritate the skin of your neck in any way.

BANK LOANS ON VACANT PROPERTY.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Does a Chicago bank loan money on vacant property that is clear? 2. If it does, is it legal? J. H.

1. Ordinarily it is not done on the same terms as loans on improved property. Many banks which are not officially authorized to handle real estate have associated organizations which possess such authority. 2. Depends on the law under which the bank in question is organized.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

TENANT EXONERATED.

Chicago, Dec. 28.—[Friend of the People.]—For over a year a party has had a stand for the sale of second hand autos at Barry and Halsted. When he started this business he filled the vacant lot with quite a steep pitch to the sidewalk, thereby draining the lot onto the public thoroughfare. When it is bad weather the sidewalk is covered with mud, and he does not clean the snow from this walk. W. B.

There is a natural high elevation at this corner, the property having had an elevation of from ten to fifteen feet above street grade. The tenant, who sells second hand automobiles, excavated sufficient ground for sales purposes, and the place is kept in first class condition. Any water that comes from the high point he is not responsible for.

JOSEPH J. BUTLER,
Deputy Superintendent of Streets.

PROBATE NOT NECESSARY.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Where real estate property is held in joint tenancy by husband and wife, cannot the survivor, upon death of the other, sell the property without Probate court proceedings and give a clear title? C. H.

Yes. If the instrument expressly provides for joint tenancy as distinguished from tenancy in common, the surviving joint tenant will take to the exclusion of the heirs or devisees of the one who dies first.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Now, I'll Tell You About That—

What in the world shall we do with our police force here in Chicago? It's a great question. He ought to be guiding traffic down in the loop. But we would much rather have him walking beat past our house. We would feel more secure at night and sleep much better if we knew we had the police force walking beat down below. Of course that's selfish. Banks want the police force guarding their money and railroad stations want him standing around looking for pickpockets. Of course, before they trimmed the police force down there could be a policeman at the street crossing and following bank messengers around with shotguns and escorting pay rolls and everything. But it's all different now and we've got to decide where we want the police force to be. Well, maybe the best we can do under the circumstances is to put him in the museum in a glass case. Let's keep what we've got. Fevven's sake, fevven's sake, let's take care of our police force. He's the last one we've got.

A RHYMESTER'S NEW YEAR'S PRAYER.

O Muse of Modern Poesy,
Hark to my humble prayer to thee!
Contrive, I pray, that my corona
Grind out not overmuch bologna,
But guide my fingers o'er the keyboard
So that my readers may not be bored.
Forefend me from inditing free verse;
Also the nauseating reverse.

I would not sing in fulsome platitudes,
Nor plagiarize the blest beatitudes:
To Pollyanna and the rest,
I would be neither host nor Guest.
And yet, and yet I would avoid
The dark and devious ways of Freud.
I would not tear apart a dream,
Nor tackle esoteric theme.

Defend me from each incubus—
The obscure and the obvious;
But grant, I pray, that what I write,
True or untrue, be never trite.
Shield me from sheer hyperbole
That means psycho-pathology.
Indeed, than Harriet Monroe-rian.

In fine, I hanker, if you please,
EOLUS.

BRILLIANT uniforms, miles of gold lace, tons of medals, bushels of jewels, avenues of flags, blaring of bands, countless soldiers, crowns, scepters, and everything at the crown prince's wedding in Rome. Royalty steps forth and struts like a peacock. But hear that low, raucous grating sound. You think that must be static. Ah, no, dearie, that's old Mussolini laughing up his sleeve.

WE JUST KNEW the organization of the Democratic party in India would mean trouble for Great Britain. A rumor is going round that the British war office is going to send a division of troops to India. But from our experience here in the U. S. A., sending a division of troops after the Democrats wouldn't do a bit of good. You can do more with a Democrat by a little kindness, a little drink, and the promise of getting him appointed postmaster at Frog's Grove than by chasing him around with soldiers.

Attaboy, Jawn McCutcheon; we enjoyed your pictures yesterday of the twelve great permanent exhibits Chicago will show visitors at the great World's fair. But, Jawn! You're slippin'! You left out the picture of the Chicago subway, the great subway that whirls people in from South Chicago, or Rogers Park, or from the far west side in no time at all, and is never blocked by snow and ice. All right, you forgot the subway and left it out. Then we'll print it ourselves, though it's against our policy to publish pictures in the Line. Here 'tis:

Cut this photograph out, Jawn, and keep it handy, and don't you ever, ever let us catch you slipping again.

So That People Wouldn't Pronounce Him with Their Mouths Full of Crackers.

Sir: You spoiled a splendid game when you changed the name of your Sealyham from Tylwyth Teg to Tommy Atkins. I invented the game myself and it was being taken up everywhere and afforded any amount of good clean fun. The game was for everybody around the dinner table to fill their mouths with cracker crumbs and then try to say "Tylwyth Teg." The air would be simply filled with cracker crumbs. Too bad you changed his name. Why did you do it? WILL HENRY.

A MAN OUT in San Francisco is just back from England with fresh proof that Bacon wrote Shakespeare. Oh, well, what of it? As soon as it is settled beyond all doubt that Bacon wrote Shakespeare then they'd be bobbing up all over the place proving that Shakespeare wrote Bacon. The argument is just as good the way it stands as it would be if it were turned around.

"LET A CONVENTION of the northwestern states be called and the people take their government into their own hands." Tck, tck. But listen to this: "Let every Republican state pass statutes treating those United States marshals as kidnapers—" Dreadful. The people down around Boston who are denouncing the coast guard are going pretty far. But, wait! What has been quoted was not said by anti-prohibitionists. If you had only read all of the second quotations instead of stopping at the dash you would have found that "those United States marshals tried to execute the fugitive slave law." And we must admit that both of these quotations were taken from editorials in northern newspapers in 1857—one from the Quincy Whig and the other from the Urbana Union. What we were going to say was, does history repeat itself, or does it not?

JANUARY 7, 1865.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The further manufacture of Parrot guns has been suspended for the present because of the bursting of the guns on board the fleet in the attack on Wilmington. Particulars of the explosions have not been received, but the chief of ordnance directed Mr. Parrot at West Point to cease making the guns until an inquiry reveals the facts.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Horace Greeley had a long and pleasant interview with President Lincoln.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Maj. Andrews, who commands the grand picketing of the Potomac river from Great Falls to the mouth of the Monocacy, says guerrillas have become very troublesome of late. Reports reached this city tonight that Mosby, the guerrilla leader, died at Culpeper Court House on Jan. 3.

NEW YORK.—The Herald's Washington special says: "Gen. Butler's report of the Wilmington expedition has been received at the war department. It is very lengthy and tends to exculpate Butler from responsibility."

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Mr. Stevenson of Cook county offered a joint resolution in the house to provide a portrait of Illinois' greatest and immortal statesman, Stephen A. Douglas, to be hung in the hall of the house of representatives.

CHICAGO.—Judson J. C. Gillespie and Miss Lottie Ellis were married on Dec. 29 at the Wabash Avenue Baptist church by the Rev. E. G. Taylor.

JANUARY 7, 1900.

LONDON. — The war office announced information that the Boers attacked the British at Cæsar's camp at Ladysmith on Jan. 6, according to a telegram from Gen. White to Gen. Buller, which said that the attack was in considerable force and was everywhere repulsed. Buller reported that fighting was still in progress.

CAPE TOWN.—The Boers have now nearly 90,000 men in the field. The Dutch farmers of Cape Colony have with few exceptions thrown their lot in with the republics, and the British force must be raised to 140,000 men. The British have already lost in killed, wounded, and prisoners more than 7,000 men.

CHICAGO. — Ernst J. Lehmann, founder of The Fair store and the first to introduce the department store in Chicago, died on Jan. 5 at his residence in White Plains, N. Y., as a result of a breakdown nearly ten years ago. He was born in Germany 50 years ago of poor parents, and his estate is estimated at over $10,000,000.

HYDE PARK, N. H.—Julia Marlowe Taber, the actress, has been granted a divorce from her husband, Robert Taber, on the ground of cruel and intolerable severity. Miss Marlowe tonight closed a ten weeks' engagement at the Criterion theater, New York, in "Barbara Frietchie."

JANUARY 7, 1920.

MEXICO CITY.—Hundreds of persons were killed and many towns destroyed by the earthquake of Jan. 3, according to official reports. The quake area extended about sixty miles on the eastern slope of the volcano of Orizaba. Coutlan was destroyed with 2,000 casualties, including more than 1,000 dead. The entire garrison at Teocelo was killed or injured. Three hundred dead are reported at Barranca Grande.

JERSEY CITY, N. J.—On the orders of Director of Public Safety O'Brien, Victor Berger, Socialist congressman elect of Wisconsin, was denied entry to the hall where he was to have addressed a Socialist meeting and was driven from the city by Chief of Police Richard C. Batterahy.

CHICAGO. — Miss Marian Rinn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Rinn of 58 Bellevue place, and Charles Pope II., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pope of Geneva, Ill., were married on New Year's afternoon at St. Chrysostom's church. Miss Margaret Louise Oliver, daughter of Mrs. Louisa Richards Oliver of Evanston, will be married to Harry Cecil Holt of Chicago on Jan. 17 at St. Mark's church.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

FROM A BIOGRAPHER OF MRS. EDDY.

New York, Dec. 28.—Because H. S. Campbell, local publicity man for the Christian Science church, recently used your columns to attack my work, "Mrs. Eddy, the Biography of a Virginal Mind," and to castigate your reviewer, the eminent Louis Bromfield, who kindly praised my book, I should appreciate an opportunity for reply.

Mr. Campbell is merely adopting the tactics used by all the other four dozen publicity men of the Christian Science church (one in each state) when he denounces "Mrs. Eddy" as fiction. Furthermore, merely to call a man a liar is hardly impressive evidence of truth. Unwilling to adopt Mr. Campbell's own procedure, I should only like to point out to your readers that the sources for the facts in my book are all plainly indicated in an elaborate bibliography; furthermore, where I have derived data from manuscripts and books that have been suppressed in order to conceal the real facts about Mrs. Eddy from the public, I have indicated to the reader how and where these documents may be consulted, so that scholars may check my judgments on every point. There have been a number of very valuable works—some of them written by Christian Scientists who lived in Mrs. Eddy's own household—which have been suppressed by the church authorities. It is hardly a secret that no effort is being spared by Christian Scientists, not excepting intimidation of book dealers and misrepresentation of facts, to effect suppression of my own work in turn.

The biography of Mrs. Eddy by Sybil Wilbur, which the church authorities paid Miss Wilbur $200 a month to write and which Mr. Campbell praises as the one "reliable chronicle—interesting, instructive and truthful," is referred to in my own volume as frequently as its limitations and obvious omissions would permit. Miss Wilbur unfortunately omitted many data essential to an understanding of Mrs. Eddy's struggling career, including all reference to Mrs. Eddy's resort to medicine—a fact irrefutably established by the diaries of her lifelong secretary, one Calvin Frye.

In conclusion, I can only point out that if my book were the fiction which Mr. Campbell claims, I would fain be the first to urge his church authorities to produce the evidence to prove it so—evidence which will satisfy scholars and legal minds alike. A biography consisting of fiction masquerading as truth would be a highly damaging instrument, and the public interest would be involved. The law offers assured recourse to any person or any organization injured in this manner, it being only necessary to demonstrate by evidence what Mr. Campbell so blandly claims—that my work is a malicious untruth.

EDWIN FRANDEN DAKIN.

THE PUBLISHER'S STORY.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 31.—I have before me THE TRIBUNE of Dec. 18, containing a letter from Hugh Stuart Campbell, official spokesman for the Christian Science Mother church. I am not concerned with the clash of opinions between Mr. Campbell, Louis Bromfield and Edwin Dakin, but I feel some responsibility in connection with Mr. Campbell's statements regarding Sybil Wilbur O'Brien's "official" biography of Mrs. Eddy.

It so happens that about twenty years ago, at the urgent solicitation of the Boston church officials, I financed Mrs. Wilbur during the preparation of this volume and published it for her. I afterwards found that essential facts regarding Mrs. Eddy's life, when considered embarrassing, had been carefully deleted, including the documentary evidence concerning the events which are generally accepted as having constituted the origin of Christian Science. The facts on this subject set forth in Mrs. Eddy's own letters to Dr. Quimby and in his manuscripts, have since been published, but no changes have been made in the Wilbur biography. The manager of the Christian Science committees on publication, under Mrs. Wilbur's publishing contract, was the sole arbitrator on what should go into the book. I enclose for your editorial files a photostatic copy of that portion of the contract which substantiates this fact and thus provides the reason why this book has become the officially authorized biography.

In the interest of your readers and in fairness to me as the disillusioned original publisher of the Wilbur biography, I respectfully request the publication of this letter.

A SCOTCH MAVERICK.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 5.—I think your correspondent, John C. Dignam, made a mistake in taking you to task for having designated "Blessed" John Ogilvie as a traitor. The fact of the matter is Ogilvie was neither a martyr, as your correspondent would have us believe, nor yet a traitor, according to your own estimate of him. He was simply a Scotch maverick.

The little country that has since given us oatmeal, whisky and golf [God bless it!], not to mention branch banking, the investment trust and finally Ramsay MacDonald, has erred once in a long while in the age of nations. Its mistakes have been few, however, and Ogilvie was one of them. He was a Scotch maverick.

R. CRAWFORD.

HALF A DOLLAR SAVED.

Chicago, Jan. 5.—Several times within the last six months I have attempted to learn what my 1928 taxes would be, but without success. Finally I was informed that if I would call at room 315 county building, with a legal description of the property, I could ascertain the taxes. Since I was downtown and did not have the legal description with me, I went into the recorder's office, thinking to look it up there. At the information desk I was told to go to room 410 city hall and I could get it there.

I did as told, and finally located a gentleman seated, leisurely reading the paper. Again I stated I desired to get the legal description of my property and had been directed to go there for it. He said, "Yes," went down the hall, opened the record book, and I stood ready with my pencil to write it down. Instead he wrote it himself, handed it to me, and said, "The fee is 50 cents."

Since when has it become necessary for a taxpayer to pay a fee for information he has already paid for many times over? Needless to say, I walked out without paying the fee, and without the information. OUTRAGED TAXPAYER.

STREET CAR FARE DECISION 1 OF 21 BY HIGH COURT

Supreme Bench Has Busy Day After Recess.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—(AP)—The Supreme court had a busy time today after a four weeks' recess—delivering twenty-one opinions and announcing other important decisions. Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes presided.

Among the more important decisions was one dealing with street car fares in Baltimore. It was held that a fair return upon street car holdings was not capable of exact mathematical demonstration, the present value of such property being the basis for rate making. The case was sent back with instructions for further proceedings in the lower courts, but the decision was a broad victory for the company, which was seeking a straight 10 cent cash fare.

Millions of dollars and many individuals were affected by a ruling that the difference in value in securities at the time of death and the value at the time of sale of such inherited property constituted taxable income. The test case was brought by E. Franklin Brewster from western New York.

Rules on State Bond Taxing.

One of the most important decisions came in a case from Minnesota. In it the court overruled its previous decisions and held that intangible, as well as tangible property left by deceased persons could be taxed only in the state where the owner was domiciled at the time of death.

Henry R. Taylor died in New York, owning bonds issued by Minnesota and the cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis. Minnesota imposed its inheritance tax on the bonds, but the court set the tax aside holding that the bonds could only be taxed in New York, where Taylor lived at the time of his death.

World war veterans were interested in a case which the court consented to review. It announced that it would decide the right of such veterans, in a case brought from Colorado by Robert G. Meadows, to have lapsed insurance reinstated. The government had insisted that the decision of the director of the veterans' bureau was final in such matters and that the courts were without jurisdiction.

The court permitted the International Shoe company of St. Louis to acquire control of the W. H. McElwain company of Boston, notwithstanding the opposition of the federal trade commission.

Actors' Equity Victorious.

The Supreme court refused to pass on the validity of a resolution adopted by the Actors' Equity association in September, 1928, prohibiting its members from accepting employment through any one not holding a permit from the association. This constitutes a victory for Equity.

William Edelstein, a theatrical agent, attacked the Equity resolution in the federal District court of New York City. The District court granted him the relief asked, but the Circuit Court of Appeals reversed it, holding that the members of the association had been acting within their rights in adopting the resolution.

DESERTED WIFE CAN ATTACH THE BANKING ACCOUNT OF HUSBAND

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—(AP)—The New York law giving deserted wives the right to attach the bank deposits of their husbands today was sustained by the Supreme court.

The New York City public welfare commissioner obtained an order to seize the deposits of Raffaele de Stefano in the Corn Exchange bank, upon representations that De Stefano had abandoned his wife and their infant child.

The bank contended the law was invalid because it did not provide proper notice to the depositor, with an opportunity to contest in the courts.

BOY WHO SLEW FATHER IS HELD FOR ALIENISTS

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Circuit Attorney Franklin Miller announced today that alienists will examine Alan Schumm, 17 year old University of Illinois premedical student, before a decision is made as to whether to prosecute the youth who early yesterday killed his father, William Schumm, 43, office manager and auditor, and wounded his mother, Mrs. Fayette Schumm, 40.

Mrs. Schumm, who is in a hospital with three bullet wounds in her right hip, expressed belief that overstudy and intensive reading unbalanced her son's mind. The same opinion was held by police, who questioned him and found him alternately flippant and defiant.

"Do you know you killed your father?" Police Captain White asked, and the youth replied, "Yes, that will make a thriller." Later, he urged detectives to give him the third degree.

Elmer Ponders Home Uses of Radio Music

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

The only fault I can find with last evening's programs is that there were no outstanding highlights, something to write about. As music to create an atmosphere, everything was as pleasing as one could wish. I wonder if in the majority of homes radio is not used principally to create a musical background. Possibly that is the conclusion of some radio advertisers and accounts for programs heavily loaded with advertising. I add, however, that I consider none of the present Monday evening programs as offenders.

Accepting the principle of background atmosphere as an important one, a program that approaches as nearly the ideal as any is the Gypsies' orchestral program from New York, through W-G-N, 7:30 to 8:30. The program included a mixture of semi-classical and popular numbers, such as "Tambourin Chinois" (Kreisler), "Andante Cantabile" (Tschaikowsky), "Slavonic Dance" (Glazounow), and "Medley of Old Songs," selections from Victor Herbert. It is a program of universal attractiveness.

The Family Party orchestral and vocal program from New York, through W-G-N, 8:30 to 9, was made up of selections from talkie shows, musical comedies and operettas.

The best program of the evening was the Rochester Symphony orchestra concert, through KYW, 9 to 9:30. Time limitations necessitated the playing of comparatively short selections, but these were played with true symphony orchestra tone.

COUNCIL MAKES FEEDER BUS PLEA TO I. C. C. TODAY

Seven members of the city council left Chicago last night for Springfield to appear before the Illinois commerce commission today with a plea that the commission order the Surface Lines to install feeder buses without further delay. The bus routes would cover more than ninety miles of city streets. The aldermen will ask also that the fare be fixed at 7 cents, with street car transfer privileges.

The Surface Lines will not be represented, but will ask the commission at its Chicago session for authority to operate trolley buses on Diversey boulevard. According to Ald. Arthur Albert [43d], a member of the delegation, this action is to establish the fact that the installation of feeder bus service is a proper part of the service of the Surface Lines.

Besides Ald. Albert, the delegation includes Aldermen Joseph B. McDonough [13th], chairman of the council local transportation committee; T. J. Bowler [41st], chairman of the subcommittee on feeder buses, and Thomas Byrne [15th], W. D. Meyering [8th], George Seif [35th], and John Hoellen [47th].

EQUAL DIVISION OF TIME GIVEN RADIO STATIONS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—[Special.]—The right of the Insull Utilities broadcasting station, WENR, for an equal division of operating time with WLS, Sears, Roebuck station, was upheld today in a decree of Chief Justice George E. Martin of the District of Columbia Court of Appeals. The court reversed the decision of the radio commission denying the WENR application for equal division.

In the same decree, Justice Martin affirmed the decision of the commission in denying the application of WLS for full time operation on the assigned channel and in denying the application of WCBD, Wilbur Glenn Voliva's station at Zion City, for operating time on the channel.

YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED

FIVE NOW LOST IN ARCTIC; NO CLEW TO RESCUE PLANE

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Jan. 6.—(AP)—One of the three big cabin planes in the search for the airmen, Carl Ben Eielson and Earl Borland, missing since Nov. 2, still was lost in the northern wastes tonight. The plane carried Pilot Pat Reid and William Hughes and Jim Hutchinson, mechanics. Their disappearance makes five men lost in the frozen north.

Another plane in the search was wrecked several days ago and the third was stormbound at Nulato between Fairbanks and Nome. The missing plane carried a plentiful supply of provisions and no fear was felt for the three missing men. After a fruitless search over 200 miles between Nome and Unalakleet yesterday, Pilot Frank Dorbrandt was reported from Nome to have expressed the belief that Reid either overshot the coast there and landed on the ice in Norton bay, or returned to the Yukon river.

It was also reported from Nome that Graham B. Grosvenor, president of the Aviation Corporation, radioed to Alfred Lomen, chief of rescue operations, from New York naming him to direct activities of the reserve expedition. Lomen was notified to spare no expense in carrying on the search for Eielson and Borland, flyers for the Alaska Airways, an affiliated company.

BODY OF HAWKS RECOVERED FROM SUNKEN PLANE

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 6.—[Special.]—Bodies of two more victims of last Thursday's crash between movie making airplanes were brought up from the depths of the sea by a diver this afternoon. They were identified as those of Kenneth Hawks, motion picture director, and Tom Harris, property man.

BRIGGS FUNERAL SERVICES HELD ON BROADWAY

New York, Jan. 6.—[Special.]—Scores of friends and admirers attended funeral services today in Campbell funeral church on Broadway for Clare Briggs, cartoonist of the New York Herald Tribune, who died last Friday in the Neurological institute, where he had been a patient for several weeks. The service was conducted by the Rev. Dr. Nathan A. Seagle, rector of St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal church and a quartet from the Lambs club, sang "Lead, Kindly Light," and "Abide with Me."

Dr. Seagle gave a brief eulogy, saying, in part:

"He was a preacher of the gospel—the gospel of glad tidings. One reason religion has not made the headway it might is that it has failed to grasp that one thought—namely: glad tidings. Perhaps no one has made a bigger and wider appeal than our beloved friend. His appeal was through the eye and through the eye he caught the imagination."

JOHN F. ARCHBOLD, FINANCIER, DIES IN GEORGIA HOME

Thomasville, Ga., Jan. 6.—(AP)—John F. Archbold, 52, of New York and Thomasville, son of the late John D. Archbold of the Standard Oil company, died here today of pneumonia. His wife, formerly Miss May Barron of New York, and three children survive.

His children are Richard Archbold, now with an expedition of the Museum of Natural History of New York in Madagascar; Adrian Archbold in school near Tucson, Ariz., and Miss Frances Archbold, in school at Pittsfield, Mass.

Jean F. Webb, 81, Inventor and Signal Co. Head, Dies

White Plains, N. Y., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Jean Francis Webb, 81, inventor and president of the International Signal company of New York, died today at the home of his son. Mr. Webb took out more than fifty patents on various inventions, the most important of which was the pneumatic cyanide process for the extraction of gold. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Webb, a son, and two grandchildren.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Vice-Admiral George Anson Primrose, who was placed in the retired list in 1908, died today at the age of 80.

Edwin C. Richardson, for many years an officer of O. W. Richardson & Co., loop furniture dealers, died yesterday at his home at 9506 South Winchester avenue after an illness of several months. He was 74 years old.

EDWIN C. RICHARDSON.

Mr. Richardson was born at Three Rivers, Mich., and came to Chicago in 1885 at the age of 30 to become associated with his brother, the late O. W. Richardson, who was then engaged in the wholesale carpet business here. When the Richardson company was incorporated in 1900, Edwin Richardson became vice president, succeeding to the presidency upon his brother's death in 1912. He retired from active business in July, 1918, because of ill-health.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary E. Richardson; one son, Howard E.; two daughters, Mrs. Eugene Mathis of Chicago and Mrs. Ernest Young of Los Angeles, and one sister, Mrs. Frances E. Greig. Funeral services will be held at 1 p. m. tomorrow at the chapel at 62d street and Harvard avenue. Burial will be private at Butterfield Park.

Archer A. Landon, Buffalo Business Leader, Is Dead

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Archer A. Landon, 61, former vice president of the American Radiator company, and a business leader in Buffalo for the last 20 years, died here last night. Born in Detroit, Mr. Landon took an active interest in work of trade unions and served for a time as president of the Associated Labor Unions in that city. During the world war he became personal adviser to President Wilson on labor conditions in the country.

Charles J. Hanke, Retired Shoe Manufacturer, Dies

Charles J. Hanke, retired Chicago shoe manufacturer, died yesterday at his winter home in Miami, Fla. He was 68 years old and retired two years ago as president of the shoe manufacturing company bearing his name. His widow, Mrs. Caroline Hanke, four married daughters and a son survive him. His Chicago home was at 224 North Central avenue. The body will be brought here today for burial.

GRUNDY HAPPY AS WOOLEN YARN DUTY IS RAISED

New Senator Declines to Vote on Bill.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—[Special.]—Increased protection for woolen manufacturers was approved today by the senate over the opposition of the coalition of Democrats and radicals. A committee amendment to the tariff bill increasing the protective rate on woolen yarn from 40 to 45 per cent, was adopted by a vote of 35 to 29. Other increased protective rates were agreed to without roll calls as well as boosts in compensatory specific duties to correspond to the advance from 31 to 34 cents per pound in the duty on raw wool.

While radicals led by Senator John J. Blaine [Rep., Wis.], were vainly protesting against additional protection for woolen manufactures, Senatory Joseph R. Grundy [Rep., Pa.], was observing with satisfaction the results of his labors as a tariff lobbyist.

Grundy's Pencil Busy.

It was the first experience of the new Pennsylvania senator, who watched tariff making from the side lines for more than 30 years, on the inside of the framing of tariff schedules. He was one of less than a dozen senators who remained constantly on the floor. Although taking no part in the debate, Senator Grundy was busy with a pencil, making notations on a copy of the tariff bill as the senate acted on various amendments.

Senator Grundy refrained from voting in the roll call on an increased duty on woolen yarn.

"I am interested in the industry affected by this paragraph," said Senator Grundy when his name was called. "I, therefore, withhold my vote."

Senator Grundy announced when he was first seated in December that he saw no reason why he should not participate in tariff making, despite his connection with the woolen industry and the attacks upon his lobbying activities.

Coalition Ranks Broken.

His action today indicated that he had decided to at least refrain from voting on the rates which affect his own industry. The coalition went to pieces in the test vote on woolen yarn when only eight Republicans voted in the negative. From twelve to fourteen Republicans usually have lined up with the coalition forces. Four Democrats voted with the regular Republicans in support of the higher rate.

The test vote applied to yarn valued at $1 but not more than $1.50 per pound. The house bill increased the specific rate of 36 cents per pound, as in the present law, to 40 cents to compensate for the increase from 31 to 34 cents per pound in the duty on raw wool. The protective rate of 40 per cent in the present law was retained.

After the roll call on yarn valued at more than $1 and not more than $1.50 per pound the senate accepted a protective duty of 50 per cent on yarn valued at more than $1.50. A specific rate of 40 cents per pound also applies. The house bill provided a rate of 45 per cent, while the present rate is 40 per cent.

Woven Fabrics Duty Higher.

The senate accepted without roll calls corresponding increased protective duties on woven fabrics. Virtually all committee amendments in the woolen schedule were disposed of, including those on felts, blankets, pile fabrics, knit fabric, hose, knit underwear, outerwear, carpets, and rugs.

During the debate Senator Pat Harrison [Dem., Miss.] described the present woolen schedule as worse than the celebrated schedule K of the Payne-Aldrich law. Senator Grundy, incidentally, had a hand in the framing of that schedule.

Senator Joseph T. Robinson [Dem., Ark.], minority leader, who is leaving for London as a delegate to the naval arms conference, in a statement today, said that the tariff bill ought to be passed by the senate between Feb. 1 and 15. An early conference agreement should be possible, he said, if President Hoover will recede on the question of the flexible tariff. Otherwise he predicted a deadlock and failure of all tariff legislation.

ARM CRUSHED BY ELEVATOR.

Surgeons at St. Luke's hospital yesterday amputated the right arm of Carl Staad, 34 years old, engineer of a building at 56 West Lake street, after it had been crushed by an elevator passing the fifth floor as Staad was making repairs in the shaft.

55 MILLIONS TO RIVERS, HARBORS IN ANNUAL BILL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—[Special.]—Increased appropriations for inland waterway development and for flood control on the Mississippi as recommended by President Hoover are included in the annual war department appropriation bill reported today from the house committee on appropriations.

The amount provided for river and harbor improvement for the fiscal year 1931, is $55,000,000, as against $50,000,000 for the current year. For flood control on the Mississippi under the 325 million dollar project, the bill appropriates $35,000,000, as compared with $30,000,000 for the current year. The total appropriation to the corps of engineers of the war department is $92,480,500.

A statement of proposed allocations from the $55,000,000 fund for river and harbor improvement, which was presented to the appropriations subcommittee during its hearings, shows that $17,734,360 will be devoted to new construction and $3,078,000 to maintenance on the Mississippi system, $6,412,600 for new construction, and $12,557,910 for maintenance of sea coast harbors and channels; $2,361,500 for new construction, and $2,323,900 for maintenance of lake harbors and channels; $5,189,000 for new construction, and $2,041,400 for maintenance of intracoastal canals, $2,500,000 for surveys, and the balance for miscellaneous purposes.

The amount to be allocated to the federal project on the Illinois river between Grafton and Utica, Ill., is $770,000. The amount required to complete this project as of June 30, 1929, was $2,250,000. The amount allotted for the current year was $850,000.

Illinois Project Uncertain.

Brig. Gen. Herbert Deakyne, assistant chief of engineers, during the hearings, a transcript of which was made public today, was questioned about the Illinois project.

"It is a pretty complicated situation," said Gen. Deakyne.

"It is complicated by reason of the diversion from Lake Michigan at Chicago. Just exactly what kind of an improvement we put in depends somewhat on whether that diversion goes on as it is now, or whether it is curtailed in any way. We have put in a project with a limit on the cost, so that we can adapt the work to the situation as it develops. We may get through with considerably less than the figure we placed as the limit, or we may have to go clear up to it."

Cites River Commerce Data.

Lieut. Col. Edmund Daley, in charge of river and harbor work, told the appropriations subcommittee in justifying expenditures for waterway development that the total waterborne commerce at the ports and on the rivers, canals and conecting channels of the United States during the calendar year 1928 amounted to 539,200,000 tons, valued at 24 billion, 159 million dollars.

OUSTED PASTOR'S $20,000 SLANDER VERDICT UPSET

Rockford, Ill., Jan. 6.—[Special.]—John A. L. Warren, who won a verdict for $20,000 damages against five members of his former church at Durand on a charge of slander, will have to make his fight for vindication again. Judge Arthur E. Fisher today granted a new trial to the five defendants, Edgar Best, Judd Van Sickle, A. E. Swinson, Henry Graham, and George Fritz.

Warren lost his pulpit and was unfrocked by the Rock River M. E. conference as a result of a story told to Hazel Lamb Lathery, who was employed as a maid in the pastor's home.

Judge Fisher said that some of the instructions given to the jury were so erroneous that he felt there should be a new trial.

He's building his bones and teeth now
—and he needs special help

"THE time to help your baby build good bones and teeth is during the first months and years of life," physicians are telling mothers.

"He must have special protection—even though he is breast-fed he needs it. Otherwise he may not have the finely-shaped head you want him to have, the full chest, straight legs, and sound, uncrowded teeth that will not decay easily."

Nature provides this protection—Vitamin D—in two ways. In sunshine and good cod-liver oil!

Direct sunshine would keep your baby safe, if he could get enough of it on his bare body. But this is not possible on account of clothing, clouds, fog and smoke. Even ordinary window glass filters out the rays that protect.

The use of Bottled Sunshine—good cod-liver oil—then, is urged as the sure protection.

The country's leading specialists advise the use of Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil. They prefer it because they know they can depend on its high vitamin content.

Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil is very rich in Vitamin D, the "sunshine vitamin" which helps to build good bones and teeth, and also in Vitamin A which promotes normal growth and increases resistance to infections.

When you choose Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil, you are using a vitamin-tested, vitamin-protected oil. Be sure to insist on Squibb's. At all reliable drug stores. Plain and Mint-flavored.

With moderation
THE GRIM SPECTRE
of that future shadow may be avoided

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Fashion revels in the soft, enchanting curves of the modern figure. Don't sacrifice that graceful contour by permitting your eyes to be bigger than your stomach. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. Eat healthfully but not immoderately. When tempted to treat yourself too well, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, light a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain the modern, alluringly-rounded figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"Coming events cast their shadows before"

"It's toasted"

*Be Moderate! . . . Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

ONE GAME EACH YEAR, HARVARD PREXY URGES

Advocates Curb on Athletics.

Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 6.—[Special.]—Reduction of Harvard's inter-collegiate athletic contests to one game in each of the major sports is proposed by President A. Lawrence Lowell of Harvard in his annual report to the board of overseers, made public today. In the report, covering the academic years 1928-'29, President Lowell said that over emphasis is placed on inter-collegiate games, but that there are wholesome signs in the increase in intramural athletics, from which the whole student body benefits.

A. L. LOWELL.

"Only occasionally have these reports dealt with the subject of athletics," said President Lowell, "but from time to time it is worth while to ask ourselves what is the object for which we are striving? And that is as true of intercollegiate sports as of anything else.

Recreation Is Excellent.

"Recreation and competitive sports are excellent, nay indispensable, in the training of youth; and intercollegiate contests are valuable, if not essential, in keeping up the general interests in sports of this kind, but they may be overdone. The two great nations of antiquity, whose language, deeds and thoughts our colleges have always taught, had games publicly attended and attracting wide interest, but conducted on different principles.

"No people ever set more store by competitive athletic contests than the Greeks; none valued and commemorated success more highly. Their sports attracted large crowds. Yet with them the object was, and always remained, the cultivation of physical excellence in young men.

Are We Becoming Roman?

"With the Romans, on the contrary, the primary object was the entertainment of the spectators, the performers becoming more and more professional, while the training of youth in health and strength was lost from sight almost altogether.

"Is not the Greek principle preferable to the Roman for our colleges? But with our frequent intercollegiate games, with the attracting of huge crowds at short intervals and continuous publicity, are we not slipping into the Roman attitude of mind?

"The Greeks thought one great contest of a kind in a year enough to sustain ardor in athletics. May it not be that a single intercollegiate meet in each sport would do the same? Many of the alumni are slipping into the Roman attitude of mind, while the authorities of the universities are striving to follow the Greek conception of these things."

STAR MICHIGAN PITCHER SIGNED BY YANKEES

New York, Jan. 6.—(AP)—The New York Yankees announced today the signing of Fred Asbeck of Lakewood, O., giant University of Michigan pitcher, who stands nearly 6 feet 6 inches. Asbeck pitched good ball in college and baffled several Japanese teams last summer in a tour of the orient with Michigan.

The Giants matched the Yankees and increased their roster by one, but the National League recruit is a catcher, Francis La Vegue, 19 year old, St. Louis boy, who played last summer with a California semi-pro outfit.

BULLET MERELY GIVES FOOTBALL STAR HEADACHE

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Though he was shot in the head while hunting yesterday, Jack Furay, 21, center on the 1929 Creighton university football team, was suffering only from a severe headache today. He expects to return to his classes tomorrow.

While waiting for three companions to join him, a ricochet bullet struck almost on the top of his head, knocking him off the log on which he was sitting. Furay's companions took him to a police station, where physicians removed the bullet which was lodged in the skull. The bullet was from a .22 caliber shell.

SYRACUSE PROS QUIT LEAGUE, FORFEIT GAMES

New York, Jan. 6.—(AP)—The franchise of the Syracuse club of the American Professional Basketball league was declared forfeited tonight.

All of Syracuse's remaining first half games will be declared forfeited to the clubs with which they were scheduled. Brooklyn, now tied with Cleveland for the lead, thus achieves two victories without the necessity of playing them.

All of Syracuse's players were declared free agents eligible to negotiate for new contracts when the second half campaign opens Jan. 21.

LAYTON'S CUE CROWN JOLTED BY KIECKHEFER

Champion Loses in 50-38 Game.

New York, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Johnny Layton of St. Louis received the first setback in the defense of his national three cushion billiard title tonight, when he was defeated by Augie Kieckhefer, Chicago southpaw, 50 to 38, in 50 innings. The defeat was Layton's first in four games while the victory, Kieckhefer's second in three starts, left the eight times former champion definitely in the race for titular honors.

With the defeat of Layton—his first in three years of tournament competition—Otto Reiselt of Philadelphia and Allan Hall of Chicago took the lead in the round robin tournament which ends Friday. Reiselt has won all four of his games, while Hall has been the victor in his three starts. The two leaders meet in the feature game tomorrow night.

Rallies in the 47th Inning.

Kieckhefer, who turned back Gus Copulos of Detroit last night in a sensational game after dropping a hard fought contest to Otto Reiselt, came from behind in the forty-seventh inning, with a brilliant cluster of fives and a well played safety, the Chicago southpaw went into a 37 to 33 lead and was never headed.

While Layton was rolling up an early advantage with clusters of two and three and a high run of five, Kieckhefer managed to stay in the running with one and two caroms an inning.

Reiselt Plays Brilliantly.

Reiselt remained in the unbeaten class by outclassing Tiff Denton of Kansas City, in 49 innings today. The score was 50 to 37, Reiselt closing with a brilliant display of shotmaking.

Hall's third victory of the tournament came in the afternoon, when he disposed of Harry Schuler of New York, 50 to 18, in 43 innings.

CHRISTMAS CARDS.

THE Wake has just looked over anew the many Christmas cards which came with holiday greetings. To us, this always is an interesting proceeding. It renews thoughts of many, at places afar, from whom we hear perhaps only once a year, friends from whom we'd like to hear more often and whom we hope would like to hear more often from us, but we and they simply do not get around to it in this busy world.

It was notable, too, how many cards were missing from those who usually send at this time. Perhaps the mails went wrong, but that seems hardly probable, for The Wake has the greatest respect for this branch of Uncle Sam's service. Perhaps expense was a factor in some cases. Perhaps more people are omitting cards and giving the money spent for cards to charity. In one instance friends received from a hospital greetings in behalf of Mr. Blank, with the explanation on a postal card that his Christmas card expense money had been given to the hospital instead.

We noted also the growing tendency to supplant the formal greeting cards with personally written messages to those of the more intimate circle. Perhaps 10 per cent of our greetings came that way, as compared to 5 per cent a year ago. Our own personal, not family, greeting cards are so designed that our signature in pen and ink appears thereon.

Many persons will tell you Christmas cards are an economic waste. Undoubtedly they are. Listing and addressing them becomes quite a chore at a busy season, but we like 'em and the custom.

Liquor seized from rum runners has been found on five coast guard vessels, presumably for the consumption of the guardsmen. And in Boston mobs were tearing down posters depicting the allurements of enlisting in the coast guard.

The Wake viewed the opening of the conference basketball season Saturday night. Wisconsin did not appear as strong as last year's co-champions. Northwestern looked better when it finally started clicking. Neither squad was as finished or as smooth working as it will be later in the season. Every seat in Patten gymnasium was filled. Northwestern certainly needs its contemplated new fieldhouse.

That Point After Touchdown.

Dear Harve: As long as the almighty grid powers have pronounced the point after touchdown desirable [much to your horror and ours] we propose this plan, which will require more skill and superior all-around football and yet keep the point-after plan.

After a touchdown let the ball be placed on the 20 yard line, from which point the scoring team must make the goal line in five downs by any means possible. If they carry the ball over by runs or pass, two points; if they kick the ball between the uprights, one point. The Grid Sisters.

I'd like to touch a canvas
With a brush so tenderly,
And paint the thoughts upon it
That in your face I see.
And then to also mold with clay
The roundness of your smile;
Not when you laugh with happiness,
But when borne down with trial.

6,500 CITIZENS CAN'T BE WRONG, SAYS DOC KRONE

His Renaissance Goes Over; Sonnenberg Wins

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Doc Krone's promised wrestling renaissance has dawned. Sixty-five hundred persons went out of the Coliseum last night singing in the rain. It was a highly artistic performance, save for a few grunts that didn't ring quite true. Incidentally, Gus Sonnenberg still is champion of the world, for he took Signor Joe Devito in two throws, the number prescribed for victory.

The 6,500 who attended formed a total just 5,000 higher than the number that attended Doc's last show, which Doc, after many discouragements, interpreted to mean that virtue will triumph in the end and that his statement that wrestlers are more honest than many bankers and other business men, after 30 years has been believed.

Two Overlook Renaissance.

There was one marring note in the advent of the new era. Marin Piestina and Wladek Zbyszko, two of the old fellows of the darker days, snorted around through a 30 minute draw. Doc had failed to tell them of the renaissance and their showing was strictly the old fashioned doloney.

Piestina, as is his custom, worked just like Isadora Duncan used to. That is, sans shoes. But even this novelty didn't stir the renaissance fans. While the old maestros were registering agony and pain at every flexing of the muscles, there was a raucous undercurrent in the crowd. At one point a customer shouted, "Get up, you bullhunk," and both artists stopped wrestling to peer out into the crowd to see which had been addressed.

Marin went in at a cool 281 pounds, even without his shoes, while Wladek was quite a few pounds lighter, but still very paunchy. The boys attributed their condition to the fact that each had eaten a heavy supper.

But no one kicked on the echo of the old era. The other three bouts were good, and brought very little booing and a great deal of applause.

Joe Devito, Sonnenberg's opponent, proved a willing worker and threw Gus over his head no fewer than 16 times before the pride of Dartmouth decided he had contributed enough suffering to the night's entertainment, and started bouncing Joe off the mat.

Drops Joe with Gusto.

Gus won the first fall in 54 minutes and 37 seconds with a body lock. Gus slammed the St. Louis Italian to the canvas with exceedingly great force, making it necessary for him to crawl out of the ring on his hands and knees.

It was thought that Joe would be ripe for the famous flying tackle after the resumption of wrestling, but not so. The artists performed for more than 10 minutes when Gus affixed a scissors to the neck and body and a wrist lock to which Joe succumbed. The official time for the second fall was 11 minutes and 18 seconds. Mr. Sonnenberg assisted the signor from the ring in a dazed condition.

Sonnenberg feinted the diving tackle after 25 minutes of wrestling and again after 40 minutes, but he never went far with his favorite technique. It was said at the ringside that Gus is taking lessons in all the classic holds, and may eventually forswear the diving tackle entirely.

Preserve Spirit of New Era.

In the opener Joe Stecher downed Paul Martinson with a body scissors in 21 minutes and 5 seconds. Just before the end Paul hoisted Joe on to his back and stood in the center of the ring with Joe poised aloft. They looked like models for a Rube Goldberg statue. After a while the statue toppled over and Joe applied the scissors.

The second bout was a fast, slambang draw between Midget Fischer, claimant of the middleweight title, and Zach Malkov, popular Chicago rassler. They performed for 45 minutes in a manner strictly in accordance with the new era.

ART'S FOE

Fields Takes Dancing Role to Beat Ros

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 6.—[Special.]—Jackie Fields, welterweight champion, failed to display his vaunted ability here tonight as he and Alf Ros, the Algerian, danced around the ring for ten rounds. Jackie won the decision, of course, but if he has a lethal punch, he carefully concealed the fact.

The sum total of the damage that was inflicted on Alf was a bloody nose. Fields showed plenty of speed and dazzling footwork, and he punched sharply and accurately, but he failed to live up to his reputation as a slugger. Fields weighed 147¾ and Ros 152¼.

HUAT'S BANTAM DEBUT MARRED; LOSES TO BELL

New York, Jan. 6.— (AP) —Archie Bell, veteran Brooklyn bantamweight, easily outpointed Eugene Huat of France, in a ten round bout at the St. Nicholas arena tonight. Huat, making his bantamweight debut after a successful career as a flyweight, was outboxed all the way, and there was no dispute over the official decision. Huat weighed 116¼; Bell, 118.

SHIRES DEFIES BOXING BAN; WILL FIGHT TONIGHT

Art Meets Al Spohrer in Boston Friday.

The Great Shires may not be a great pugilist, but he appears to be smart enough to put numerous national and state boxing officials on a merry-go-round, as witness the fact that tonight he will ignore all suspensions and reported suspensions and fight Tony Faeth in St. Paul. At least he has announced he will, and he's in St. Paul to do it.

Boxing officials, for the most part, are considered very serious minded gents who, through necessity, classify themselves with the United States Supreme court justices and the members of other high tribunals, which makes the Shires program, if carried out, notable, to say the least.

1. He will not appear at the Illinois boxing commission at a meeting called for 2 o'clock this afternoon to delve into the diving charges of Mysterious Dan Daly, the self-confessed trained seal from Columbus, O.

N. B. A. Doesn't Faze Him.

2. He will not take seriously the reports that he has been suspended in 32 states by that austere body, the National Boxing association. He argues that the national body cannot suspend him until he has been proved guilty.

3. He will not consider that the Michigan boxing commission was serious when it suspended him, but he will drop into Lansing at 9 o'clock Thursday morning en route to Boston to say hello to Bingo Brown, chairman of the Michigan commission, and the other commissioners, who will convene to pass on the diving charges of Battling Criss.

4. He will arrive in Boston Friday, and that night will fight Al Spohrer, catcher of the Boston Braves. Massachusetts is not in the N. B. A., so he won't have to tell the Massachusetts commish what he thinks of the national association.

Will Return Jan. 12.

Shires expects to return to Chicago on Jan. 12 and devote two days to such casual matters as getting himself right with Charles A. Comiskey, owner and president of the White Sox, for whom he expects to play first base in 1930. Then he will return to Detroit and go through with his fight with Battling Criss, he says.

The foregoing schedule means that Shires will have three fights with athletes known to have an aversion for the tank and some fear is felt among baseball fans that before they are over the blows he may receive on his head, added to the beating he got at the hands of George Trafton, may have some serious after effects.

If Shires were to become punch drunk, it is pointed out, it would greatly impair his talents as a ballplayer and he might have considerable difficulty bearing the terrific sun rays that beat down on the heads of ballplayers during the course of a season.

That Blackburne Matter.

Even if he comes out of the fights sound and well he may not find Mr. Comiskey in an especially jovial and receptive mood.

In the first place, Shires must take up his suspension for his last difficulty with Lena Blackburne with Commissioner Landis. While normally a club matter, Shires sought to get a reprieve and himself placed the ruckus in the hands of Commissioner Landis. It may be that once he has the young man's old case before him, he'll want to go into C. Arthur's more recent activities.

SHARPSHOOTING OF KAWAL, KAMP BRINGS VICTORY

Ervin Scores Five Buckeye Goals.

Champaign, Ill., Jan. 6.—[Special.]—Playing heads up basketball for most of the game, despite its inexperience, the young University of Illinois team defeated Ohio State's veteran squad, 19 to 15, tonight.

Ervin, Ohio State's blond forward, was the high point man of the game, making five out of the six baskets garnered by the Buckeyes.

Eddie Kawal and Babe Kamp led the Illini while the floor performance of George Fencl was excellent. Chuck Harper was held to one basket, but the veteran forward missed many close ones.

Illinois took the play away from Ohio State after the first few minutes of play. Ervin made the first basket after four minutes, but a one-handed shot by Acting Captain Bur Harper and a free throw by Babe Kamp put the Illini in the lead. Ervin made another short shot and the Buckeyes took their biggest lead of the half when Fesler sank a free throw after being fouled by Harper.

Ed Kawal scored five points on a foul and two baskets that sent the Illini into the lead, 8 to 5. Ervin made his third basket and the final Ohio State score of the half, but Bartholomew boosted the Illinois lead to two points with a free throw as the half ended with the score Illinois, 9; Ohio State, 7.

Illini Hold Advantage.

The Illini were never behind during the second half, and although Ohio came to within one point of them on two occasions, the impervious defense of Coach Ruby's team had the Buckeyes shooting from far out on the court.

Kawal started the second half by making a free throw and Ervin made his fourth basket before Kawal and Babe Kamp scored baskets that brought the score to 14 to 9 and gave Illinois its biggest lead of the game.

Evans, Ohio State forward, made a basket from far out on the court and followed with a free throw, but the potent Illinois offense drove through the Buckeye defense for two more baskets to insure the well earned lead. Ervin sent his fifth basket whisking through the net from past the center of the floor as the game waned. Then Fencl, Illinois' speedy guard, scored the last point of the game from the free throw line.

Bot Kamp's field goal in the second overtime period gave the Illinois reserves a 25 to 23 victory tonight over the Indiana seconds. Kamp, until recently a varsity guard, was high point man with 11 points. Varsity lineup:

WOLVERINES WIN, 32 TO 17

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 6.—[Special.]—Michigan's more experienced basketball team rode over Minnesota here tonight to a 32-17 victory in the first Big Nine basketball game of the season.

Away to a 19-6 lead in the first half, Michigan played safe in the last period until the Gophers brought the score to 17-25. Then the visitors took the offensive again to bring the score to 32-17 as the final gun sounded.

Gopher Five Unsteady.

Orwig of Michigan made four field goals and two free throws. For Minnesota acting captain Loose made three baskets.

The Gophers, most of them sophomores, suffered a bad case of stage fright at the start and it was not until the second half that they began to hit the basket consistently.

Chapman was the directing genius of the 1929 champions, his deliberate play and expert handling of the ball being a big factor in his team's victory.

MIAMI BOXING CHIEFS CALL OFF CHOCOLATE BOUT

Miami, Fla., Jan. 6.—(AP)—The Miami boxing commission today refused to sanction a proposed fight here between Kid Chocolate, Negro battler, and José Martinez. The fight, promoted by Lou Magnolia of New York, was to take place Feb. 10 at the Jai Alai fronton which he manages.

Today, however, Louis MacReynolds, chairman of the boxing commission, announced he had sent a letter to Sam Kantor, Magnolia's assistant, refusing to sanction the battle. He said mixed fighting would not be permitted under any circumstances.

The chairman said he had received many telephone calls from residents opposing the proposition and quoted one objector as saying that if the commission did not stop the fight, "he knew an organization that would."

CHASTAIN WINS DECISION OVER HAAKON HANSEN

Texan Forces Fighting in 8 Round Bout.

Fight Decisions

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Clyde Chastain of Dallas, Tex., refined the middleweight championship aspirations of Haakon Hansen by winning a clean cut eight round decision over the Norwegian in the main bout of Promoter James C. Mullen's boxing show at the White City arena last night. The decision, however, was not unanimous. R. H. Bell, one of the judges, and Referee Norman McGarrity gave the verdict to the Texan, and W. A. Beattye, the other judge, called it a draw.

The fight started in a tame manner and the crowd of 2,000 who paid $3,500 to file through the doors shouted for action. In the third round they started to trade punches in a more pleasing manner.

Chastain Forces Fight.

Chastain was entitled to the decision because of his leading and aggressiveness. He forced the fighting in nearly every round and at times stabbed the Norwegian with as many as three straight lefts without returns. The Texan also shot left hooks to the body and seldom failed to cross his right to the jaw when his left found its mark.

Hansen did not unlimber in his customary manner until the last round, when he tried hard to land a knockout punch. He connected with several right crosses, but the crafty Chastain either went into close quarters or held on. The Norwegian crossed a right to Clyde's left eye in the early part of the final stanza and blood started to flow from a cut over the eyebrow. This was practically the only damage inflicted during the entire fight and Hansen won the final round by a decided margin.

Jimmy Owens of Oklahoma City won all the way from Louie Lavelle of Anderson, Ind., in the eight round semi-windup. Owens did all the leading and timed his punches very well.

Finnucane Stops Skeril.

Les Finnucane, son of Billy Finnucane, the Chicago featherweight of a quarter of a century ago, stopped Albin Skeril, local middleweight, in the first round of the opening fight.

George Larson of Chicago stopped Sammy Adducci of Roseland in the first round of the second fight. Referee Tommy Gilmore stopped the bout when Sammy was helpless on the ropes after one minute and forty-seven seconds.

Al Stillman of St. Louis was given the eight round decision over Emmet Curtice of Grand Rapids, Mich., in the third fight. In the other fight of the card Paul Pantaleo, local heavyweight, won by a technical knockout from Blondy Jack Davis of Mississippi, after Pantaleo had knocked his opponent down twice in the fifth round.

C.A.A. Sextet Wins from Badgers, 3-1

The Chicago Athletic association, champion of the disbanded Chicago senior amateur hockey association league the last three years, defeated the University of Wisconsin hockey team, 3 goals to 1, at the Stadium last night.

To the 2,000 fans whose only knowledge of hockey has been from watching the major professional leaguers the game was a sorry exhibition, but as college hockey it wasn't too bad. The experience of the Cherry Circle athletes proved too much for the Badger youngsters.

The Chicago skaters scored twice in the first period and once in the second period before the Badgers could ram home a goal, while the third period was scoreless. Cann scored first, stickhandling through the defense though skated off. He circled behind the net and hooked a shot into the corner. Fred Robertson got another on a pass from Wier, shooting from inside the blue line and boring in to cage the rebound after Goalie Frisch had stopped his first shot.

Robertson, captain and center of the C. A. A., scored again in the second period with an angle shot from the side. The Badger goalie stopped the shot under his left arm, but as he lifted his arm the puck dropped behind the red line. Wisconsin got its goal when Siegal began a rush, passed to Gil Krueger in the Cherry Circle's defense area. Comfort blocked the shot, but Krueger came in from the left to count the goal. Lineup:

Bout with Shires Would Give Rojas a Chance to Win Once

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 6.—A joke is a joke, and Arthur Shires, the baseball person, has provided many hearty guffaws this winter, but it is just as well that the baseball training season will be here in a few weeks, because he is beginning to repeat himself like a cowboy philosopher. Mr. Shires has engaged in three professional prize fights, the second of which demonstrated that he could not fight to any noticeable extent, and a good time has been had by all concerned, including the customers, up to and including the present.

But if Mr. Shires continues his prize fighting he will soon lose, if he has not already lost, his character as comedy relief in the very serious business of pugilism and become, through the subtle processes of crowd psychology, just another big, clumsy bum falling on his face in the roped arena.

Suggests Farewell to Ring.

Then the customers will quit laughing at him and start mocking, and Mr. Shires, being, as I read, a sensitive, good natured boy, with the finest of credentials from his pastor and the state senator of his home district in Texas, will be very unhappy.

As a farewell to pugilism for him I would suggest that Mr. James [Moon] Mullen, the gentleman who presented him in his first contest against Folding Dan Daley, the human telescope, arrange a contest between Mr. Shires and Quintin Romero-Rojas, the South American rafflebeard, who has been punched out of any semblance to his original form, if any, to determine whether there is any regularly ordained prize fighter in the trade whom Mr. Shires can lick.

I offer this proposal with only the most kindly feeling for Quintin Romero, believing that he would win this heat by a knockout of some sort by the end of the third round and that this would be a timely spiritual fillip to the most melancholy of all those abused, exploited and utterly hopeless unfortunates, the silent, patient stumble-bums.

Know but Two Emotions.

At the present time Romero is reduced to the job of bull pen catcher for Primo Carnera, who outweighs him by about 100 pounds and beats him on the flanks and about his gnarled ears with fists as big as bowling balls.

I have heard Mr. Dumb Daniel Morgan say that heavyweights have only two emotions, hunger and the promptings of romance, and he goes on to tell me that after a gladiator has been belted around for a certain length of time he feels only a vague reflection of the hurt, like an armadillo. But I am not even sure that an armadillo isn't hurt by a kick on the tonneau. His apparent unconcern may be nothing but a disdainful pose, and so may Quintin Romero's.

I recall Quintin Romero's first fights in this country in the old Garden, when he was young and hopeful, having read about Luis Angel Firpo's great prosperity in the American ring.

It's Romero's Big Chance.

It has been so long since I heard of Romero's having won a bout that I would not be disposed to argue with any one who should arbitrarily elect him the least best heavyweight in regular practice nowadays, but in this I would make a distinction between heavyweights in regular practice and mere adventurers like Mr. Shires and George Trafton.

Romero has had about ten years of experience and while his sort of experience can be and, in his case undoubtedly has been carried to excess, a fellow with ten years of service in the ring will have learned certain routine tricks that Shires, after three fights probably knows nothing about, just as a newspaper poet learns to think and almost to talk in meters and rhymes which would set a novice to counting feet on his fingers and fumbling in the rhyming dictionary.

If Romero should knock out Mr. Shires or make him sit down in acute fatigue it would be a great thing for Romero, both chaps would make some money, and Shires himself would only be confirmed in the belief which must have dawned upon him with something of a noonday glare already, namely, that he is no prize fighter. It is a moral duty of the pugilistic profession to get Romero somebody that he can lick before he leaves the ring and the match which I have suggested would give Shires a chance to leave them laughing as he says good-by.

Would Tunney Be Barred?

The various boxing commissioners have been much upset about certain sinister rumors and the charges of Folding Dan Daley and one Battling Criss, of Detroit, Mr. Daley alleging that he was intimidated by unscrupulous characters in Chicago and Mr. Criss reporting that he was offered a sum of money to subside for Shires, which he virtuously refused to do. Mr. Shires has been blacklisted in 32 states on suspicion of having poisoned the bulwarks of clean sports or words to that effect.

This causes me to wonder what attitude these 32 boxing commissions would take if James Joseph Tunney should wish to return to the prize fighting profession in which he achieved the only distinction he has. Mr. Tunney, upon his retirement, jovially admitted that even if he had not won the heavyweight championship on his merits he would have won it on a prearranged decision of foul in return for which assurance he agreed to pay Mr. Boo Boo Hoff 20 per cent of his gross earnings.

This undertaking, I regret to recall, he did not comply with, creating some doubt as to his trustworthiness in confidential dealings.

C. A. A. MAY VOTE TO CONSOLIDATE WITH YACHT CLUB

A proposal that the Chicago Athletic association and the Chicago Yacht club merge may be put before the members of the former organization at the annual election Jan. 28. Reports were current yesterday that the C. A. A. directors already had decided to place the matter before the members, but officers of the club refused to confirm or deny the rumor.

The proposal as outlined is that the C. A. A. abandon its present Michigan avenue quarters, which it has outgrown, and consolidate under the roof of the $3,000,000 building the yacht club plans to erect on the lake front.

If the Cherry Circle members are given a chance to vote on the matter, and accept it, the proposition then will be placed before the yachtsmen.

HOLD AMATEUR MEET.

The third annual invitation wrestling tournament for amateur wrestlers will be held at the University of Chicago Jan. 10 and 11, Coach S. K. Vorres announced yesterday. The meet is open to wrestlers from colleges, parks, playgrounds, settlements, the Y. M. C. A., and other amateur groups.

Sox Batteries to Report Feb. 18, Fielders Later

Donie Bush, the new White Sox pilot, doesn't want to be deluged with strange faces when he gets into training camp next month. To avoid this he will have his charges report in two different groups at San Antonio. The battery men will be instructed to arrive there Feb. 18 or 19. Ten days later the outfielders and infielders will be summoned to their labors. By the time the latter group arrives Bush hopes to be able to call all his catchers and pitchers by their first names.

The White Sox are going to have a new catcher as soon as certain trading details can be overcome. The youngster is reported to be in the American Association, but Business Manager Grabiner refuses to reveal the identity. The club owning the fellow now is debating with Itself as to which men it should pick from a list submitted by the Sox. Should the deal fall through the regular backstop job will be handled by Moe Berg.

Tut Arrives to Begin Drill for Flowers Bout

Bruce Flowers, who will meet King Tut in the lightweight feature bout at the Chicago Stadium Friday night, will arrive this morning and will work out this afternoon at Barry's gymnasium. Tut arrived with his manager yesterday and took a light work out of the Arcade gymnasium. Both fighters declared they are in excellent shape for Friday's bout.

Tut has beaten Stanislaus Loayza, Tod Morgan, Ray Miller, Nilly Petrolle, and Billy Wallace during the last year. He knocked out the latter on New Year's day. Flowers' record includes knockouts over Pinky Kaufman, and Stanislaus Loayza., and decisions over Ray Miller, Honey Boy Finnegan, Billy Petrolle and Spug Myers.

Tony Vacarelli of New York, who will meet Jackie Fields on the same card, is a strong fighter and the fact that he will fight at 150 pounds will give him a five pound advantage over Fields.

In the six round preliminary bout Barney Ross, winner of the featherweight Golden Glove tournament last year in New York will meet Louie New, one of the best of the younger Milwaukee crop of lightweights.

In the other preliminary Billy Gabriel and Jack Barry, Chicago lightweights, will mix for four rounds.

GARDEN AWAITS CAMPOLO.

New York, Jan. 6.—[Special.]—Efforts of the state athletic commission to push Phil Scott, the English ladder lifter, on the Madison Square Garden corporation as opponent for Jack Sharkey at Miami on Feb. 27 were halted temporarily today when Frank Bruen, vice president of the Garden, announced that negotiations will await the arrival of Victorio Campolo from the Argentine Wednesday.

IOWA READY FOR VISIT OF BIG NINE ELIGIBILITY TRIO

Iowa City, Ia., Jan. 6.—[Special.]—The impending visit of the eligibility committee of the Western conference to Iowa City Friday was the subject of conjecture here today as students and faculty members returned from the holiday vacation preparatory to the opening of school tomorrow morning.

The thirteen athletes who were declared ineligible three weeks ago for borrowing from the "Belting loan fund" are prepared to appear before the conference committee to testify that they thought they were receiving loans from the bank in which the fund was kept.

What action it will be within the power of the investigating committee to take is not known, though it is presumed here that the group will be able only to pass a recommendation on to the other schools. Should the committee recommend reinstatement of the athletes, among whom are Mike Farroh, co-captain elect of the football team; Oran Pape, gridiron star; and six members of the basketball squad, Iowa probably would ask for a mail ballot by the Big Nine institutions.

Prof. Thomas E. French of Ohio State is chairman of the conference eligibility committee, the other members of which are Prof. O. F. Long of Northwestern and Prof. Ralph Aigler of Michigan.

Grand Crossing Post Holds Amateur Boxing Tonight

The second series of amateur boxing bouts presented by the Grand Crossing post of the American Legion will be held tonight at the Chatham theater, 76th street and Cottage Grove avenue. Lawrence Rago and Tony Stone will meet in the feature bout. Commander Edward T. Mead, Dr. Thure Nordlander, Judge Mathew D. Hartigan and C. M. Hannagan comprise the committee in charge of the bouts.

Becker Finds Land of Hush in North Michigan Barrens

BY BOB BECKER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Ogemaw County, Northwestern Michigan, Jan. 6.—We are in the land of hush tonight—in the heart of a great tract of Michigan's "barren grounds." For miles around us there is nothing but clean snow whipped by a north wind, and a miscellaneous hodge podge growth of scrub oaks, young jack pines, cedar and alder swamps.

To the south the scrub oak lands extend for many miles—bleak, abandoned acreage given over to wild animals. East of us is the same setting. North you can travel for fifty miles through this sandy country of low grade soil. You can go miles without seeing a tenanted farmhouse.

Wild Life Moves In.

It is a waste land of scrubby trees, a tangle of oaks, jack pines, swamps, alders, wild cherry trees and other growth which follows forest fires. Man has turned his back on this desolate country. With his going and the growth of cover, the white tailed deer, red fox, weasel, snow shoe hare, and other wild life have moved in.

Our headquarters in this land of snow and silence is the Ogemaw game refuge—a tract of approximately 6,000 acres of scrub oak, young jack pines and swamps set aside by the state for the protection of all forms of wild life. Blaine Brannon, a ruddy faced outdoorsman, skilled in the use of gun, trap and snowshoes, is the guard who watches over this tract. Besides this 6,000 acres he has three small refuges nearby to look after. Each contains 1,280 acres of this waste land, abandoned by the farmers and recovered by the state for refuges.

A lonely post is this during the next few weeks. January snows will hem it in. Last year Brannon was snowbound for nine weeks.

Silence, Seclusion Reign.

Tonight it is cozy here in our little house, but outside a cold wind is rustling the golden brown leaves which still cling to the branches of the scrub oaks. Down in the swamp the deer are bedded down for the night, protected by the dense growths of cedar and spruce.

Silence. Seclusion. Here in the sparsely settled barrens you can get your fill of both, especially now when the snow is drifting across the open firelines in the brush and only an occasional owl or chicadee lifts a voice in the thickets.

PLAYGROUND ICE TEAMS TO ENTER TRIBUNE DERBIES

Speedsters Prepare for Silver Skates Races.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Herman J. Fischer, superintendent of Chicago's school playgrounds, yesterday requested all directors to start immediately to groom teams for THE TRIBUNE'S fourteenth annual Silver Skates Derbies to be held at the Garfield park lagoon on Jan. 25 and 26. There are fifty-seven playgrounds in the system and skating has been permitted at most of the grounds since the weather turned cold.

Fischer, who also is president of the Western Skating association under whose auspices THE TRIBUNE races will be held, has served as an official in Silver Skates events since their inauguration fourteen years ago. Like others who have served over this span of years, Fischer appreciates the benefits which the growing boys and girls derive from such spirited and healthy competition.

Playground Teams Enter.

"In the past the playground system has always supported THE TRIBUNE races," Supt. Fischer said. "It was THE TRIBUNE which started ice racing in the playgrounds and our track and field athletics were given impetus when THE TRIBUNE held a playground meet in Grant park several years ago. In recent years the playgrounds have developed some very fine skaters and as long as such events as TRIBUNE Derbies are held, the playgrounds will be represented."

Walter Wright, superintendent of aviation, parks, and bathing beaches, has interested those who have charge of the various parks where skating is permitted, while Theo A. Gross, who has charge of eighteen municipal playgrounds, asked his directors to develop skaters for THE TRIBUNE races last month. Gross is another well known local official who acted when the first Derby was held.

Entries are expected from universities, colleges, high schools, and clubs. A large number of skaters will enter unattached and some of these may carry off the prizes in their respective divisions. An entry is also expected from Canada where some very fast skaters have been developed.

No Entry Fee Required.

The board of control of the Western Skating association will hold a special meeting tonight at the Opal A. A. to arrange plans for THE TRIBUNE Derbies and those of other skating associations. The same officials who have handled Silver Skates races in the past will officiate this year.

No entry fee is required. The only thing essential is registration with the Western Skating association. An individual entry blank with instructions appears on the sports pages. Team entry can be made by classifying the skaters in age groups and sending in their names on one piece of paper. Such form must be signed by an official of the organization the skaters will represent. Entries positively close on Jan. 19.

Real Cause of Giants' Row Now Is Told

New York, Jan. 6.—[Special.]—What he termed the real "inside" on the dispute and litigation among stockholders of the National Exhibition company, owners of the New York Giants, was disclosed today by Isaac N. Jacobson, attorney for Magistrate Francis X. McQuade, who said his client wants to buy the team but refuses to pay the price demanded by Charles A. Stoneham, the president, for his stock.

Mr. Stoneham, he said, wants $600,000 more than his stock is worth and Mr. McQuade has "refused to be gouged." Mr. Jacobson refused to say whether the magistrate, who already holds 280 of the company's 4,664 shares, is to be backed in his desire to purchase the Giants by William F. Kenny, bosom friend of former Gov. Smith.

Mr. Kenny bought an interest in the club a few months ago and has joined other minority stockholders in a suit against Mr. Stoneham for an accounting of sums the president is alleged to have borrowed from the company. The complainants contend the loans should have been repaid with 6 per cent interest, instead of the customary 4 per cent.

WALKER CHARGED WITH CRUELTY IN DIVORCE SUIT

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Edward Patrick Walker, best known as Mickey Walker, the boxer, was accused of being drunk, cruel and abusive in a suit for divorce filed in Chancery court today by Margaret Kelly Walker.

Mrs. Walker asked for an absolute decree in divorce, alimony and custody of Michael Walker, 5, and an expected child. Her papers alleged Walker earned $200,000 a year.

Among the allegations were that the boxer tore a door from an ice box in a drunken frenzy. He threw the dinner meat at the chauffeur and then fed it to the dog. Also that he took a "lavish" trip to Paris that cost $60,000, and did not ask her to accompany him on the tour.

SYDNEY, Australia, Jan. 6.—(AP)—A new world's cricket record was established today by Don Bradman, playing for New South Wales against Queensland. He hit up 452 runs and was still undefeated when his team's innings closed. This surpasses the previous best score of 437, made by W. H. Ponsford of Victoria against Queensland in 1928.

PEORIA GIANT, 7 FEET TALL, SEEKS GOLDEN GLOVES

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 6.—[Special.]—If Peoria fails to produce a heavyweight champion for THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S Golden Gloves tournament, this city at least will claim the tallest entry. James Easte, 20 year old truck driver for the Salvation Army, who stands seven feet in his socks and scales slightly more than 200 pounds, is Peoria's bid for recognition in the heavy ranks.

So many entries are being received for the Journal-Transcript Y. M. C. A. sectional meet here that officials fear they'll be compelled to set a limit.

RAIL EARNINGS WILL ESTABLISH NEW HIGH MARK

Final Figure to Run Over 1¼ Billions.

BY O. A. MATHER.

In spite of the slackening in traffic during the last two months of 1929, the American railroads set a new high record for earnings last year. And their earnings represented the largest return on property investment since 1926 at least, and possibly since before the world war.

Earnings of the class 1 railroads for the first eleven months of 1929 indicate that the final figures will show upward of $1,260,000,000 of net railway operating income and an annual rate of return on property investment of about 5 per cent.

For the eleven months the net operating income was $1,201,172,558, or at the annual rate of 5.04 per cent on investment, according to reports filed with the American Railway association. For the corresponding period in 1928 net operating income was $1,098,123,573, equivalent to 4.68 per cent.

The final figure for all of 1928 was $1,172,864,100, or 4.65 per cent on property investment, and the final figure for 1929 will depend on the relative decrease in traffic last month. The best previous record since 1916, when a rate of return of 5.90 per cent was earned, was established in 1926, when net operating income was $1,213,989,966, equivalent to 4.99 per cent on property investment.

Illinois Prospects.

Illinois is going to do pretty well in a business way this year, according to answers by 100 newspaper editors to a questionnaire sent out by the Illinois chamber of commerce. There were four questions: Estimated building plans for each city this year; opinion of retail trade; opinion of effects of decline in the stock market, and what are the optimistic and pessimistic local factors.

The replies showed no lack of confidence. The editors listed ten reasons for optimism and four pessimistic factors. The reasons for optimism included industrial expansion, improved agricultural conditions, progressive re-

Sees Price Fixing Failure in Coffee Growers' Plight

BY SCRUTATOR.

Inherent difficulties in working out projects designed to create profitable prices of agricultural products by controlling the flow to market have been made apparent in the experiences of Brazilian growers of coffee.

There was a severe break in coffee prices in October, and there has been little improvement since. The department of commerce reports that the Santos and Rio products closed the year 1929 at about one-half the prices of a year ago, and that other coffees, not quite so severely hit, were off 30 to 35 per cent in the year.

Since 1924 Brazil, through the coffee institute of the state of Sao Paulo, had pegged the prices of the world supplies. The institute operated in a manner that is reminiscent of, or rather a predecessor of, the present plans for farm relief in the United States. The institute, borrows on the credit of the richest state in Brazil. It does not buy coffee, but strives to stabilize the flow to foreign markets by storing in warehouses in the interior.

Stimulates Competition.

For five years the institute apparently was entirely successful. It kept the average prices of coffee higher than they had been previously. But as the department of commerce expert, George J. Eder, points out, these prices stimulated production in other countries and the world outside Brazil and they now furnish nine million bags a year, as against six millions or less before the war.

Likewise, the valorization scheme was accompanied by big crops in Brazil itself. The world consumption is estimated at from twenty-two million to twenty-four million bags. A bumper crop of the South American republic alone reached twenty-eight million bags in 1927-'28, by reluctant admission of the Brazilian president.

The following year there was a short crop, but with the carryover Brazil again had more than enough coffee to supply the whole world. An estimate quoted by the National City bank is to the effect that next July, just before the new harvest in Brazil, the visible supply will equal or be near to the demand, while the new crop is believed to be about as large.

If these figures are correct, there will be two years' supply on hand next summer. An added feature of serious import is that the plantings made since 1924 in various parts of the tropics are just coming to the bearing stage. It requires five years for a coffee tree to produce marketable berries.

Destroys Own Usefulness.

Under these circumstances it is not remarkable that the financing of the crops became too great a task for the coffee institute, or that the price fell precipitately. Like the British plan to control rubber, which was abandoned in 1928, the valorization plan produced the very thing which was to destroy its usefulness. It made prices good, and good prices brought on larger crops, and larger crops brought at last lower prices.

Coffee and rubber are almost strictly export crops from the countries that produce them. It may be recalled that while the agitation for the McNary-Haugen bill was in progress, both Britain's and Brazil's plans were pointed to as demonstrating the probable success of similar measures here.

Now about all that could be said of them is that they worked for a while and had consequences that were little short of disastrous to the growers.

Bills Propose Changes in Country's Banking Laws

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Creation of a new federal reserve cooperative banking system, prohibition of short selling on stock and grain exchanges, permission for establishment of branches by national banks, and a realignment of the federal bank examining forces were among the propositions placed before congress today in bills dealing with the country's financial structure.

Indicating that banking laws would receive considerable attention, the house banking committee today asked permission to hold hearings during the regular sessions of the house, instead of confining its meetings to the forenoon hours. The committee will begin its work Wednesday by taking up several nonconrtoversial proposals.

On the senate side, Senator Brookhart [Rep., Ia.] offered bills to create a new federal reserve coöperative banking system which would include the federal intermediate credit banks, and to prohibit short selling on exchanges by forbidding use of the mails to communications having to do with orders and payments.

Would Limit Earnings.

He also proposed legislation to license corporations engaged in interstate commerce, under which the concerns would be limited to earnings of five per cent on the capital investment. Excess profits would be turned over to the treasury.

Establishment or acquisition of branches by national banks within the geographical limits of the federal reserve districts in which the parent institutions were located would be authorized under a measure offered by Representative Beedy [Rep., Me.], who said it was intended "only as a basis for investigation of branch banking."

Chairman McFadden of the house banking committee proposed to transfer entire responsibility for examination of federal reserve banks instead of having this work done jointly by the controller and the federal reserve board, as at present.

Provides Advantages.

His measure would require the controller of currency to examine such banks at least twice a year, and would empower him to cause special examinations when he deemed them necessary. Another section of the bill, designed to enable country banks to obtain advantages from the federal reserve banks enjoyed by larger institutions, would provide for distribution to certain stock holding member banks a part of the net earnings of the twelve reserve banks.

The senate got a start on bank legislation with passage of the George bill to authorize receivers of national banking associations to compromise individual shareholders' liability either before or after judgment is rendered. The measure now goes to the house. Its author, Senator George [Dem., Ga.], said it would expedite liquidation of failed national banks.

New York, Jan. 6.—Business continued sluggish on the stock exchange today.

The professional crowd pitchforked their favorites about as usual, but couldn't seem to get much excited about it, and the public stuck to its knitting on the sidelines. The consequence was that trading volume amounted to only a little more than 2,170,000 shares with price movements restricted to narrow limits and important net changes scarce.

NATIONAL STEEL TO EXPEND 32 MILLIONS IN 1930

The National Steel corporation, recently formed through consolidation of the Weirton Steel company, the Great Lakes Steel corporation and subsidiaries of the M. A. Hanna company of Cleveland, will expend $32,000,000 in expansion and new construction during 1930, it is announced by Ernest T. Weir, chairman of the board of directors.

The corporation's budget for the new year includes $7,000,000 for expansion of its present plants and $25,000,000 for the new Detroit plant of the Great Lakes Steel company, its subsidiary.

GIVE FREE STATE TRADE FIGURES FOR 11 MONTHS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN, Ireland, Jan. 6.—Interesting figures are shown in the Irish Free State trade returns, which were published today for eleven months of 1929.

The total imports were $279,790,000, being an increase of more than $10,000,000, while the exports were $210,380,000, showing an increase of just less than $5,000,000. Great Britain is still the Free State's best customer, with northern Ireland a good second. America comes next, exporting to Ireland $22,500,000 and importing nearly $5,000,000.

A Premier Bond

Offering Exceptional Possibilities for Profit

Because of the unusual opportunities for profit which it offers, the new $60,000,000 issue of Insull Utility Investments, Inc. Ten-Year 6% Debentures (With Conversion and Stock Purchase Warrants) will undoubtedly prove to be one of the outstanding bond issues of 1930.

The company's assets at present market prices exceed $163,000,000 and earnings last year exceeded $12,200,000. These earnings are equivalent to over 3¼ times total interest charges.

Each debenture is convertible into common stock of the company during the calendar year 1930 at $65 per share, and on a sliding scale thereafter. In addition, each debenture carries a warrant entitling the holder to purchase ten shares of common stock during 1930 at $65 per share. This stock is currently selling around $60 per share.

100	188
125	252

This stock last year sold as high as $149 per share.

We recommend this security as one worthy of every investor's consideration. Price 99½ to yield over 6%.

CHICAGO STOCK PRICES LOWER; TRADING DULL

Winton Engine Advances Against Trend.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

It was blue Monday on the Chicago exchange yesterday. Prices slashed about in the liquidation which carried stocks to lower levels. Transactions amounted to only 143,000 shares.

Bearish dividend news played a part in weakening the list. The cut in Butler Brothers rate, which was announced after the close of the market Saturday, had been discounted by traders, but the stock dipped two points to 15 and closed a point above that figure. Process Corporation settled 1¾ after announcement that the annual rate on common stock had been reduced from $2 to 50 cents by the declaration of a quarterly payment of 12½ cents.

In General List.

Among the issues in the general list which moved against the current and gained a point or more were Sally Frocks, U. S. Gypsum and Libby McNeill & Libby. Winton Engine was conspicuous on the up side advancing 2¾ points on turnover of about 3,000 shares. The company is said to have orders booked to insure capacity production for several months.

The investment trust shares were irregular with change largely confined to a point or less. Chicago Investors dropped a fraction on light trade. President Ralph A. Bard stated last night that the corporation had retired 80,000 shares of the $3 convertible preference stock. The stock was purchased at prices below the present market level it was reported. The action will reduce the outstanding amount to 200,000 shares and will cut the dividend requirements on the issue from $840,000 to $600,000 annually.

Motors Slip Back.

Utility stocks were irregularly lower. Middle West, however, edged up a fraction. American States Public Service reported net earnings for the year ended Nov. 30 amounted to $820,325 after interest, depreciation, and dividends. The previous year's net totaled $723,768.

Among the radios Grigsby finished unchanged and United States Radio climbed 1¼.

The predicted rally in automotive stocks which was said would materialize as the automobile show failed to develop. Bendix and Borg slipped less than a point but Auburn dropped 3. Cord held steady while Noblitt Sparks advanced 2½ points. President E. L. Cord, president of Auburn, announced a reduction in prices ranging from $100 to $350.

BUILDER BUYS APARTMENT SITE ON EAST OAK ST.

Says He Does Not Intend to Build.

BY AL CHASE.

Fred Becklenberg, builder, yesterday purchased 120 feet of frontage on the north side of Oak street, at Nos. 61 to 63, and already is having the two three story building wrecked. The new owner, however, states definitely that he is not even contemplating erecting a tall apartment building, as was rumored in realty circles yesterday, but intends to sell the property.

The site just assembled consists of two parcels, each 60x100. The east sixty feet of frontage, at Nos. 64 to 68, were purchaser from Alexander Newton, Arthur T. McIntosh and Alexander W. Hannah. The west parcel was bought from Mrs. Ethel Hogg Adams. The attorneys in the two deals were Cloyes & Klinger and Campbell & Fisher.

Plans Business Block.

Carl M. House of Swanson & House, real estate firm, has purchased the property, 25x161 feet, at the northwest corner of Stony Island avenue and 71st street, from the South Chicago Railroad company. This ground was formerly occupied by the Parkside station of the Illinois Central railway. Purchase of the corner piece gives Mr. Swanson a holding 125x161 feet on which he contemplates erecting a business block.

Ward T. Huston has conveyed title to the property at 410-16 South Wabash avenue, lot 80x165 feet, to the Commonwealth Edison Company as a site for a future substation. A four story building is on the ground.

Two Hotel Deals.

Leon Mayev has purchased the leasehold and furnishing of the Holland hotel, at the northwest corner of 63rd street and Lake Park avenue, from Pollack Bros. The lease runs until 1939 at an annual rental reported to be $6,000. The Walgreen Drug company is the lessor. Steinbock & Alexander, hotel brokers, negotiated the deal.

The same firm reports the sale of the leasehold and furnishings of the Fenwyn Arms hotel, at 5240-42 Winthrop avenue, to George F. and Olga Glass, formerly of Oshkosh, Wis. The lease runs until 1943 at a reported annual rental of $19,200.

PAYS $60,000 FOR PROPERTY AT 3231 MADISON

R. J. Berland of St. Louis, president of the Berland Shoe company, has purchased the ground and one story store building at 3231 West Madison street from the Trustee System of Chicago. The ground, 25x190 feet, is just west of Kedzie street and east of the new Goldblatt department store development. Mr. Berland now has a store at 3235 West Madison, and he acquired the property at 3231 as a location for a shop when his lease expires. Joseph Rosenberg was attorney for the buyer.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 6.—The Spier Falls Hydro-Electric plant of the Niagara-Hudson Power system, which will be an important unit in the proposed interconnection of power lines between central New York and the metropolitan district of New York City, is now being doubled in capacity in order to utilize the storage waters of the new Sacandaga reservoir, practically completed. An additional 67,000 horsepower is being installed which will bring the total capacity to 102,800 horse power, the second largest hydro-electric station in the state and the largest outside of Niagara Falls.

News and Gossip of Stock Marts

Expect Larger Profits.

Accumulation of General Foods, says one house, is based on the expectation that a large increase in profits will be shown in 1930. Earnings for 1929 were probably around $4 a share, as compared with the $3 dividend requirement. During the current year the operations of newly acquired subsidiaries should be better coördinated with those of the parent concern.

Hope for Surprise.

Bulls in United States Steel are talking about the chances for a capital readjustment later in the month. Of course, nothing officially has been said about it, but they are hoping for a surprise on the part of the management. If steel common were split 3 or 2 for 1, capitalization would not be excessive, in view of the large current earnings and present structures of other premier corporations like General Motors or General Electric, it is claimed.

Studebaker Outlook.

Studebaker appears to have been one of the most neglected automobile stocks, though it shared in the recovery of that group last week. The stock is now about 50 points under its 1929 high. This notwithstanding the optimistic reports which are currently being received about the corporation's outlook.

Grows Calmer.

American and Foreign Power was much calmer yesterday than it has been for some time. Generally the most volatile of the utility group, to say nothing of the entire list, it fluctuated in narrow limits most of the session, apparently having difficulty in maintaining early advances. As a speculative "football" this stock has had few equals in the last month.

Shift Affections.

Interests which have been active on the constructive side of Union Carbide are understood to have temporarily changed their affections to United Carbon, which yesterday registered another new high for the move above the $50 level.

ACTIVE STOCKS HOLD GENERALLY STEADY ON CURB

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 6.—While no great progress in any direction was made on the curb today, active stocks in the main held steady and bullish operations were undertaken in half a dozen specialties which, being in a rather sold-out condition, responded easily to slight impetus.

There was a lively market at sharply higher prices in Indian Territory Illuminating Oil and activity at rising prices in some utilities and some of the motor stocks. The feature of the motor stocks was Stutz, which recently broke to $1 a share on a petition for receivership. Today the stock crossed $4 a share on news of the dismissal of that petition. Durant Motor was active and firm. Franklin Automobile climbed about 2 points. Ford Motor of Canada B stock continued its remarkable advance.

Allied Power and Light, Commonwealth and Southern warrants, Electric Power and Light warrants, Electric Bond and Share, Tampa Electric and United Light and Power A were the most active members of the utility division.

Deere & Co. broke 25 points. Dow Chemical advanced sharply and Public Service of Northern Illinois, which has not sold for a long time, came out of a reduction of 165 points. Selected Industries preferred advanced. Blueridge preferred was firm. There was moderate activity in Trans-America shares.

Brown Shoe.

N. F. J.: Brown Shoe Company, Inc., on Oct. 31, 1929, completed the largest sales year in its history despite extremely competitive conditions. Good buying of shoes enabled the company to keep its increased capacity employed profitably.

In the last half of the fiscal year ended Oct. 31, 1929, the company produced 8,557,543 pairs of shoes, which was greater than the output of any twelve months previously, including the two record years of 1918 and 1919.

Although prices during the latest fiscal year were from 10 cents to 18 cents less per pair than in the previous year, net sales amounted to $36,753,955, against $34,836,424 in the year ended Oct. 31, 1928.

Net profit for the latest year was $1,739,997, equal to $44.11 per share earned on 39,451 shares of 7 per cent preferred [par $100] and $5.78 per share earned on 252,000 no par common shares. After common and preferred dividends there was a surplus for the year amounting to $827,603.

In the year ended Oct. 31, 1928, net profit was $1,451,757, equal to $35.28 per share on the preferred and $4.60 per share on the common.

As of Oct. 31, 1929, earned surplus was $7,955,424. Current assets were $16,781,375, and current liabilities were $4,976,065. This left a net working capital of $11,805,310, which compares with $11,027,092 on Oct. 31, 1928.

The company recently increased the annual dividend rate on its common stock from $2.50 to $3 per share.

The preferred stock is rather high grade.

Milwaukee Electric Ry. and Light.

M. H. L.: Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light company recently issued $10,000,000 additional refunding and first mortgage 5 per cent bonds, series "B," dated June 1, 1929, and due June 1, 1961, to reimburse the treasury of the company for funds provided for the payment at maturity on May 1, 1929, of $5,000,000 underlying bonds and for expenditures for property additions.

The bonds of this issue are secured by first lien on certain central station and distribution system property in the city of Milwaukee, and by direct mortgage lien, subject to underlying mortgages, upon all other fixed property of the company. Under the mortgage provisions these bonds will be secured by a first lien on such property by Dec. 1, 1931, by which time the company has covenanted to retire all underlying bonds.

The annual interest requirements on the total funded debt to be outstanding upon issuance of these series "B" bonds will be $3,008,285. Net earnings for the twelve months ended Sept. 30, 1929, were $10,379,656, or nearly 3.5 times such annual interest requirements.

These bonds are regarded as high grade, a suitable investment for a business man's funds.

RAILROAD NOTES

Passenger travel following the holiday season in Chicago reached its climax on the Pennsylvania railroad when the heaviest Sunday train movement on record left Chicago for New York, Washington and the east. Extra sections were operated on all fast trains, many of them carrying the limit of thirteen cars, according to Ralph C. Caldwell, division passenger agent.

Thirty-seven through passenger trains over the New York Central lines arrived in New York yesterday morning by 9:40, including 301 sleeping cars and thirty dining cars required in handling this business establishing a new record for through travel for the New York Central lines. There were 1,075 passengers on twenty hour trains from Chicago to New York. Seven sections of the Twentieth Century Limited carried 870 passengers. If placed behind a single locomotive this equipment used for through passengers to New York City, leaving Chicago Sunday and arriving yesterday, would require a train more than six miles long.

The Supreme court has rejected the petition of the California railroad commission asking a rehearing in the case in which the court recently overruled the lower federal courts holding a decision of the interstate commerce commission was without authority to compel construction of a union passenger station in Los Angeles, Cal.

Baldwin Locomotive works has received an order from the Bessemer and Lake Erie railroad for nine large freight engines to cost around $1,082,000.

MERGE CANDY COMPANY.

PRICE RANGE IS NARROW, TRADING LIGHT IN BONDS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 6.—The range of bond prices on the stock exchange today was extremely narrow and trading was light. Advances and declines in the railroad, public utility and industrial groups were about evenly divided. United States government issues were generally higher and foreign loans were firm.

Convertible bonds were the dullest they have been in some time, with most net changes limited to fractions. American Telephone and Telegraph convertible 4½s, 1939, sold off ¾ of a point. International Telephone and Telegraph convertible 4½s were down ¼, and American I. G. Chemical 5½s a point. Texas corporation convertible 5s moved up a fraction, as did Dodge Brothers convertible 6s. Atchison convertible 4½s held unchanged.

Most of the gains of any importance were scored by infrequently traded issues. The Twenty-third Street railway 5s, for example, jumped 11⅞ points from the previous sale some time ago, representing a recovery from the low.

Net changes in the foreign loans group were somewhat wider than in the domestic bond list, but in most instances the gains represented recoveries from the recent lows. South American loans were generally higher.

The market for Liberty bonds and treasury issues showed a uniformly firm tone today, although the transactions were relatively light. All of the active issues closed higher, with the gains ranging from 1-32 to 8-32, the principal gain being recorded by the treasury 4s.

MINN. INHERITANCE TAX WON'T APPLY ON STATE BONDS HELD OUTSIDE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Minnesota was declared by the Supreme court today to be without authority to impose an inheritance tax on bonds issued by it and St. Paul and Minneapolis, and held in New York by Henry R. Taylor, at the time of his death there.

The case attracted wide attention as testing the right of states to place an inheritance tax on bonds, and other forms of state and municipal indebtedness held outside their borders.

Minnesota argued that as the debt represented by the bonds was to be settled under the laws of Minnesota, it had the right to tax the bonds. The fact that New York might tax them, Minnesota held, did not affect its right.

Justice McReynolds, in delivering the opinion, stated that the issue was of great importance to the states and that the Supreme court, overruling previous decisions, now held that property, both tangible and intangible, was taxable only by the domicile of the owner and that two states could not tax the same property.

Justices Holmes and Brandeis dissented taking the view that Minnesota could impose inheritance taxes on the bonds, although New York, where the owner died, also could tax.

OPENS NEW WELLS.

Expansion of the natural gas properties of the Southeastern Gas company, an operating subsidiary of the Inland Utilities, Inc., in West Virginia and Kentucky will result in the completion of 28 new wells.

SECURITY SALESMAN

—practically an association of salesmen. This house pays 50% of gross profits with a further distribution of 25% of net profits divided pro rata among the salesmen.

The overhead is exceptionally low, there are no non-producers, no sales managers, all the salesmen are trained men, each officer of the company is an experienced producer.

Securities sold are of the standard type, including stocks and bonds of the highest grade, general market issues offered by the leading originating houses.

The success of this plan has been demonstrated even through the most drastic period, Oct. 15 to Nov. 30, when profits were very substantial.

Recommended First Mortgage Bonds and Mortgages

The Real Estate Loan Department of the First Union Trust and Savings Bank, in addition to its own years of experience, has a background of integrity, conservatism and specialized experience, extending over a period of sixty-six years to the founding of the First National Bank of Chicago in 1863.

Millions of dollars of the bank's own funds have been invested safely and profitably through this department in first mortgage loans secured by well located home and income-earning property in the Chicago district.

The selected first mortgage bonds and first-lien mortgages offered are sound, well secured investments. They represent both current issues and a number of bonds which have been repurchased from customers in need of funds. No loan offered represents more than 60% of a conservative appraisal. These are ideal investments for those who appreciate the value of 6% with safety, and carry the bank's full recommendation.

WIDER FOREIGN DEMAND LIFTS WHEAT PRICES

Scattered Buying Offsets Local Pressure.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

A broadening in the foreign demand for cash wheat, with sales of 1,000,000 bu or more reported in the last two days, brought in sufficient scattered commission house buying yesterday to more than offset local pressure.

While trade in the aggregate was not large, the finish was ¼@⅝c higher. Winnipeg was weak and off ⅜@½c at the last, while Liverpool closed ½d higher. Argentine markets were closed for the day.

In the last few days Russian wheat has been sold to four European countries, including the United Kingdom, France, Germany, and Italy, but this unexpected development failed to have much effect on values, except for a brief period early. The trade is mystified by the business, which seems to be mainly in small lots, a parcel being sold to Marseilles, France, yesterday, although last week Broomhall reported the sale of French wheat and flour to the United Kingdom.

Portugal Buys Wheat.

In some quarters there was belief the Russian sales of wheat were made largely for the effect they would have on the world's market.

Portugal has entered the American market as a buyer, and sales of around 500,000 bu hard winter wheat were said to have been made to that country on Saturday, with inquiries for a like quantity heard of. Total sales in all positions during the last two days were estimated at 1,000,000 bu, and there was some buying of futures that was attributed to seaboard account.

A decrease of 2,589,000 bu was shown in the domestic visible supply, with the total now 175,518,000 bu, against 138,091,000 bu last year. Supplies on ocean passage increased 1,334,000 bu for the week despite world's shipments of only 9,516,000 bu, making the fourth week they have been under 10,000,000 bu.

July wheat showed a tendency at times to gain on the May, as a cold wave was forecasted for the belt, and recent mild temperatures have caused the snow protection of the new crop to disappear.

Corn Trade Dull.

Corn prices held within a range of around ½c, being slightly easier early. Buying against bids checked the decline, and later there was sufficient scattered support to bring about a small rally, with the close ⅛c higher to ⅛c lower, the former on March. Outside interest was limited. An increase of 2,249,000 bu was shown in the visible supply, with the total 9,892,000 bu, against 18,853,000 bu last year. Country offerings to arrive were decidedly small, with the spot basis ¼@½c higher.

Oats market was dull, with prices holding within a range of around ¼c, with the finish unchanged to ⅛c lower. The visible supply decreased 404,000 bu for the week.

CASH-GRAIN NEWS

Portugal was in the market for hard winter wheat and sales late Saturday were estimated at 500,000 bu, with inquiries for a like amount understood to have been in the market. There were numerous bids from abroad about on a working basis, with some sales made to Antwerp and Rotterdam. Total sales Saturday and yesterday were finally estimated around 1,000,000 bu. Local handlers sold 10,000 bu wheat, 43,000 bu corn, and 31,000 bu oats to the domestic trade.

LARD MARKET SLOW, EASY

Interest in provisions was limited yesterday to a comparatively few transactions in lard and one or two in bellies. Prices had a narrow range and the close was unchanged from Saturday. Liverpool was 3@6d lower on lard and 2s off on American cut hams. Hog prices were 10c lower, with receipts heavy and materially in excess of a week and a year ago at western points. Cash trade was fair.

Exports of lard for the week were 17,397,000 lbs, against 20,294,000 lbs last year. Of bacon there were 8,823,000 lbs, compared with 3,493,000 lbs last year. On Saturday exports of lard were 1,498,550 lbs and of bacon 406,000 lbs. Prices follow:

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

A mixed sentiment prevails in the wheat market, with a disposition on the part of local traders to absorb offerings on breaks. Eastern commission houses were noticeable on the buying side yesterday. To have France and Germany buying Russian wheat and exporting its domestic grain and reports from Russia intimating poor prospects for the spring grain, created a situation where Russian news loses its influence, for the time being at least.

Corn traders explained the failure of their market to decline sharply in the face of an increase of 2,249,000 bu in the visible supply for the week as due to buying against "bids" and to the absence of pressure from holders. The market, they said, was in a position where news has no influence of importance for the time being.

Rye specialists say the only trading of consequence is buying of March and selling of May and buying of rye and selling of wheat. The visible supply, with its increase of 1,078,000 bu for the week, is now 13,707,000 bu, against 6,281,000 bu last year. Chicago has 5,131,000 bu in store and 4,376,000 afloat, a total stock of 9,497,000 bu; Duluth has 2,686,000 bu; Minneapolis has 727,000 bu, and Buffalo has 604,000 bu.

Stop stripping those gears

Stripping and breaking were occurring too frequently in the transmission gears a certain large company was manufacturing.

Interstate Metallurgists were called in and found that these gears were very light considering the kind of steel that was used and the work the gears had to perform.

But it was absolutely impracticable to change their design, so an alloy steel with greater dynamic strength was recommended and the trouble was eliminated.

May we study your problems in steel?

Estimated receipts at Chicago today, 8,000 cattle; 44,000 hogs, and 13,000 sheep.

A sharp rise in the market for sheep and lambs was the feature of the live stock trade yesterday. Aged stock jumped 50c to $1.00, selling at the highest prices of the season, while lambs advanced 50c after the opening, when the expected increase in supplies failed to materialize.

Prime 93 lb fed western lambs at $14.25 were within 25c of the highest paid for lambs since last July. Fancy aged ewes at $7.25 were exactly $1.00 above the extreme top in this branch last week and highest since May of last year. Mixed yearlings and 2 year old wethers sold up to $11.50, averaging 97 lbs, with 105 lb yearlings at the same price.

Heavy Shipping Orders.

The largest shipping orders since February of last year failed to offset the yesterday, resulting in a break of 10@15c in prices after a topheavy opening.

The extreme top came down 15c at $9.85, while the general average declined 10c at $9.60, comparing with a top of $9.90 and average of $9.65 the previous Monday. Supplies of good grades cleared quickly at reduced quotations, and few remaining at the close were suitable for eastern trade.

Outsiders obtained 16,000 to 17,000 hogs, or more than 40 per cent of the available supply after directs had been deducted from the receipts. Local packers received 26,300 directs, the smallest proportion in some time for Monday. An advance estimate of 100,000 hogs at five markets for today, against 78,000 last Tuesday, caused a weak finish on all but best grades.

Neglect Lower Grades.

Practically all classes of choice and prime cattle advanced to the highest level in recent weeks under brisk competition yesterday, while medium and poorer grades were neglected at 25c lower prices.

Fancy 1,001 lb. yearlings at $16.50 were highest since middle of October and within 25c of the highest for that weight during all of last year. Prime 1,334 lb. steers reached $16.00. Bulk of sales at $11.50@14.75 were equal to the highest since Nov. 6, in spite of the slow movement of common to medium grades. Cows and heifers were little changed.

Calves were mostly steady to weak, with close closing 25@50c lower. Stockers and feeders were scarce and steady.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 8,000 cattle, 44,000 hogs, and 13,000 sheep, against 5,845 cattle, 37,717 hogs, and 8,375 sheep, the previous Tuesday, and 11,842 cattle, 48,583 hogs, and 17,565 sheep a year ago.

GRANTS EXTENSION.

An extension of time in which the San Luis Valley Southern railway may construct its new branch in Taos county, N. M., has been given by the interstate commerce commission. The time for beginning the work was fixed at May 15, 1930, instead of June 1, 1929, and the road will now have until Oct. 15, 1930, to complete the work. Previously it had been ordered to finish by Dec. 31, 1929.

SHARP BULGE IN EGGS

Advances of 1¾c, or $195 a car, featured egg future trading on the Chicago mercantile exchange. The bulge followed a rise of 1c to 2c in spot prices on predictions of zero weather and lighter receipts. January refrigerators closed at 40¾c, up 1¾c, and January fresh at 43c, a gain of 1¾c but the February remained unchanged at 28¾c. Sales were 285 cars and receipts 3,936 cases. Irregular activity in butter futures was attributed to conflicting factors. Heavier receipts depressed the January contract ¼c to 33½c after early strength and the February delivery ½c to 34¾c, but the March contract went up ¼c to 34¾c. Sales were 93 cars and receipts, 10,631 tubs. Prices follow:

Cotton was sold yesterday by commission houses and the south and prices sagged slowly, making a close at the low point to a shade above. Fairchild's cotton goods index for the week ended Jan. 3 was 12,332, compared with 12,308 and last year, 13,293.

Exports last week were 179,420 bales, compared with 239,104 bales last year. Since Aug. 1 they aggregated 4,300,000 bales against 4,900,000 last year. Northern spinners have taken 650,313 bales since Aug. 1 against 689,471 bales last year. Southern spinners, 3,146,417 bales, against 3,054,687 bales last year. World's visible of American cotton is 5,959,854 bales, against 5,572,455 bales last year.

Futures in Chicago were 7 to 11 points lower and other markets were off 7 to 11 points. Spots lost 10 points, with New York 17.05c, and sales of middlings 200 bales. New Orleans was 16.70c, sales, 8,117 bales; Galveston, 17c, and Houston, 16.90c, sales, 57 bales. Liverpool closed 2 to 4 points net lower with spot sales 5,000 bales. Prices follow:

NATURAL GAS—Marches with Progress

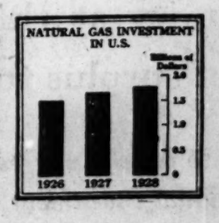
A Utility Romance: UNITED GAS COMPANY

The awakened spirit of industry has taken to itself a new motto: Growth. Related enterprises are joining their forces to assure greater production at lower costs, with a consequent stimulation of consumer demand. In this forward march to progress, Industry must summon every possible ally to its side. The most important of these is Power—and the new power behind Power is Natural Gas. Wherever industry or the home can employ this efficient, economical fuel, it is achieving greater results at lower cost. Natural Gas will be a giant figure in the industrial epic of the future.



United Gas Company is now one of the four largest producers and distributors of Natural Gas in the United States. Its reserves are to be calculated only in figures almost beyond human comprehension. Its great pipe lines traverse hundreds of miles, and supply hundreds of communities and many great industries in the South and Southwest. Among its customers are to be counted those great oil companies which find that Natural Gas, with twice the energy of manufactured gas at a fraction of its cost, permit more rapid development in a competitive age.

National and International Investment Banking Service

The FIRST NATIONAL OLD COLONY CORPORATION

The merger of The First National Corporation of Boston and Old Colony Corporation created an international investment banking organization which combines the supplementing facilities of each. It forms one of the largest corporations of its kind in the United States, with widespread and diversified activities. It maintains an experienced and highly specialized personnel, of which fifty are located in its Chicago office, 111 West Monroe Street, to serve the public of the Middle West.

International Representation The First National Old Colony Corporation maintains a great network of offices in metropolitan and suburban Boston, throughout New England, in the major financial centers of the United States and in foreign countries. Already established are eleven offices in Eastern, Southern and Middlewestern States; eighteen offices in Boston; twenty correspondent investment departments in metropolitan and suburban banks outside of Boston; and six additional offices in New England.

In addition to its own representatives in Europe and South America, The First National Old Colony Corporation has through its affiliated institution, The First National Bank of Boston, resident representation in London, Paris, Berlin, Buenos Aires and Havana, and 22,000 correspondent banks throughout the world.

Operating Facilities The First National Old Colony Corporation under the direction of the experienced executive management of the combined institutions offers to the investing public and security dealers the services of one of the largest investment corporations in the country dealing in United States government, municipal, public utility, railroad and other investment bonds and notes; bankers' acceptances; bank, insurance company and other investment stocks.

Underwriting To corporate and governmental borrowers, both domestic and foreign, it offers the services of its extensive underwriting department.

Systematic Investment Plan In addition to its general investment business The First National Old Colony Corporation offers several methods for capital accumulation through its Systematic Investment Plans. These plans build investment funds from excess income and have had a wide appeal to investors the world over. The principal amount handled by this department is now more than 23 million dollars. These Systematic Investment Plans are identical in principle with the plans as they existed under separate organizations.

Extensive Wire Services The First National Old Colony Corporation maintains one of the fastest and most accurate wire systems in the country. Through this multi-wire interconnection, its offices are in constant touch with original price sources in all important financial markets. In this day when speed and accuracy are so vital in the rendering of adequate investment service, such a wire system is invaluable.

HERSHEY CO. PLACES STOCK ON $5 YEARLY BASIS

Also Pays Extra on Convertible Pfd.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 6.—Directors of the Hershey Chocolate corporation announced today an initial quarterly dividend of $1.25 a share on the common stock, placing the issue on a $5 annual basis. At the same time they declared an extra dividend of $1 a share on the convertible preference stock, both dividends payable Feb. 15 to owners of record Jan. 25.

Directors of the Tobacco Products corporation announced today a dividend of 76.8 cents on the series A certificates, payble Jan. 31 to stockholders of record Jan. 16.

This disbursement represents dividends received by Guaranty Trust company on United Cigar Stores Company of America common stock deposited with it when Tobacco Products in 1928 declared on its stock three dividends of 1-10 share of United Cigar Stores common stock on its common stock. Instead of actually issuing the United Cigar Stores common stock on its common stock, this was deposited with Guaranty Trust company until January, 1931.

A liquidating dividend of $15 a share was declared today on the stock of Everitt Mills, payable Jan. 15 to owners of record Jan. 8.

Directors of the Long Island Railroad company have declared a dividend of six per cent on the capital stock, to come out of 1929's earnings. This compared with a 4 per cent dividend declared out of the earnings of 1928. Practically all the capital stock of the Long Island Railroad company is owned by the Pennsylvania railroad.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 6.—The basis of valuation of equity stocks has risen steadily over a period of years, but as an outcome of the break in the market last fall is now back to almost the level of 1926, an analysis made by Whitehouse & Co. tends to prove. The firm took fifty-one stocks, classified them into groups, figured the average of each group and then calculated the general average of the entire list. The analysis shows that the basis of valuation of the stocks used was 9.4 per cent in 1928, rose to 18.9 per cent in 1928, and now is down to 11.8 per cent, compared with 11.4 per cent in 1926.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 6.—Stockholders of the General Gas and Electric corporation today approved a five for one splitup of the common stock, classes A and B, already voted by the directors, authorizing capitalization of 1,000,000 shares of preferred stock, 10,000,000 of class A, and 4,000,000 of class B. As of June 30, there were outstanding 596,000 shares preferred, 773,716 of class A, and 399,098 of class B. The directors have indicated that the new dividend rate will be such as to equal the old. The object of the splitup was said to be the attainment of wider distribution.

War Department Offers Philippine Bonds for Sale

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—(AP)—The war department offered for sale today $1,500,000 worth of Philippine government bonds, with bids to be opened on Jan. 16. The bonds will be issued in coupon form in a thousand dollar denomination, dated Oct. 1, 1929, and bearing interest of 4½ per cent per annum payable semi-annually. They will mature on Oct. 1, 1959, and are non callable prior to that date.

Permanent Receivers Are Named for Int'l Combustion

New York, Jan. 6.—(AP)—A temporary equity receivership established last month for the International Combustion Engineering company was made permanent today by Federal Judge Albert C. Coxe after a joint meeting of stockholders and creditors of the company. He named Wilbur R. Wood, president of the company, and the Irving Trust company as receivers.

The temporary receivership last month was caused by the petition of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, one of the creditors. The Combustion company, a $43,000,000 corporation, has numerous subsidiary companies in the United States and Europe.

300 Kentucky Miners Quit in Dispute on Wage Scale

Greenville, Ky., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Climaxing a dispute over the 1917 wage scale, approximately 300 miners walked out today. Mines affected are the Pacific Coal company's Morgan mine at Mercer, the Monarch mine, and the Slope mine at Speedway. Union miners in western Kentucky recently voted in favor of a strike to enforce the 1917 agreement, which included recognition of the union and resumption of the 1917 wage scale in all mines.

BUSINESS THREATENED BY GOLD SHORTAGE, PROF. FISHER ASSERTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 6.—Present business prosperity is definitely threatened by the danger of a gold shortage, and such an eventuality may occur within three years from the present date, Prof. Irving Fisher declared today in testimony before the legislative commission for revision of the public service law.

Unless some form of international control of gold and its production is put in effect, Dr. Fisher declared, the trend toward a lack of sufficient gold for the needs of the economic structure of the world would continue and would suddenly reach a crisis attended by insufficient credit and collapse of commodity prices. Wise international control, however, could prevent such an occurrence altogether, he added.

Dr. Fisher was called by the commission to give testimony as to the probability for the future with respect to either increasing or decreasing prices. The importance of this issue in the considerations of the commission is based on the question, prominent in much of the testimony taken, of whether original cost or the cost of reproduction at current price levels should control valuations of public utilities property used in determining the total investment on which income may be earned. Such valuation, in turn, is an important factor in fixing rates.

CHINA IS CLOSER TO DEPRECIATED CURRENCY CRISIS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Jan. 7.—[Tuesday.]—The Chinese silver dollar dropped to a new low level yesterday, the opening quotation being equivalent to 35 cents in United States currency. In the afternoon it dropped to about 33 cents, making the American dollar equal to practically three Chinese silver dollars.

The United States trade commissioner's office here informed THE TRIBUNE that the drop in the value of silver is attributed to a desperate trade situation caused by the long civil war, which has resulted in almost a complete stop in both imports and exports, particularly between China and America.

Dozens of Chinese merchants who were unable to meet obligations incurred by the purchase of American products, such as machinery, tobacco, and sundries, simply closed up shop and disappeared.

Regarding future prospects Trade Commissioner Granville Woodard stated: "There is no relief in sight due to the fact that Shanghai is already overloaded with silver and new shipments totaling 10,000,000 ounces are arriving here this month, which is bound to make the situation worse."

The commissioner stated that when the Chinese tariff is added to the present unfavorable exchange the Chinese merchant must pay a minimum of five Chinese dollars for one dollar's worth of American merchandise. He added that while ordinarily American manufacturers were quick to take advantage of a cheaper value of the Chinese silver dollar in order to purchase Chinese raw silk, this development was not applicable now because of a falling off in the silk demand in the United States.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 6.—Silver and the far eastern exchanges today fell to the lowest prices in more than a decade in New York trading. The weakness in the metal exchanges here was attributed to the currency crises in the far east and to a banking crisis which has developed there because of the depreciation in silver prices.

Beverly State Bank Earns 21¼% on Its Capital Stock

The net earnings of the Beverly State Savings bank on its capital stock for 1929 were 21.25 per cent, it is announced, compared with 19.23 per cent in 1928. Net earnings on the invested capital for 1929 were 12.41 per cent, compared with 11.20 per cent in 1928.

FURNITURE SHOW OPENS; EXPECT BIG ATTENDANCE

A first day record registration of 1,600 merchant buyers, which exceeded by 50 per cent any previous first day attendance at the three week winter market, started the semi-annual exposition at the American Furniture mart yesterday.

Exhibits revealed a trend toward early American and colonial designs, while the radical designs, chiefly expressed in what is known as art moderne, were confined principally to living room and outdoor furniture.

Furniture manufacturers with displays at the exposition view the 1930 outlook now as portending a good year for furniture. Two of the largest firms exhibiting plan to double their advertising appropriations for 1930.

Displays show a tendency to supervise patterns, reducing their number in some cases from about fifty to about eighteen, allowing a production concentration to cut down manufacturing costs.

A new feature for living room and breakfast nook is furniture made of nickel plated steel tubing. Its lines are simple, pieces of tube merely holding upholstery in place and acting also in the place of springs. The kitchen is favored with a new stove that folds.

RAIL EARNINGS WILL ESTABLISH NEW HIGH MARK

tail policy, low stocks in factories and stores, increased demand for labor, municipal construction, railroad development, road building, civic club betterment activity, and harbor plans and barge terminal construction. The adverse factors were uncertainty and inclination to go slow, activities of pessimistic groups, failure of improvement bond elections, and psychological effect.

Faces Good Year.

Retail merchants are starting the new year in progressive fashion. The reports recited that 1929 was a banner year, with a slight slump in November, followed by a sound and improved Christmas trade. They expressed the belief that conditions are normal and will show improvement.

The farm implement industry faces a good year, according to Cyrus McCormick Jr., vice president of the International Harvester company. If crop and market conditions are favorable, this year will be as prosperous as 1929. The stock market deflation, he points out, had little or no effect on the farmer or the implement market. The company does not expect to curtail its operations.

One effect of the stock market collapse has been to discourage buying of securities by persons of moderate means and to cause an increase in savings deposits. Several Chicago bankers said yesterday that such deposits increased measurably during the last week, whereas it is usual for savings to decline in January following the payment of interest in order to be invested.

Slow in Returning.

"Commercial deposits are slow in returning to the banks and therefore money rates may not ease as much in the near future as had been anticipated," Arthur Reynolds, chairman of the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company, said yesterday. "Just what the usual January reinvestment demand for securities will be remains to be seen, as it is too early for the year-end interest and dividend payments to return to the market."

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Cotton goods were in better call at the opening of the week, in gray and finished cloth divisions. Blanket openings are under way. The large stock of raw silk in hand here led to a reduction in Japan and local prices, Japan being 5c a pound lower. New silk prints for spring are appearing. The initial private showing of the wool industry's fashion revue will be held this evening at the Ritz-Carlton and interest is greater than a year ago. Burlaps were quiet. Rayon consumption in this country last year is estimated at 140,000,000 pounds of which 84,000,000 was in the knit goods industries.

GETS SERVICE STATIONS.

One of Today's Real "BARGAINS" in BONDS!

HERE'S an unusual opportunity to obtain 6% yield on seasoned public utility bonds—the 5½% Gold Bonds, Series A, of the North Continent Utilities Corporation, yielding about 6% at their present price.

The major unit of the corporation's many electric, gas and ice properties is the North Shore Gas Company, which supplies gas for domestic and industrial use to what is probably the finest suburban region in the Central West. This district lies on the shore line, north of Chicago, and includes such well known suburbs as Winnetka, Hubbard Woods, Glencoe, Ravinia, Highland Park, Highwood, Fort Sheridan, Lake Forest, Lake Bluff, Great Lakes Naval Station, North Chicago, Waukegan, Winthrop Harbor, Diamond Lake, Grays Lake, Deerfield, Libertyville, Mundelein and Prairie View.

As a result of the rapid growth of the region, matching the steady advance of Chicago, the company faces extremely bright prospects of consistent increase in the use of and demand for its output for both domestic and industrial uses.

These facts, plus the highly successful records of the other units of the corporation, constitute only a part of the picture of the attractive investment these bonds provide. Write, phone or call for literature giving further information in detail.

BUNNELL HEADS BOARD OF TRADE FOR 4TH TIME

This will be Mr. Bunnell's fourth term as president, he having served in 1909, in 1926 and 1927. He joined the board in 1890, and served as a director for the term 1898-1900, and as vice president in 1907 and 1908.

The new president is a Canadian, coming to Chicago apout 1890, worked in a hardware store on East Lake street, where he met Arthur W. Cutten, and is said to have influenced his coming to the board of trade.

Mr. Bunnell is the only member of the board to serve as president more than three times, with the exception of William T. Baker, who held the office in 1890 and 1891, and in 1895, 1896 and 1897.

Boylan Places Third.

A strong fight was on for directors and the nominating committees, with four of the five regular nominees for directors successful. Robert P. Boylan, a wheat broker, was the only successful candidate on the independent ticket, getting 452 votes and standing third on the list.

Successful candidates on the regular ticket with their votes were: Lowell Holt, 527; Parker M. Paine, 511; William E. Hudson, 400; Emile J. Garneau, 379. Roland McHenry of the regulars, had 245 votes. Robert W. Buckley, an independent, had the second highest vote of the five opponents to the regular ticket, getting 347 votes.

The three independent candidates for the nominating committee were elected, with a larger number of votes than any on the regulars. John J. Mitel headed the list with 526 votes, Charles Baker, 511; George T. Carhart, 501; John C. Wood, who retires as vice president had 500 votes, and Charles P. Randall 471 votes.

Lack Opposition.

Candidates of the arbitration and appeals committees had no opposition. The appeals committee consists of Edwin J. Kuh Jr., John H. Wheeler, Richard Gambrill Jr., David H. Annan, John J. Coffman. Members of the arbitration committee are Morris R. Glaser, Lewis M. DeCosta, M. E. Latimer, Alex W. Kay, Guy E. Warren.

Officials who retire this year are Samuel P. Arnot, president, and John C. Wood, vice president, for the last two years. Retiring directors are H. H. Lobdell, E. D. Norton, James A. Bogg, Peter B. Carey, and Fred T. Bascom.

WOOLWORTH CO. SALES ARE 5% HIGHER IN 1929

New York, Jan. 6.—(AP)—December sales of the F. W. Woolworth company stores decreased nearly 3 per cent from the sales for the corresponding month a year ago, but total sales for 1929 showed an increase of more than 5 per cent over the preceding year, the company reported today.

Comparative sales figures for the Woolworth organization and for other leading merchandising systems for December, 1929 and 1928, and for the full calendar years of 1929 and 1928, follow:

In Choosing a Bond Think First of Safety

When insurance companies guarantee a bond by issuing an insurance policy protecting the holder against loss of principal or interest you may definitely refer to that bond as a safe bond.

The bonds we sell are guaranteed by two old reserve surety companies making them doubly safe, and we strongly recommend them as a splendid investment.

COME IN—

THE calamity howlers would have us believe the country is headed straight for the bow-wows and that quota will be a mighty rare bird in 1930.

That kind of talk might disconcert a novice, but we know the old timers, with clear heads and steady eyes are going right out after the bag limit.

The American Weekly will carry more advertising and show a greater circulation during 1930 than during any previous year in its history.

Twelve additional new advertisers have already bought color page space in The American Weekly for 1930 and advance orders for 1930 are hundreds of thousands of dollars ahead of what they were last year at this time.

This, despite the fact that during 1929 this great magazine broke all lineage records and passed the six million circulation mark, the record circulation for all publications for all time.

This marks the third consecutive year for advertising lineage and circulation increases and 1930 will be the fourth record year.

The astonishing thing is not that The American Weekly has registered the largest gains in the entire magazine field, but that even more advertisers have not seen the cold logic of using this publication as a major medium.

For The American Weekly is read by more than 6,000,000 families located in the country's richest buying centers and you can reach this tremendous market at a cost of less than ⅓ cent per family.

How can you invest your 1930 advertising dollars more effectively than to spend them for space in the medium that reaches the most people, and the best people, at the lowest cost?

Run your eye down the list of advertisers who have come to this conclusion.

Come in, the water's fine!

The month of December, 1929, was the greatest month in volume of orders received in the history of The American Weekly.

SYNOPSIS.

John Andrew Kellogg, heir to millions, asks Barbara Thornton to marry him. She agrees, but not very graciously. When she hears that he has just lost his job she emits him and calls him a playboy. He calls on his attorney, David Craig, who tells him that he will never inherit the money his father left if he doesn't prove himself capable of managing his life in a sensible way. He tells him that since he has lost one job after another, he will have to double five thousand dollars in thirty days or live on an income from a trust fund for the rest of his life. John Andrew telephones this to Barbara and she offers to give him five thousand to turn over to Craig. He refuses the engagement. He decides to go to San Francisco, and starts for California. On the train he meets Anne Ames, who is on her way to Hollywood with a letter of introduction to a movie producer. They become interested in each other. Before saying good-by in Utah, John Andrew tells Anne that he will see her in Los Angeles in a few days.

Arrived in San Francisco, John Andrew meets an old school friend, Peter Morriam, on the street. Pete is selling Mercury cars and tries to sell one to John Andrew. They go for a trial spin and with John Andrew at the wheel have a slight smashup. In order to keep Pete from losing his job John Andrew buys the custom built roadster for $4,980. He also gives all but a hundred dollars of his expense money to an old man with an invention, without asking what the machine is. He drives to Los Angeles in the Mercury and sees Anne at the Consolidated studio, where she is being tried out. He makes an engagement to take her to dinner. Before starting out he looks at the old man's plans and learns they are for a noiseless camera. He sells the patent rights to Consolidated for twenty-five thousand, the money to be turned over to him on the receipt of the signature of Blake, the inventor.

In the meantime the hotel people become suspicious of John Andrew and ask him to pay his bill. He decides to pawn some belongings. Before going out he receives a telegram from the inventor's attorney in San Francisco demanding five hundred additional.

INSTALLMENT XXVI.

THE INSULTS FLY.

It still lacked a minute to four when Kellogg stopped his car a half block from Consolidated; no nearer parking place was available. He had come as rapidly as he could (and had a traffic tag in his pocket for failing to completely observe a boulevard stop sign, which the officer explained would cost him exactly five dollars, and he could send his check) and jumped from the roadster the moment he jerked the hand brake.

"You ought to lock it," John Andrew heard. "Some shiek'll grab that bus to show off before his lady, young fellow . . ."

John Andrew said, "Hello, Mr. Carey. Nobody'll steal it . . . they don't take this sort of machine——"

"Lock it, anyhow," and John Andrew obeyed.

"I've got something you ought to know," Carey said, "it may not amount to a thing, but——"

John Andrew saw Anne, a man—Chester—at her elbow, come through the doors of the studio. "Probably doesn't," John Andrew said, and would have moved away.

"It concerns Miss Ames," said the actor. "I see her, too; Chester won't run away with her before you get there, boy. You see, last night we——"

"I think I'd better go," John Andrew muttered, but Carey placed his hand on John Andrew's arm.

"The higher . . . and the faster . . . they go up," the actor insisted, "the harder, and the lower, they fall. Listen, old man, we ran off the first of Ames' reels last night. Her acting's fair. She's pretty. She's got a lovely voice, and it recorded perfectly on the discs. But on the film, something's happened to the sound track; when Ames speaks, it's tubby. As if she were talking through a barrel . . . perhaps the technicians'll get it rectified. They don't know a great deal about this sound stuff yet. The talkies. I thought you might give her an idea that the world'll still keep going around if she isn't in the pictures. Get me?"

"I know Miss Ames very well," Kellogg snapped.

"You're sure about this, are you?" John Andrew asked, eyes always on the man and girl now standing near a machine at the curb.

"Heard it myself. Ames's a nice kid. Not spoiled yet. But without her voice she can't stay on top. Bits. Extra work. Dog's life; I know. You either have a voice which records well, or you haven't. Don't know why. That's the first time a voice's been true on the playback discs, and then blurred on the film itself. Shouldn't, but is. Sorry, for her sake. Maybe it can be remedied; they're trying to do that now. Got the whole staff of wire workers on it. But you might drop a word to ease her fall, if it comes." He looked at John Andrew (who was looking at Chester and Anne) and said, "Nice expression. Never saw a better. Use it in one of my pictures. Don't see why you should be so enraged, however. Who wants his wife in the pictures, unless it can't be helped?"

Anne was all in brown; John Andrew could see her bright, distressed eyes, her uplifted firm chin, as he walked hurriedly toward her. He could not hear what she was saying, although her lips moved urgently; Chester's answer came to him clearly, for all the handsome man's back was to him: "Why, little Anne Ames, I could pick you up and put you in my pocket! And that's just what I'm going to do if you don't come along with me——"

The actor turned. "I beg your pardon," he began.

"Not necessary," said John Andrew. "Car's down the street, Anne."

"Might I ask——"

"Ask away," Kellogg said, "the point in question is—will I answer?" He realized that Chester could do, or leave undone, a great deal to promote Anne's future as an actress; only this had prevented him from seizing Anne's arm and marching her away from the Consolidated leading man. Anne herself had moved a pace or two to the right, and now stood beside John Andrew. "What d'you want to know?" Kellogg asked; he spoke sharply.

"Isn't it . . . customary . . . to be introduced——"

"I know Miss Ames very well," Kellogg snapped.

"But you don't know me at all."

"Hm . . . no; that's right. I don't. O, well, we can't have everything in this world." And then John Andrew calmly, having already made his wound, poured acid on it. "You're Bill Carey, aren't you?"

"You're attempting to be insulting," Chester said. "Haven't I seen you hanging around the studio? Doing bits, perhaps? Run along, like a good chap; Miss Ames and I are busy. I may be able to find a little part for you in my next picture——"

"I didn't insult you at all, did I?" John Andrew said, the corners of his mouth twitching. "But let that pass. Run along, like a good chap; Miss Ames and I have an important engagement."

This time Chester's face became crimson; the waxen points of his mustache bristled. "Keep off the Consolidated lot in the future, will you?" he said thinly. "If you don't——"

"Please, sir," said John Andrew, "don't chastise me too severely."

"This approaches the idiotic," Chester broke the silence with. "I don't know who you are, sir, except that apparently you know Miss Ames. But I'll tell you this, if it will help you any: Consolidated publicity department is going to begin a campaign indicating that I—their unmarried star—have at last found the girl of my dreams——"

"So you're the fellow who writes the titles on the screen," said Kellogg. "I've often wanted to meet you, Lady Godey."

Before Chester could retort, Anne said unsteadily, "That isn't going to be done, is it, Mr. Chester?"

"A million people will want to see my sweetheart," the actor answered, smiling at Anne; "you'll be made, no matter what happens."

"You go through with that plan, and I can tell you what'll happen," John Andrew remarked.

"And may I ask . . . what?"

"You'll get a good swift punch on the nose . . . the nose which now looks so lovely in profile. And a fourteen-second count won't help you, either." It had been an exciting, hopeful, distressing day for Kellogg; up and down he had gone; his temper did not snap, but the strings holding it frayed. "Let me read just one line of such rubbish, Apollo, and I'll take two apart to see what, if anything, makes you tick. Come along, Anne."

Anne offered her only excuse: "I told you I had a previous engagement, Mr. Chester," she half pleaded. "I'm really horribly sorry,——"

"Look out, Anne," said John Andrew, "in a minute he's going to stick his tongue out at you, and then I'll be forced to tell his mother on him . . ."

Having said both too little (for his taste) and too much (for Anne's good) Kellogg now raised his hat with exaggerated courtesy, and marched the girl down the street. When they neared the Mercury, Bill Carey stepped away from the fence.

"You didn't hit him, did you?" he asked.

"No," said John Andrew. "But it isn't too late."

"Too bad you had to draw him for your first picture," the character told Anne. "Most of us—good looking or otherwise—are just the same as every one else; he is the exception, and he doesn't prove anything. He's a mosquito; he may do the rest of us good—tryin' not to be like him. Hope you stuck a few pins in his vanity, Kellogg; that's where he's vulnerable."

"I'd rather hit him," said John Andrew.

"Bad as that, was it?"

"Didn't like my meeting Miss Ames."

GASOLINE ALLEY—A LOT OF FLIES IN THE OINTMENT

WALT, I'M SENDING THIS SUIT OVER TO BE CLEANED AND PRESSED AND I WANT YOU TO CHANGE AS SOON AS IT COMES BACK.
IT'S TIME FOR YOU TO GET A HAIRCUT AGAIN AND I'M GOING TO GET YOU SOME NEW TIES. REALLY YOU DON'T LOOK AS IF YOU BELONGED TO A FAMILY THAT COL. CODA BEQUEATHED HIS MILLIONS TO.
CODA WILL NEVER KNOW THE DIFFERENCE.
AND YOU SHOULD GET YOUR SHOES SHINED OFTENER AND YOU NEED A NEW HAT.
I NEVER REALIZED HOW MANY DRAWBACKS THERE WERE TO BEING A MILLIONAIRE. I DON'T BELIEVE THEY HAVE ANY FUN AT ALL.

Good Morning!

Vina Delmar, that remarkable young writer discovered by Liberty Magazine, tells an engrossing story in "Dance Hall" which appeared in that publication. RKO has made that story into a fascinating picture.

Miss Delmar, a daughter of the masses, writes only of things and people she knows about. The public dance hall and the way it is managed, the girls and men who frequent it, are familiar to her, as you will realize when you view "Dance Hall," which is intensely atmospheric, acted with brilliance and sincerity and has been directed with simple honesty and a shrewd sense of values by Melville Brown.

The hero of the story is a youth who loves to dance and spends all his money buying "taxi" tickets. Nightly he frequents Papa Bremmer's establishment to trip the light fantastic with Gracie Nolan, a young hostess with whom he has fallen in love.

Gracie is a nice girl and thinks of him as a brother, but she is so sweet to the boy that Tommy is assured she regards him as he does her and persuades his little mother to go along with him one night and do a John Alden.

When his hopes are highest he learns of Gracie's true feeling toward himself and that she adores a dashing aviator, Ted Smith, whom she has met recently in the hall.

Pretty hard for a young lover to find himself jounced into the rôle of Family Friend, but Tommy is game. His sportsmanship is rewarded as you hope it will be.

Arthur Lake does some fine work as Tommy. He makes you think of Booth Tarkington's "Seventeen." Lovable. Puppydoggish. My one criticism is that he doesn't seem old enough to be an honest to goodness lover bent on marrying. He is far too boyish to be teamed with Olive Borden, who, even in a naïve blonde wig, gives the impression of being much his senior. Her acting passes muster, however.

Joseph Cawthorne is immense as Papa Bremmer. Ralph Emerson does well as the trifling aviator. Margaret Seddon is adorable as Tommy's stanch little mother. All supporting rôles are excellently handled.

I advise you to see "Dance Hall"—and both you and the children will love Rose's Midgets which are also on the State-Lake bill this week.

"HER HEROIC LOVER."

THE CAST.

Leonard St. Leo	Dave Hawley
Louie	William Fraser
Elaine Ellsworth	Barbara Bedford
George Ellsworth	Ted Snell
Sheriff Ellsworth	Hurh Metcalfe
Harrison Travers	Stuart Holmes

QUALITY: Fair.
ACTING: All right.
DIRECTION: Ditto.
PHOTOGRAPHY: Regulation.
SETS AND SCENERY: Satisfactory.
STORY: A railroad robbery occurs of which the son of a sticks sheriff is suspected. Bright young vibrator salesman who loves sheriff's daughter brings the real rogue to justice in alert and acrobatic fashion.
REMARKS: The picture moves with alacrity. Subtitles are trite on the whole and silly and coarse in places. Sanitation and discipline are as important in a burlesque house as in any other public place of amusement and spitting on the floor by their vendors should be discouraged by the management of this theater.

See you tomorrow.

Tax on Laughter May Cause Closing of Paris Theaters

BY JAY ALLEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Jan. 6.—At an emergency meeting of the Association of Directors of Paris Theaters, Music Halls and Circuses tonight it was voted to close those places after Feb. 1, if adjustment is not made of taxes on amusements.

Parliament voted to cut the taxes on unimproved property, but failed to make a 33 per cent reduction in the amusement tax. That cut, the theater men say, Henri Chero, minister of finance, solemnly had promised. That cut would have applied to the 7.2 per cent of the theaters' gross receipts. In addition, there is a municipal tax, and the theater owners also contribute to charity.

Another grievance is a sudden, unexplained increase in taxi fares, which are doubled after 11 o'clock compared with the day rates, and the theaters do not let out until midnight in Paris. The Parisian loves his taxis and will not pay more for theater tickets, the proprietors of the theaters say. So they are going to strike.

"We will close for one week, one month, or three months, or as long as necessary to arouse public indignation," so declared Max Maurey, president of the association and director of the ancient Theater des Varieties. He added: "The theater is one of the chief amusements in Paris. Deprive Parisians of their boulevard farces, and they will erect barricades in the street and storm the chamber of deputies. Stop the leg shows and foreigners will not be so keen in coming to Paris to see the Louvre. Berlin will become the pleasure capital of Europe if we do not step lively."

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send your name and address with your question to "Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Ernest B. Lown, 73 Cherry street, Waltham, Mass., was awarded $5.

The Question.

Has prohibition resulted in any personal benefit to you?

The Answers.

Mrs. Vella Beard, Kalamazoo, Mich., dormitory director—I never drank, my husband never drank, and none of my relatives ever drank, as far as I know, so it means nothing to me. I believe in prohibition in the fullest sense of the word. We do not want liquor again to come into the homes; it is a home breaker.

Dr. David Swartz, 1824 West North avenue, chiropractor—I am not a drinking man. Prohibition has not affected me one way or the other, except that what affects society at large affects its members. Liquor, when used as an intoxicating beverage, is harmful to the user and therefore to society.

Miss Erin F. Gallery, 4630 North Paulina street, public school teacher—That's one of my pet subjects. No, it has not. I am sorry to have to say it, but I feel that prohibition, in its present legal form, has made hypocrites of the American people. I feel it is in danger of ruining the country. Wet New Year's eve is an illustration.

L. T. Erskine, 4541 Sheridan road, real estate—It has not done me any good. If it had I probably should be having better liquor. The country is the same as in pre-prohibition days, only there is more poor liquor in it. It would be better if the country were wet so we could have less but better liquor.

Mrs. John Kard, 813 Cornelia avenue, housewife—Neither benefit nor harm. I don't like to drink because of its effects next morning. But if any man wants to drink that's his business. I do not approve of women drinking. But at a New Year's party or some special occasion most people drink.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 6.—Acting on instructions of the Manitoba government, C. M. McCann, civil service commissioner, has issued an order that no married women, whose husbands are wage earners, will be employed by the government. Copies of the order have been sent to the various government departments at the legislative building. It will be the basis of the future policy of the government with respect to its civil service.

Only in exceptional circumstances, such as where it is found that a married woman who is seeking a position in the government service is responsible for the support of her dependents, will an exception be made. There are at present 18 married women holding civil service positions, but they will possibly not be ejected, as investigation has not yet been made into their individual cases. Those on whom falls the responsibility of supporting their families will be retained, it was officially stated.

"There is no intention of creating any hardship on any one," Mr. McCann stated, but under this policy there will no longer be an opening for the criticism which is so often leveled concerning employment of married women who do not need to work."

Short services were held yesterday for the laying of the corner stone of the Elizabeth Cudahy Memorial library at Loyola university. The $300,000 building was the gift of Edward A. Cudahy as a memorial to his wife, who is still living. It is located on the north edge of the campus at the lake front. It is the sixth of a group of buildings which comprise the lake shore's campus of the university.

THEATER

MR. LEIBER, performing as Gloster in "King Richard III," runs true to Mr. Leiber in other rôles in that there is no mistaking what he is about. He is as forthright as the locomotive of the Twentieth Century on a clear stretch of track in either direction. When he makes his first entrance in the version of the tragedy he uses, he is barely within sight ere he breaks into the soliloquy starting, "Now is the Winter of our discontent"; and his manner as he goes through with it is not at all that of a man musing and meditating, and is the manner of a man who has prepared what he desires to tell to an audience. However, I doubt that many actors of Gloster have taken their time with this famous speech: it comes a bit early in the proceedings, even when they start with the final scenes of "King Henry VI," as does the version used by Mr. Leiber. Also, I doubt that many actors of the rôle have been at pains to make clear that there is king in Richard—that he is, after all, a Plantagenet, and not an upstart pretender to England's throne. Shakspere, even though he was something of a political pamphleteer when he wrote the play, doesn't conceal that Richard is of the very stuff of English kings. . . .

The scene wherein Richard woos and wins the Lady Anne is, perhaps, that wherein Mr. Leiber is most successful—or was last night, when he was acting to the largest audience I have yet encountered at one of his performances in the Civic. I didn't care for Miss Vera Allen in the scene: Shakspere's point is that the Lady Anne is worth the winning; and I don't think she made that clear. But, then, fair allowance must be made for the schedule: each revival is prepared within a week while the players are giving eight performances, so that there isn't much time for nuances and finesse.

"Potter's Field" is the cheer-up title of a new piece by Paul Green, whose "The Field-God" is indicated in succession to "Tour du Monde" in the Goodman. . . . The Theater Guild has a piece of his, "The House of Connolly," in its things to be put on; but this has, I believe, been deferred until next season.

"Many Waters," wherein Ernest Truex was acting, has at length been shut down in New York, after a valiant effort to make the public like it.

Some of the producers continue to believe that a box-office line may be compelled by titles; and two new ones are "The Oldest Profession" and "Her Delicate Condition."

Miss Blossom Seeley, who has for a long time held her place in the two-a-day, is to be in next week's bill in the Palace.

Women Experts Here for Lectures on New Mexico

The romantic history, and some that isn't, of New Mexico will become better known through the activity of four young women who arrived on the Santa Fé Chief yesterday for lectures here. They are Amelia McPie, a graduate of the University of Illinois; Claire Bursum, graduate of the University of New Mexico and daughter of former United States Senator Bursum; May Tucker, former student at Northwestern university; Winifred Shuler, one of New Mexico's experts on state history. Their lecture trip is sponsored by officials of the Carnegie institute, the Santa Fé School of American Research, the Historical Society of New Mexico, Phillips Andover academy, and the Museum of American Indians, New York City.

Federal Employe Pension Bill Again Passes Senate

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—(AP)—The Dale bill, liberalizing the civil service retirement act, was passed today by the senate and sent to the house. It would allow retirement of government employés with annuities up to $1,600 after thirty years of service at the age of 63. Passed once before by congress, it was given a pocket veto by President Coolidge.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Paintings, one of them by Sir Peter Lely, valued at $70,000, and other art objects were damaged today by fire in the apartment of Ernest T. Weir, president of the Weirton Steel company. Fire was confined to one room.

Men's Sporting Garb to Rival Pansies' Hues

Street Wear to Feature Athletic Shoulders.

Orders of the day, and every day this season, were issued yesterday from masculine style headquarters at the Palmer house. There the International Association of Clothing Designers has convened for a four day session. The trend of the clothing times was described by George E. Sarak, president of the Chicago club and a member of the style committee.

Inside—in office, house, or club—the well dressed man will remain soberly enough garbed. But on the links and in other outdoor activities he will rival Joseph's coat of many colors. The shades approved by the style committee include cobalt, ochre, burnt umbre, magenta, vermilion, forest green, and lemon yellow.

Galluses, so beloved of Clarence S. Darrow and other prominent citizens, have been taken back into the costume, Mr. Serak revealed. They will be almost generally worn this spring, together with spats and black shoes. Coats will be tighter, shoulders wider. Trousers have returned shrinkingly to the conservative, dispensing with plaits. For formal wear the full dress suit will continue to displace the dinner jacket.

During the summer white flannels will return to popularity to dominate the smart club ballrooms, but they will be white flannels with a narrow white satin stripe. With them jackets of gray, black, or blue, of flannel, cheviot, or camel's hair will be worn.

Christmas Vacation Ends as 500,000 Re-enter Schools

Nearly 500,000 pupils and 13,000 teachers returned to school yesterday after two weeks' Christmas vacation.

The new elementary schools on the northwest side, with a seating capacity of more than 1,400, were opened. The children had been housed in portable classrooms. Those new schools are the Schubert and Burbank.

At 12301 South State street the Gompers school opened as a new unit after having operated as a branch. It has additional seating capacity and a principal of its own.

Thornton Wilder to Teach at University of Chicago

Thornton Wilder, author of the Pulitzer prize novel, "The Bridge of San Luis Rey," has been appointed to a lectureship at the University of Chicago and will teach a course in contemporary literature and one in composition. He was appointed at the request of President Robert Maynard Hutchins, a friend of Mr. Wilder at Yale.

SOUND PORTRAITS OF OPERA SINGERS' NOTES DISPLAYED ON SCREEN

While several artists of the Chicago Civic opera sang yesterday in the orchestra rehearsal room of the opera house a small audience watched a dark screen on which the voices appeared as a bewitched thread of light. Each singer, too, saw the portraits of his notes. The shape of the light pattern measured the quality of sound. No two voices produced the same pattern.

The demonstration was made with an electrical device developed by Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company. The demonstration was given by William Braid White, director of acoustic research for the American Steel and Wire company.

The quality of a great artist's voice can be caught through sound waves at a microphone and photographed for the use of students and teachers, Mr. White pointed out.

Those of the opera company who gave tests were Vanni-Marcoux, Eva Turner, Chaso Baromeo, and Eugenio Sandrini.

Plan Catholic Labor Unions in Canada to Combat Socialism

OTTAWA, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Formation of Catholic labor syndicates and a diocesan union of farmers are recommended by Archbishop J. B. Forbes of Ottawa in a pastoral letter.

The alarming progress of socialistic doctrines and uneasiness in agricultural communities are reasons advanced by the archbishop for the necessity of such steps. The Rev. Rodrigue Claude, pastor of St. Bonaventure parish, has been appointed chaplain of the movement and director of social works in the diocese.

The letter notes that Catholic syndicates are to be organized throughout Quebec and in Hawkesbury and Rockland, Ont. It says that it is its wish to recognize the merits of labor organizations other than the Catholic syndicates.

Society Attends Borden-Pirie Marriage Rites

BY THALIA ——.

The marriage of Miss Betty Borden and Robert S. Pirie yesterday afternoon at the Fourth Presbyterian church was a lovely spectacle.

The chancel of the church was faced with a high screen of verdant huckleberry vines, against which two great wreaths of white calla lilies stood in delicate relief. Tall white tapers in high stands flickered over the lovely setting as the bride and her attendants, all in white, traversed the smilax garlanded aisle through the crowded church.

The former Miss Borden, who was escorted to the altar by her father, John Borden, wore a voluminously trained gown of gleaming ivory satin and rosepoint lace, a bridal cap of the lace with a tulle veil, and carried an elongated spray of lilies of the valley. The lace panel and sleeves of her dress had been part of the wedding dresses worn by three previous brides of the family: her sister, Mrs. Adlai E. Stevenson; her mother, Mrs. Waller Borden, and by her grandmother, the late Mrs. James Breckinridge Waller.

Mrs. Stevenson, as matron of honor, wore silver lamé and silver tulle, with a small hat of the same, and carried a sheaf of gold colored calla lilies. The bridesmaids, Miss Bertha Palmer, Miss Jean Purcell, Miss Eleanor McCormick, Miss Laura Sprague, Miss Dorothy Ranney, Miss Barbara King, Mrs. Lloyd A. Laflin, and Miss Betty Smith of New York City, wore enticing frocks of white chiffon and tulle, becoming small hats of the tulle with a band and back bow of white crêpe, and carried long stalks of calla lilies tied with silver bows.

The bride's mother was in beige chiffon, a dark brown soleil hat, with a sable wrap and matching muff. The groom's mother, Mrs. John T. Pirie, wore a black broadcloth suit and felt hat, both trimmed in galyak, and his sister, Mrs. Pickett Withers, was in dark brown.

Among the other guests at the church were the Potter Palmers, accompanied by their daughter, Pauline; Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick, the Chauncey McCormicks, Mrs. Charles Deering, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Blair, Mrs. Richard T. Crane Jr., her daughter, Miss Florence Crane; Mrs. J. M. Patterson, the Charles Garfield Kings, Mr. and Mrs. E. Harris Brewer, the George Ranneys, Mrs. John Borden, Mrs. George F. McLaughlin, Mrs. William Mitchell Blair, and the A. A. Sprogues.

A small reception at Mrs. Waller Borden's residence followed the larger gathering at the church. Mr. and Mrs. Pirie are planning to reside in Lake Forest when they return from their wedding trip.

Mr. and Mrs. John Herriman of Moyocco, Ind., announce the marriage of their daughter, Elsie, to John Young Fairbank, son of Mrs. Dexter Fairbank of 3020 Pine Grove avenue. The wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Herriman on last Saturday, and was attended by members of both families. Mr. and Mrs. Fairbank left immediately for Florida, where they are to reside.

The movement to stimulate interest in the American Indians being promoted by a group of society folk seems to be gaining considerable headway. The sixth of a series of 10 Indian programs is to take place tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Petit Gourmet. Mrs. Harold Ickes is to speak on "The Navajo Indians," and Miss Florence D. Bartlett's collection of Indian costumes is to be on display. Mrs. James M. Hopkins and Mrs. Thomas Wood Stevens are to pour at the tea following the program. Babe Begay will sing, attired in Navajo costume.

Another "cause" now popular is that of the Frontier Nursing Service, Inc., whose purpose is to provide visiting nurse service to the remote portions of the country. The Chicago committee is headed by Mrs. Frederic W. Upham. Mrs. Mary Breckinridge, one of the chief protagonists of the work, is to speak at a meeting on Friday evening at Mrs. Waller Borden's residence at 1020 Lake Shore drive, and again next Monday afternoon before a gathering at Mrs. David Gange's in Lake Forest.

Members of the committee who will give dinners before the meeting on Friday evening include Mrs. Borden, who is to entertain for Mrs. Breckinridge, Mrs. William V. Kelley, Mrs. Augustus K. Maxwell, Mrs. William Allen Pusey, and Mrs. Frederick H. Rawson. Robert Maynard Hutchins is to introduce the speaker on Friday evening.

Mrs. Richard T. Crane Jr. gave a luncheon yesterday for Mrs. Clark Revell Woodward, Mrs. Cornelius Crane's mother, at the Crane residence at 1136 Lake Shore drive. Mrs. Woodward is leaving shortly for Panama after a holiday visit here. She has been much entertained during her stay.

Miss H. Strawn will give a luncheon today at the Palmer house for Nelson Johnson, newly appointed American minister to China. In the afternoon Mr. Johnson will be the guest of the American Friends of China at a tea at the Casino. The women who will pour at the latter include Mrs. Chauncey McCormick, Mrs. Max Epstein, Mrs. Richard T. Crane Jr., Mrs. John P. Kellogg, Mrs. J. M. Patterson, and Mrs. Gustavus F. Swift.

The Friends of Opera will have another of their musical teas this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Drake. Edith Mason, Maria Olszewska and Jose Mojica will sing, accompanied by William Tyroler.

Mrs. Edwin M. Hadley of 4750 Woodlawn avenue is giving a large luncheon at the Blackstone today for her daughter-in-law, Mrs. James M. Hadley [Dorothy Van Steenderen].

Mrs. John Alden Spoor is to give a luncheon at the Fortnightly tomorrow for Mrs. Eugene Van Rensselaer Thayer. Mr. and Mrs. Thayer have but recently come from the east to live in Chicago and are now residing at 1540 Lake Shore drive.

Dr. and Mrs. Edmund Andrews and their son, Wyllys, of 561 Surf street have just returned from 7 months in Europe. Mrs. Andrews leaves today for the east to enter Wyllys at the Lawrenceville school.

Having canceled their passage for Europe at the last minute, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Metz of Lenox, Mass., have decided to come instead for a stay in Chicago. They are to arrive on Jan. 12 and will be at the Belden-Stratford hotel for about 2 months. Usually the former Bessie Ross returns to her native city for the beginning of the opera instead of its close.

AVOID UGLY PIMPLES

Does a pimply face embarrass you? Get a package of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights, if you are like thousands of others.

Help cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound; known by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaint and Olive Tablets are the immediately effective result. Take nightly for a week. See how much better you look and look. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Art Is Timeless, Japanese View, His Prints Prove Thesis

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

In the Hutchinson wing of the Art institute there has just been opened a gallery holding prints by the Japanese, Katsuchika Hokusai, who lived from 1760 to 1849. These dates are interesting for one's usual reaction to a mention of Japanese prints is that the exhibit is probably the work of a man dead these several hundred years. Hokusai is almost a contemporary.

The prints are of all time. Today and yesterday are as one in the eyes of the Japanese or Chinese artist. Flowers, landscapes and persons fill their canvases. Beauty, which is eternal, colors them. A childlike delight in blossoms and tree toads and butterflies, in high mountains and falling rivers, in snow and in sunshine, in the adventures of travelers scents each conception.

In the Hokusai prints there is infinite charm and great variety. There is luscious warm color and beautiful composition. There, is humor, there is a human quality of naturalness and there is an exquisite use of veracity. "Poppies in the Wind" has lovely shades of orange; "Morning Glories and Tree Toad" is a delicate blending of purples and green; "Peonies and Butterfly" is another lovely color combination and the "Lilies" are stunning.

The "Pine Tree, Wistaria and Azaleas" is one of the most delightful prints in the room. "Winter Landscape" is full of the stir of men and horses on a glittering background. "The Poet Halting His Horse in a Snow Storm" is as fascinating as its title. "Travelers Near Enoshima Met by Three Beggar Boys," "Moonlight at Senki," "The Chinese Poet Listening to the Directions of an Angling Sage," "The Returning Herd Boy in Iris Time," these are but a few of the captivating titles and pictures which make this exhibit one of the most pleasurable in which to pass a little time.

Exhibition at Evanston.

The annual exhibition of photographs and architects' plans of the most attractive building erected in Evanston in the last year was opened yesterday at the Evanston public library by the Evanston art commission and the art center. Visitors to the exhibit will select by popular vote the finest building in each of five classes—commercial, apartments, private homes, public buildings, and reconstructed buildings. Sculpture by Stephan Beames will be a feature of the exhibit.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Sour Cream Batters.

Talking about building up a batter repertory, we should certainly mention the sour cream batters as being more widely serviceable than the dumpling batter made of milk, flour, salt, and baking powder. An amateur with a good sour cream batter repertory can make pancakes, waffles, puddings, cake, something that will substitute well for a pie crust, and have a set of sure fire recipes which she can count on both for the every day pleasant gratifications and also fall back surely on when there is an emergency.

One of the chief reasons for recommending these batters is that the beginning cook so often finds it difficult to manipulate successfully the shortening and flour for biscuits and pie crusts. Sour cream is a valuable shortening.

Once upon a time I labeled the following a "jubilant batter," because I know of no one simple mixture properly beaten quite equal to it: Mix together one cup of flour, one-half teaspoon soda, two tablespoons sugar, and one-fourth teaspoon salt, then sift them. Beat up one egg and then beat with it one cup sour cream. Combine the two mixtures and you are ready to cook plain pancakes or lovely pancakes with fruit filling. You can also bake this batter in the shape of small tea muffins, or it will make a fine apple pudding either of the bird's nest or the pan dowdy type.

In some cases omit the sugar. One such case is when we choose to use dates with it for muffins or a little pudding. This sour cream batter with dates makes quite a delicious combination.

To emphasize the fact that sour cream is an excellent shortening we may compare it with butter used in the same combinations, or especially in cakes. Until the beginning cook gets the hang of it she does not realize that butter must be worked up to a sort of batter consistency—or lightened—as a first process in cake making. The old recipes always said cream the butter and sugar together, but what is meant is to cream the butter and then dissolve the sugar in it. In using sour cream for a cake we dissolve the sugar in it.

Tight Hats, When Worn All Day Are Bad for the Hair

Yesterday we talked about the possible defeat of the long haired vogue through the inadequate chic of millinery to cover the long locks.

Few women who have worn head fitting hats with brims little more than that, if any more, can face a large hat in the mirror with joy. You see, the whole reducing urge is behind these small hats and, if anything, is to spell the doom of the large ones, it will be it.

A woman feels neater, trimmer in a close fitting little hat. And there's no question but the silhouette is more proportionately perfect if the head is not flaunting a wide brim.

But this brings us to another thing about hats that has more to do with our business than the fashion turns. An acquaintance reported that not in months has she taken her hat off in the course of the day. Once she is set and ready to start out to work in the morning, the hat is clamped down and there it stays until she returns from work. Because she dines out most of the time, it is a brief respite her hair gets, then, between the end of her working day and the time she sets out for dinner.

There are scores of women like her—women with jobs that call for frequent departures from desk and office. There is one who does not have to leave her desk at all, but she interviews people all day long and her hat wearing alibi is based on the claim that her hair is not always dressed for inspection, and so the cover-up hat.

The very fact that hats are small and more or less tight fitting in the headband makes them peculiarly disadvantageous for all time wear. Certainly, every woman start enough to wear a smart chapeau knows that hair needs airing.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

MRS. H. L.: IF PUS HAS formed in the sty, it should be opened by an incision parallel to the lid. Do not attempt to do it yourself. Have your physician do it. Sties often appear in succession when one's health is run down from general causes.

B. G.: Overeating of potatoes will cause digestive disturbances as the starch in potatoes is the hardest to digest of all starches. Limit yourself to having potatoes once a day, and then avoid other starches at that meal.

Society Attends the Opera

Several of the boxholders included among their guests fellow opera stars of Miss Garden, who was playing the title rôle of the evening. The Samuel Insulls had with them Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hackett, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Kipnis, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Kirk.

Guests of Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick, who was wearing rose and gold brocade and her famous necklace, were Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Crane Jr., Mrs. Charles Howells Woodward, James Keeley, and Edwin D. Krenn.

The Martin Ryersons had with them Mr. and Mrs. Howard Linn, Miss Florence Lowden, and Theodore Francis Green of Providence, R. I. Mrs. Ryerson was wearing flowered brocade, Mrs. Linn, metal cloth, and Miss Lowden, a frock of jade lace. Mrs. Henry Tuttle, Mrs. George Meeker, Mrs. Hermon Beardsley Butler, Mrs. Frederick T. West, and Mrs. C. K. Pomeroy composed a "dove" party in Mrs. Moses J. Wentworth's box.

With Mrs. John F. Jelke were Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Hotz, Miss Lucile Skidmore, James Skidmore, and John F. Jelke Jr. With the Frederick T. Haskells were Dr. and Mrs. Edgar Goodspeed, Dr. and Mrs. Paul Shorey, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence B. Robbins, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maynard Hutchins were with Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Try CASSEROLE of Mickelberry's SAUSAGE

2 cups cooked macaroni or spaghetti or noodles
¼ pound Mickelberry's Old Farm Sausage
2 tablespoons drippings
1½ cups white sauce

Arrange macaroni and sausage in alternate layers in a greased baking dish. Season each layer. Mix drippings with white sauce and pour over top. Sprinkle with buttered crumbs and arrange a layer of sausage over top. Bake until brown. Sprinkle with chopped parsley and serve immediately.

(Note: Sliced Potatoes may be used instead of Macaroni, alternate potatoes and Mickelberry's as suggested above.)

There are many ways of serving delicious Mickelberry's, but none are more appealing to the appetite than Casserole of Sausage. The flavor and goodness of Mickelberry's insures the success of this dish; that's why discriminating women always serve Mickelberry's Old Farm Sausage.

Mickelberry's is a real all-meat sausage. It contains only pure meat and carefully proportioned seasoning. No cereals or adulterants are used—they would ruin that distinctive Mickelberry flavor. Every pound of Mickelberry's Old Farm Sausage is uniform in rare flavor, pure, wholesome and tempting to the taste.

Two $100,000 Gifts Aid $3,000,000 Fund for Negro Hospital

The Provident hospital, for which a campaign to complete a $3,000,000 fund soon will be started, has been given gifts of $100,000 each from two wealthy Chicagoans, Dr. Frank Billings, general chairman, announced yesterday at a meeting in the Palmer house.

The two new gifts bring the fund to $1,950,000, practically two-thirds of that needed before a medical center for Negroes can be established by the hospital with the coöperation of the University of Chicago. One million was received from the general education board of the Rockefeller foundation; $500,000 from the Hubert estate which has just been divided by Alfred E. Smith, Calvin Coolidge and Julius Rosenwald, and $250,000 from the Rosenwald fund.

Among the 150 persons at the meeting, one of a series preliminary to the actual campaign, were thirty lawyers, headed by Judge Hugo M. Friend, and twenty steel men headed by George Scott, president of the American Steel foundries. Mrs. Andrew MacLeish is chairman of the women workers.

Among others were Jacob M. Loeb, who presided; Col. A. A. Sprague, chairman of the executive committee; Alexander L. Jackson, president of the hospital; Dr. Arnold H. Kegel, health commissioner, and Dr. Herman Bundesen.

Paris Favors Bigger and Better Tweeds

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS. — [Special.] — While Paris fashions are being constantly headlined as more and more feminine, tweeds, the most masculine of materials, are getting more and more chic and important. This goes to prove what the expert knows, that there are actually two Paris fashions —one for our leisure, which is feminine and mysterious and all that, and the other for the times when we work at work or at play. Tweeds belong to the second mode, of course.

Millions of yards of tweed, heavy, medium and light, are pouring into Paris to make spring fashions, and in the meantime it's a poor wardrobe that hasn't at least one tweed ensemble, suit or coat in it. Tweeds with great, big, virile patterns are going to be smart. Tweeds with little, discreet, mannish patterns are going to be just as stylish, and tweeds with no pattern at all are a riot.

Tweeds you can see right through as you do through a face veil are used for dresses, and tweeds that are blanket weight are for the top coat that shuts out the cold. Plain tweeds are considered sufficiently elegant for afternoon clothes, but when they are patterned they are restricted to more practical wear, with the single exception of black and white tweeds which are good for anywhere at all during the daytime.

Chanel, who is a genius with tweed, is making some of the smartest models in this material that come out of Paris. With her unfailing talent for making whatever she touches both dainty and distinguished, she lightens tweed dresses with vestees, collars, cuffs and bands of white, as in the sports frock shown in our sketch, which has a vestee and inner cuffs of white satin. The one piece frock may be buttoned up so that only the collar shows.

The tweed used for this frock is beige and brown, and the leather belt at the high waistline is brown leather. The tweed knickers worn under the skirt of this model show below. Observe the novel skating scarf of tweed with a tweed bag attached to it by a zipper fastening. It comes from Hermes. You may attach or detach it at will, and thus keep your hands free for more important matters, if necessary.

COLDS MAY DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

APRON ENSEMBLE.

Of course, you've heard about the new apron ensembles that match one's frocks in coloring? They are quite the thing now with the younger set, as well as for women who have a kitchenette to work in. The one shown matches perfectly in background the color of the silk crêpe worn with it. It is made of chintz in two shades of red. The sash and binding are of a plain red.

The pattern, No. 3225, comes in small, medium and large sizes. The medium size requires 3 yards of 35 inch material with ⅝ yard of 35 inch contrasting, 1¼ yards of lace edging and 2¾ yards of binding.

FARM AND GARDEN BY PAUL POTTER

Careful consideration should be given to the proper planting and care of shrubs and trees on both public and home grounds, says Prof. D. J. Bushey of the New York state college of agriculture. He points out that since nurseries do not ship poor planting stock, lack of care in planting is the cause of most failures in growth.

Prof. Bushey adds, as other causes of failure, a lack of pruning, of watering, and of mulching. When a plant is moved the broken roots should be trimmed neatly with a sharp knife or pruning shears. To equalize the loss of root system the tops of broad leaf, or deciduous plants, should be cut back also.

Before planting a shrub the hole into which it goes must be made large enough to allow a complete spreading of the roots. Good fertile soil, free from stones, sod, and large lumps, should be packed firmly around the roots and the subsoil left for the top.

A thorough soaking at the time the plant is set helps to settle the soil firmly around the roots. Finally, after correct planting and watering, a mulch of well rotted manure or any good fertilizing material should be spread over the bed to a depth of from two to three inches. This mulch prevents frost from injuring the plants in the winter and keeps the ground moist in the summer.

Planting seasons for hardy deciduous shrubs varies. Prof. Bushey recommends early fall planting, except for tender plants, which may be set in spring with a greater degree of safety. The principal after care of the hardy deciduous shrubs is pruning; different kinds need different treatments.

A book full of dictation, and she must go home; what can she tell her employer? One more girl who hasn't heard of Midol. In misery at least one day of every month, and a tiny tablet now banishes such pain in five to seven minutes! Not a narcotic, mind; nothing that has the slightest effect on the natural process. Midol acts directly on the organs themselves, and avoids the painful part—the part that is not natural or necessary. You may have tried other things for relief at such a time, but ask about Midol; purse-size metal case is fifty cents.*

*Midol's comfort is not confined to any certain days or age. It relieves at any time of life. Its ease is felt immediately in cases of nervous headache, backache, cramping, hot flashes and all febrile pain peculiar to women.

Very Young Children Make Hard Masters for Helpless Pets

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

I took my pen in hand to write, when I found the following in my mail. It is so perfectly put that I prefer it to any attempt of my own. So, for the puppy's sake first, and basically for your children's, read these comments by the well known amateur in the dog world, Robert S. Lemmon:

"It is a common occurrence, these days, and doubtless will continue to be so a hundred years hence, to hear parents remark: 'I want to get a dog for the baby—a young puppy, for Tommy to grow up with. That's so much better, you know, than getting a mature dog that might be rough with him.'

"Well, it all depends on what is meant by 'better.' If the word is construed as signifying more fun for Tommy, the theory may be true enough. But if it is intended to apply mutually to both parties to the prospective friendship, then it becomes something else again.

"If we face the facts impartially and with honesty, we have to admit that average children under 5 years of age, and a good many older ones, are unconsciously, albeit often without intention, rough in their treatment of a dog. I know no child is admittedly average to its parents, but then, facts of behavior are facts of behavior. Also, puppies' tails, legs and ears offer alluring handholds whose sensitiveness to pain is just as real as it is unappreciated by young minds.

"At the risk of being accused of prejudice, I should like to enter a plea against the practice of giving young puppies to children who are not qualified by age, temperament or training to give them a reasonable degree of physical consideration. It is sheer brutality to subject an immature, relatively helpless pup to the mauling which is frequently his lot at juvenile hands. In not a few cases actual permanent injury is the final outcome, and even without this the pleasure derived by the human youngster is paid for with a deal of canine suffering.

"It is somewhat different in the case of a grown dog, for such an animal is far better equipped than a puppy to escape when matters reach too painful a stage, or to endure when escape is impossible. As for a mature dog being unpleasantly rough himself, forget it! If you pick your breed and individual animal wisely there will be little danger of such a condition existing, for most dogs are instinctively fond of children unless bitter experience has taught them to be otherwise, and seem to realize that the smaller the child the greater the forbearance and gentleness that must be accorded to him or her.

"'But what about the child who is too young to realize the suffering he may bring upon his dog?' someone may ask. 'Would you deprive him of the pleasure which only a real, live plaything can give him?' Yes, absolutely, positively, and unequivocally yes! I do not believe in deliberately fostering a situation which, in the final analysis and shorn of all sentimentality, is cruel. A child who is too young, too unruly or too careless to give a dog a decently square deal ought not to have a dog. If this seems rather brutally frank—well, remember that we've discarded sentimentality for facts.

"It is far from my intention to challenge the genuine devotion which frequently develops between a dog and a child, or to assert that it is anything except one of the most worth while human experiences. Indeed, it it worth making considerable effort to bring about. The point to remember is that, like most real friendships, it must be founded on mutual liking and consideration."

The foregoing was written by Robert S. Lemmon and appeared in House and Garden for July, 1927.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Aunty Bee, The Tribune, Chicago.

My two nieces were discussing a coming dinner I was planning, when 5 year old Mary spoke up: "For goodness sake, Auntie—don't have apple sauce—it's my favorite hate."
D. K. E.

Last evening my sister asked me to go with her to help select a dress. Just as I said I would go, my small son, Billie, 2½ years old, looked up from his picture book and asked: "Gonna leave the kid home?" J. C. H.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The Tribune will pay $1 for every letter published on "The Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life." Address Embarrassing Moments, Chicago Tribune. Write on one side of the paper. No manuscripts returned.

A Powdery Sneeze.

Last year my brother and I decided to take a vacation together. We made up our minds on Friday and decided to leave early Sunday morning. Saturday night I packed everything including a box of powder for after shaving and put some powder into a handkerchief to use for Sunday.

I woke Sunday morning and barely had time to shave before going to church. On my way out I picked up the wrong handkerchief. Church was pretty crowded, so I had to sit toward the front.

When the priest started to give the sermon I had to sneeze. Naturally, I reached for my handkerchief. I sneezed into it and blew the powder all over the people around me. Was I embarrassed? No, not much! I had to get up and leave the church.

Why Not Greet 1930 with Entirely New 'n' Engaging Personality?

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Yesterday we were talking about the uneventfulness of human lives that make no effort to stir up interesting happenings, suggesting the beginning of another year as a good time for making ourselves over.

A number of girls can chalk 1929 off with a cross so far as romance, partying, or dated evenings were concerned. Or, maybe a blank would be more consistent. Anyway, this is good stock taking time, for another year is upon you and you don't want a cross, blank or zero amusement record chalked up against you at the end of 1930.

Why not begin by being thoroughly frank with yourself. Say, "Look here, old girl, there's something wrong somewhere, with you. You're not so bad looking—no worse than dozens, hundreds of other girls that are getting the breaks, so called. What's the matter with you, anyway? Why didn't you talk up to that Sloane chap that night? You acted like a perfect dummy. Why didn't you obey that impulse to tell the Bartlett boy that he WAS good looking in a regular he-man sort of way? The poor fellow was probably aching to hear something nice, even as I am, most of the time.

"And WHY didn't you spend that money you had laid out that day for a few dancing lessons? A girl isn't in it if she can't get around better than you do. The dress you bought with the money was no use, with no place to wear it. Etc., etc."

If things aren't going happily in a young girl's life, which, of course, means getting attention from the other sex, let her say to herself that something is wrong with her line, or her looks, or her manner. Maybe it isn't so. Anyway, a good personal going over won't hurt, so long as it is not over-indulged in.

Maybe it is just that her style is a bit outmoded. Perhaps the flapper style held over too long. It's modified considerably of late, you know. A little less frankness, less smoke, no flask concealing or anything like that, is writ into the modification. Maybe, again, she's just too prim, frighteningly right and proper. Maybe it is just that the small winning graces have not been given a proper place in the scheme of attracting.

College Club Benefit.

The Chicago College club announces a benefit bridge and luncheon party on Saturday, Jan. 18, at the Lake Shore Athletic club. Mrs. Herbert W. Sanborn and Mrs. Charles Yeomans are chairmen of the committee in charge of the arrangements. About 600 are expected to attend. A style show of southern clothes is to be staged during the luncheon.

Why liquid magnesia is best

Any doctor can tell you why Phillips Milk of Magnesia (a liquid) is the ideal anti-acid for sour stomach, gas or other gastric disorder. A liquid is kind to an upset stomach. Solids often irritate its over-sensitive condition.

Dry magnesia will not dissolve in water. When compressed into tablets or wafers, magnesia becomes still more insoluble, with danger of passing through the stomach and bowels as irritating grit.

Phillips Milk of Magnesia is a liquid—the only form in which true Milk of Magnesia can be made. It is immediately active. It has a strong affinity for acids; each molecule of liquid magnesia neutralizes a molecule of acid. And liquid magnesia does not accumulate in the bowels.

No harmful effects can follow its prolonged use. It is the safest and most dependable form of magnesia for infants and children. It is the appropriate laxative anti-acid for adding to milk mixtures intended for bottle fed babies.

The bland laxative action of Phillips Milk of Magnesia is due in large part to its liquid colloidal state, which causes softer evacuations than would otherwise occur.

WANTED—MALE HELP.
Salesmen, Solicitors, Etc.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Start 1930 right by associating yourself with a financially responsible house. The Wm. H. Britigan Realty association has an opening for two aggressive, middle age men who are looking for a big opportunity in 1930.

Our new special sales plan eliminates sales resistance almost entirely. If you are willing to do what others have done and are doing today I can assure you a financially successful year.

Experience is not necessary as we prefer to show you our way. Give me 10 minutes of your time and let me explain our new proposition.

Call between 9 a. m. and 8 p. m. See Mr. This, Room 870 First Natl. Bank Bldg., 38 South Dearborn-st.

ATTENTION, SALESMEN.

Young Ill. corp. can use several hard workers of aggressive type on road; U. S. and Can.; steady work; $100 per week and up. Suite 1400, 173 W. Madison-st.

AUTO SALESMEN.

This is probably the finest opportunity ever offered an automobile salesman in Chicago. The Studebaker company now has the most wonderful line of cars in its history. The popularity of the record breaking Studebaker President, Commander, and Dictator Eights has enabled us to do a very big business. With the introduction now of the Dynamic New Erskine Six, which sells for under $1,000, we have been receiving more people in our salesroom and arousing more interest than ever before. Because of this situation it is necessary for us to obtain a few more good men with good sales records at our South Shore and Lorain Square Branches. To capable men we will make a splendid proposition. Apply MR. BORGEN, 7350 S. Shore Drive, or MR. MACDONALD, 2659 Milwaukee-av.

AUTOMOBILE SALESMEN.

The increasing volume of our Fall business makes it necessary for us to hire two additional salesmen. This is a fine opportunity for a young man about 27 to 35 years of age to become firmly established in the automobile business. Previous experience in this line is not necessary, but you must have had some sales experience. Only a man with a clear past record will be considered. For particulars see Mr. Sheehan, DASHIELL MOTOR CO., 5454 W. Madison-st.

AUTO SALESMEN.

A manufacturer's outlet who is obtaining 40% of the price class selling its commodity is desirous of hiring salesmen with automobiles who are ambitious, honest and will follow directions; an interview will be granted by calling on Factory Representative personally MR. GOSS or MR. TRIPP at Room 534 Southmoor Hotel, 67th-st. and Stony Island-av., between 2 and 4, Tuesday and Wednesday.

AUTOMOBILE SALESMAN

to sell Chevrolets. Our contract has been increased and we will give you a good commission to 8 men who are willing to do what we tell them. We will give complete equipment and training plus the opportunity to greatly increase your earnings. Apply in person Tuesday or Wednesday from 10 to 3 P. M. at J. Copenhall, 7229 W. Grand-av.

AUTOMOBILE SALESMEN.

An opening is offered an experienced man to sell popular Hudson-Essex line. The man selected will be given a splendid proposition. The new models are on the floor. Come in and see them. Ask for Mr. Woodbury, Hudson & Essex of Ill., Parkway Branch, 3308 W. North-av.

AUTOMOBILE SALESMEN.

for 2 fast moving General Motor products. Auto show starts soon. Big opportunity if you qualify. HERALD MOTOR SALES, 2009 Irving Park-blvd.

AUTOMOBILE SALESMEN.

5 live wires at once. See
MR. DUKES, 7515 N. Clark-st.

BEST COUPON MEN.

Old timers are you figuring on making a change, if so see us, we want you. Hoffman Studios, 14 W. Washington-st.

BIG FUTURE
SPECIALTY SALESMEN.

We have an unusual opportunity for 3 successful specialty salesmen. If you are interested in making big money on a one call plan we can use you in our sales organization.

You must be keen and aggressive and be able to meet the heads of highly rated concerns on a footing of equality and close an exclusive agency contract on first call. We do not want order takers or "floaters," but real "he-men" who can prove their past record of accomplishment and who have earned a minimum of $10,000 per year and who desire a real opportunity to increase their earnings and are willing to pay the price for success.

The positions require constant travel and the ownership of a car is an asset in this work. We advance traveling expenses.

If you are between 30 and 50 years of age, can meet our requirements, can qualify for a surety bond, call in person for interview at 1112 Peoples Gas Bldg., 130 N. Michigan-av., between 9:30 a. m. and 1 p. m.

BOOK SALESMAN

Experience necessary. An exquisite new gift volume set for the whole family. Selling price and commission unprecedented in book history. No matter what your connection, you should know our proposition. For interview phone State 6255.

Build an Income
In the Biggest Business
Under the Sun

A national organization, 61 years old, will train you and assures you success if you are conscientious and willing to work. Our salesmen in Chicago have 10 years' average service or more to their credit. This employment represents a career comparable to the highest paid professions. [illegible] traveling.

We have a definite system of training and securing leads by mail. The market for our product can never be saturated. Income possibilities are unlimited and renewal commission interest enables our salesmen to build up a very substantial estate in future, nonforfeitable commissions.

We are looking for men between the ages of 25 and 40, who have the ambition to increase their capacity for big results. Experience is not necessary, but intelligence and the determination to succeed are essential in our business.

If you are interested in a lifetime career and one that is not attended with ups and downs, you should investigate this opportunity.
